The properties of the legal base of legal base is a total of general and naked rules governing the behavior of individuals in society and are associated with a pharylic public authority, where appropriate, on who contrary to its judgment. There is a legal basis with fundamental characteristics of its excellence from other rules: First: It is a general base. Second: It is social rules. Third: It is the control of individuals in the community. Fourth: It is binding rules. 1. General and unbelievers: legal rules as other bases are generally general and abandoned. In order for this rule, you should formulate and directed to people or facts in a general form of a sample or to his own, but if there is a certain person, a particular characteristics and condition of any person Pan and unavailable, they are not different to the legal base, but they are an integral: the transgression means that the legal or age of the legal basis has been made without consideration by this rule or a particular circumstances addressed by the judgment General, they are interested in applying legal rule. The legal basis must be a year on all persons, to ensure equal individuals before the law. The legal base is not a general abstract that should be applied to all people, they remain in the description even if they are addressed to a certain category of persons, such as traders, doctors, pharmacists or members of teaching bodies in universities, the rule is important We summarize the above, public status and abstraction at the legal basis are a technical status of the legal basis and at the same time the means to achieve philosophical principles such as the principle of rule of law and the principle of equality before the law. 2. The legal base is a social base: The existence of the legal base is not imagined as a society. This is a society that is a social reality related to the realities of society. He is related to the knowledge of sociology, psychology, policy and economics and science. Then, its bases aimed at organizing the behavior of community members, but legal rules alone are not eliminated by individuals' behavior within society, but participate in other social rules, as habits and courtesy, and religion rules. In any case, the rules of social law, from the point of view of Islamic Sharia, are concerned that they are interested in the world with virtual behavior without interfering with human beings and human intentions. The Islamic jurisprudence distinguishes what is true and religion is true. The judiciary is concerned with demonstrations and concrete evidence and does not interfere in the souls, disintegration, breasts and what involves. In this narrated about the Prophet (peace and blessings of Allaah be upon him) said that he said: "You're afraid to, and perhaps some of you in his argument from some, and who I spent him righteously, he has made a piece of fire. The religion is in mind and the soles. The man in this world may escape because he is the king of evidence and the apparent tools necessary for the judiciary, but he will not escape from knowing the secret and hidden. 3. It is governing the behavior of individuals in the community: The principle is that the school al-Qaeda does not only judge the apparent behavior. The law is there, and is necessary to organize what arises between these members and links. The Association or Relationship requires an external appearance of individuals' behavior, and this apparent behavior is the subject of legal base and its goal. The law is therefore not implemented in intentions and expeditations, and does not celebrate feelings as long as they have not been translated into behavior in the outside world. The law does not care about the hatred, but intervenes for the harmful behavior that takes an external appearance. For example, just thinking of a person making a crime and the design does not make this person under the law as long as this thinking did not appear abroad with material physical phenomenon. However, it may be carefully affected by the law, including the provisions of the Penal CodeThe properties of the legal base of legal base is a total of general and naked rules governing the behavior of individuals in society and are associated with a pharylic public authority, where appropriate, on who contrary to its judgment.
