Strategic Government Of The Spirit Of Sin

The wages of sin is death, and death itself to the spirit man is a process. Sin actually is a spirit, a spirit of diverse species, it's like a colony, it is the colony you subject yourself to, under such colony you'll be enslaved. As as you remain bound in the slavery of such civilization, your spirit man will be trapped in a perpetual state of death.

The spirit of sin in a man is what causes his fall, you must realize now that your very actions are being influenced by spirit entities, all they need is a little tweaking and you'll live as an expression of that spirit you gave authorization over your life. When men who are in sin are having a gathering, it's not merely coincidence, it is orchestrated. An unbeliever meeting with an unbeliever might look planned to them, but in reality, it's merely two different spirit of darkness coming together just to say hello, creating a bound to keep them bound deeper in sin.

Our life's give expression to spiritual entity. If you're filled with the holy spirit, you can see a man and by the help of the holy spirit discern a spirit keeping him bound to sin. I have met people whom I didn't even need to shake their hands, because even their presence exude the spirit of lust in them.

Sin is death, it is a death process, when you fall and continue wallowing in sin, what you don't know is; you've being sentenced to a death process, a state of decay. Unless you escape, entering into life, you'll continue to wither and when your withering is complete then, you'll be cut off from the earth realm and cast out into the fire. Sin is the only thing that restricts the presence of God in a man, the moment a man sins, he dies, God then, ceases to function in him, because He only functions where there is life.

If you're at a foundational level in Christ Jesus when you fell, you'll have to start your building process I'm Christ all over, the more we venture into sin, prolonging our death process, the lesser we become like God, all which God has built will be reduced to nothing, this is the decaying process of death, it crumbles God's project in a man's life.

The reason a man is still wallowing in sin is not because it is pleasurable, it is, because he's been driven by a spirit at work in him, commissioned an assignment to bring down God's building in his life or hindering God's foundation from being laid in his heart. Those who have fallen, your building didn't just collapse at once, it underwent a decay process.

For instance; if a constructed building is being abandoned at an early stage, it's building purpose will be delayed, but still, the construction can begin from where it stopped if the builder overcame the hurdle hindering the completion, but if the building is left untouched for long, in time, it'll begun to fail and eventually crumble. If the builder should come back to it, he'll need extra workings, or he'll have to bring it down and start all over again. So also, is the effect of sin in a man.

Any man who dwells in the realm of death will live a life of death, everything he does, his life, carries the stigma of death and so he crumbles at anything. However, the suffering birthed from sin is not just for the devil's pleasure, it is to keep a man in check, throwing him further away from God. The more a man sins, the more he's hindered form attaining salvation until the day he accepts Jesus by grace.

Sin acts as a rebellion force against God's government, and the only mechanism for the devil to function effectively in this warfare is to create an army of fallen men. God's original plan was to recreate Himself in man, in His likeness, to establish a government which shall reign over all He created , angels weren't created for that, but we are and so we are the perfect fit for God's kingdom. However, the devil knew this, and so he tried to thwart the plans of God by breaching the heart of man (God's tool for His kingdom establishment) with sin, the stigma of death.

God needs life harnessed by men from Him the source, to establish His government, as long as life no longer remains on earth, that is; in the hearts of men, God will have no medium to harness life for His kingdom. That was the original purpose of sin orchestrated by the devil, it's just a long term hatred against God and His kingdom, we were just caught up in it.

We were created in God's likeness to re-establish His kingdom, however, being born in a fallen state, God wants our hearts refined through the word by sacrifice, because sacrifice to obey is a more efficient way God uses to harness life of value through men and so, He allows the devil roam freely.

Knowing this, whenever you sin, think not only of yourself, but rather of God's Kingdom, the life of a sinner becomes an opposition, and so God calls the ungodly, " wicked men," it's only a wicked man that lives against God's Kingdom.

Man was created naturally in the likeness of God but, the moment he wore corrupted flesh to walk the earth realm to fulfil God's kingdom mandate, he soul was deformed and was fallen from the state of being in God's likeness. His heart corrupted by sin caused a mutation, making him no longer in the likeness of God, but rather only in God's image. This mutation caused man to bend easily to sin, because of the spirit of sin in him. Unless he accepts Jesus and attains salvation to be restored in the likeness of God, he'll continue in his fallen nature.

Before a man is driven by a spirit into sin, firstly; Man already is in a fallen state, and the hearts of men is designed by God to be porous to any spirit entity, be it of God or of darkness. Man's heart is a medium for spirits to find expression and every moment, our heart is being bombarded by communications from diverse spirit entities, but we have our own will of choice to let a spirit find expression.

However, once we choose to yield our hearts to the government of a spirit entity, we become like zombies, partially mind controlled, to live and function under the government of that spirit. What causes men to sin or live holy is not just because they have the conscience for it, every man is driven by a spirit entity they surrendered their hearts to. No man would say he wasn't aware of his sins committed, every man knew the spirit of sin whispering to his heart before he ventured into it because, no spirit can function in a man except man gives authorization to that spirit.

As mighty as God is, He won't force anything on you, rather, you must give Him an authorization. If the spirit of lust whispers to your heart, your willingness to yield and give authorization to that spirit of lust will place you under the government of the spirit of lust. Whereas man is not bound to one specific type of sin, he can be bound to many, but there is an Achilles heel, a head spirit of sin dominating his heart, keeping him so bound to captivity. All other sins, he can decide to stop on his own, but for his Achilles heel, his real weakness, he'll need the holy ghost birthed from the word.

When a man yields to a spirit of sin, he is driven by that spirit, his actions might look real to him, he thinks he's in control, but he is been driven, he is being manipulated, every of his steps are being altered by that spirit of sin and so, when he finds his heart lusting after a lady, if he lust after a certain kind of lady, he'll discover that whenever he goes out, that's the kind of lady he always sees to trigger the spirit of lust in him, this happens to him because, he's being manipulated into that which he likes, to feed that spirit of lust in him. So, If you find a lust partner who you claim to be your soul mate, but still nursing lust in your heart, know then, you're being manipulated to be bound deeper in sin.

As for the particular lady type he likes which passes his view whenever he goes out, still they too think they're just going on about their business, but what they don't realize is their movements are being orchestrated, altered and manipulated just to cause a man to venture deeper in sin and so, ladies should mind what they wear before they commit murder. They're merely puppets at the hands of the devil, the same way it is, if you're of God, you life will be orchestrated to bring light into a territory or other to light.

Unless you change this driver of sin or worldliness, you'll never be free. Whenever you're in sin, be aware and admit you're being manipulated and influenced by a spirit you gave authorization over your life.

The driver of your soul needs to be switched to the holy spirit and you can't have him, if you've not yet yield to the authority of the government in the name Jesus, subjecting you to live a life of the presence, dwelling in the word and in prayers to be filled with the holy spirit. These are the elements that births the holy spirit which causes us to be restored into the likeness of God. It is the strategy of the devil to hinder you from dethroning his government over your life.

In summary, the only way to overcome sin is through the word, faithfulness to obey and prayers. The reason you're still struggling is because your righteousness is not enough, your not trying enough.

For a child of God, to him the wages of sin is death, it is eternal condemnation to him, but as he begins to grow, as he begins to journey deeper in intimacy with God, being filled with the holy spirit, a new dimension of sin's consequences are being unveiled. Such a man who will find it difficult to driven into sin because of God's very nature dominating him will do everything to restore all that he had lost, he'll strive to align himself with the holy ghost so he can be guided and built to advance the kingdom of God which his life of sin had once declined.

Every man In sin is not just a sinner, no one can sin and go unpunished. Every sin a man had ever done is a decline in the advancement of God's kingdom. In order words; we who are now functionaries of God's kingdom were once enemies of God, because our failure to be under His government was a hindrance, an opposition to His will. It's more like espionage.

The consequences of sin for a kingdom man causes scars which needs to be healed through constantly filling of the water of life. That's why a man who is a functionary of God Kingdom dies to himself and dwells in the presence, he spends time in the word and in prayers to become the full manifest of God else, the evil which he was once bound to, if heavily bombarded by the energy emitted from carriers of that spirit of darkness in a territory, if he's not fully clothed, in time, his barrier will be breached and his heart invaded, corrupting or hindering his Intimacy with God. He might not fall, but his heart might be distorted. And so, we dwell in the presence, journeying deeper to become more like God, a being without corruption.

The more we're being filled with the life of God, the more He functions in and through us. All men are forgiven of sin when they accept Jesus as Lord, however, no sin goes unpunished. When a man becomes born again, he must face the consequences of his sins, he can't escape it, he must be punished. He's punished, but his punishment only finds expression in this earthly realm which is based on time, in order words; when he has done his time he'll be more refined and restored unto God. Whereas, it is not so for a man who is now filled in the holy ghost and elected a king functionary.

For a Kingdom man, the consequences of sin has effect on time, because time is what a kingdom functionary invest on to birth life as resources for God's kingdom establish, his years wasted In sin has become a waste of investment. Sin eats time, how much you live in death will count the time you've lust, but when you are restored to God to function in his kingdom, all will be restored, if you sacrifice for restoration, you must die to all pertaining to life and so God said;
Joel 2:25

" And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the canker-worm, and the caterpillar, and the palmer-worm, my great army which I sent among you."

Sin is a spirit that traps men in captivity of death, locking him out of life and time to invest in God's kingdom.

A man who has been filled and elected a kingdom functionary, has become an immortal walking the earth realm, all that he does, is not invested in the earth realm, rather they're all invested in eternity, he uses time as an investment. How much worth is his sacrifice to harness life through time will determine his placing in eternity, and here comes the consequences of his sin.

Once bound in captivity to sin, he has lost time, and since time is a factor to be invested on, to translate life unto eternity for God's kingdom where everything is placed and life paused, he needs to regain time. In eternity, all things are placed, there is no change in rankings, time is the only basis on which we can change and alter our placement and ranking in heaven. When all is said and done, how much we invest in time will determine or placing in God's kingdom building.

A man of the kingdom must have the will to lose his life to gain it, he must die to everything to gain life, all that is flesh. The things of the world to him are mere factors of conversation to birth life, Whatever he has, whatever he's achieved, his flesh, are sacrifice to be casted into the fire to harness a life of great worth for the kingdom. It is the worth and value of life he harnesses from God, God will then use to function in the earth realm and also determine the placement of such a man in eternity.

He who sacrifices much, much will be given. In the eyes of a Kingdom functionary, all things are merely objects of sacrifices, and not for pleasure, even his flesh. He lives a life of death, because he knows the will of the Father, even if he's not aware of the mystery, still the spirit of the Father resonates with his heart to enable him live as a sacrifice for the Kingdom.

He'll need to build Intimacy In God, for God to recover all the cankerworm has eaten, and he can only be truly fulfilled when all pertaining to his ordination is completed. Only by sacrife and intimacy, just as Jesus died to all that is flesh and at the end said it is finished when he finished his purpose on earth, so also, we must journey, to fully invest on what God has ordained us for. Every man is to be ordained for a purpose in the kingdom, everyman. The extent to which we walk in our ordination, will determine our placement in God's Kingdom.

This is our punishment for sin, an eternal punishment for those who didn't fulfill completely God's project in their life. We'll be rewarded on accordance to our sacrifice. if you sacrificed less and eventually didn't walk in completion of the terms of your ordination, you won't be fully rewarded I'm the kingdom of heaven.

Once fallen because of sin, this caused hindrances as we function in time. God begins to break and reconstruct. The more you birth the death through sin, the more it takes God time to break and reconstruct man, restoring man to His original position, what He wants him to be.

Every sin a man does is at hindrance, a building block of abnormally which needs to be broken, it makes a man weighty and out of shape. God needs time to chisel a man to become a perfect fit for His new Jerusalem. So the more you venture into sin, the more it takes God to chisel you into a fine vessel compactable to manifest His glory, you might end up a vessel of less value.

Whatever the devil did failed in the end, causing the fall of man, it failed, because God turned it against him. Sacrifice yield a life of fine value harnessed for God's kingdom, because out of the sacrifice to break out of sin, overcoming temptations and enduring trials, out of it comes the finest block chiseled to used for God's kingdom building. Now, I'm not saying you should venture deeper into sin, if you do you'll only hinder he manifestation of God in you.

The only way for us to become functionaries of greater value, we must remain in Him (Jesus,) we must detach from all and remain in Him. It is a life of death, a new kind of death, not from life, but to the world and flesh, to gain life. Except a man remains in the vine he cannot harness life for the kingdom. Jesus will ascend the highest of throne in God's kingdom and we the branches, attached to the vine, are the branches of His government, we must remain in Him to fulfil our duties as functionaries to the fullest for the advancement of His kingdom.

He is the vine, from which life is drawn, he is the source of our life, but He must depend on us to bear fruits for His kingdom. We are part of Him as a branch, but we cannot bear fruit unless we remain in Him and Him in us, it is a specie of vine that functions differently form the normal. We the branches must sacrifice to draw life from the vine, to bear good fruits for the feeding of the kingdom. We must remain in Him, a little detachment from Him to attend to the world, a little detachment from Him to attend to the flesh, is a decline in our ability to bear good fruits.

The branch that remains, that is; the one who dwells in the presence at all times, in the word, in prayers, sacrificing his time (life,) will bear much fruit than the others because, he remained at all time, he always dwelled in the presence. A little detachment, a moment we're disconnected form the presence of God, time had been wasted.

Time awaits no man, every time wasted not on God is a decline in the value of life you'll harness to bear much fruit. We need to listen to the holy ghost, because it's not only through the word and prayers you harness life, we harness life also, through sacrifices to yield and walk in alignment to the government of the holy ghost, failure to listen or comply will diminish our harvest? To the holy spirit obedience is sacrifice.

The holy spirit is the one who guides and assists us to remain in the vine and how to function to bear edible fruit for the kingdom. You must have grown to an extent of recognizing the holy spirit as a person closer than none other, before you can yield fully to his government, if you still call him an " it " or " one of those thing," " my mind said," then, your still far away from bearing good fruits..
John 15:9-10

" If you obey my command, you'll remain in my love."

We must remain in the love of Jesus in other to bear fruit. We've once served as functionaries of death against the kingdom of God, now that we've been restored, we must serve as functionaries for God's kingdom by remaining in His love through obedience, it is only through obedience (sacrifice) to His will we can remain in his love. His love for us is to restore us to the original position He made us for, our rightful ordination In His kingdom and our love for him is not just love, it is sacrifice.

Our love or obedience to Him is in a dimension of sacrifice. He who loves more, that is; he who sacrifices much for God, will be loved more, he who's loved more, that is; he who has an in-depth level of intimacy in God, much will be invested in him to bear much fruits.

As Kingdom functionaries, there is more to obedience than obeying the commandments or word of God, we must grow and dwell always in His presence to be able to discern and yield to whatever burden He lays in our heart to give attention, until we truly attend to His burden, until we're done carrying his burden then, we truly have obeyed. A Kingdom man must learn to yield fully to the commands of the holy ghost else, he won't go far, and his command is death. You must carry every burden he puts in your heart to the end to build and refine you into bearing much fruit, else you can't contain the glory of God.

Every burdens of the holy ghost are meant to deal with the flesh and whatever weightiness caused by the fallen man, to be able to host and maintains more of God's glory. God is about to dwell fully In us, and He can't do that if we aren't crushed, converted, refined and refurbished. All He has been doing from repentance till your current state is for Him to find a place in you, to manifest fully His glory, life and authority.

It is the fullness of God in us that enables us bear much fruit for God through life and authority.

It is how much we sacrifice for God to download His fullness in us His glory will be revealed and made manifest. We must die to ourselves and remain in the vine to be filled with the life of God, for without His power and authority birthed in us from His life, we'll bear little or no fruit.

We aren't called by our se, we were chosen by grace to partake as functionaries in God's Kingdom, repentance itself is a mystery let alone to God, as I once said, it's like a jar to be filled with water (the word), a jar can be filled to the brim, but man can decide to empty his jar totally, halfway or let it overflow. The one who let's his jar overflow is he who is called into repentance to strive, fight and attain salvation as a ticket. It is after salvation he is then ushered to become a functionary by the holy ghost. The holy spirit in us is like an ID. We should know one can be a citizen of heaven but not a functionary of God's Kingdom.

When a man has obeyed all obedience and has died fully enough to birth life and bear fruit through sacrifice. It is by grace a man is ordained to function fully in his ordination, still there are sacrifices made. How much we die to birth life will usher us into the grace to be sent forth to complete fully God's purpose in our lives, else we'll walk in it but not to complete. Only men who has died enough to harness life and are sent forth to complete God's project in their lives for His Kingdom can truly say; " it is finished."

When a man falls, he has lost power. However, every process of his salvation and every guide and chiseling by the holy spirit is designed to fan the restoration of the kingdom in him in power and authority. It is the power he's fanned, he operates in to gain authority in God's kingdom, because God's Kingdom cannot advance further without authority. Every children of God has power, but it turns out we have few men of high ranking status in the spirit realm, that's why the advance of darkness spreads so rapidly, because men failed to arise into men of high caliber for God's kingdom.

It's time we arise and restore the times eaten up by the spirit of sin, for the manifestation of God in our lives.
