It is with great joy that we welcome you to the inner threshold of the Ancient Egiptian Order school of life, (A.E.O). We are indeed pleased by your presence, for the fact that you are reading and/or hearing our materials shows that you have an urge from within to improve your present conditions and awareness in life. This is one's first step on the journey into self discovery as an Egiptian, and we may offer you assistance in the most personal quest having served our highest purpose. By sincerely embarking on this inner journey, you earn entry onto the mystical/esoteric path specifically designed for the chosen few. It is in the Ancient Egiptian Order that you learn to direct your life in every sense of the word, in order to graduate from this earth-school. How motivated you are by this want will determine your degree of success.

I would first like to clarify that the Ancient Egiptian Order is not an organization, a philosophy, a religion, a sect or denomination. It's an ancient order, it's not new. The entire humanity belongs to it in which the Neteru had designed all souls to develop and obtain the perfection which was divinely envisioned since the beginning of time. You (Humanity) have willfully come to this planet called "earth" in a quest for universal knowledge and wisdom. The world is the Neteru's training school, a gift of true life in which to graduate. The man that endures worldly temptation shall receive the order, which is promised to him. All humans are in a process of spiritual evolution, learning in this "earth school" through trial and error. We are on earth to experience the metamorphosis of the soul through the refining fire of life, a burning away of the dress of egoism/worldism to which we cling, as we move into the flame of conscious acceptance. This order is split in two categories. 1. The Exoteric school of life, and 2. The Esoteric school of life. We all belong to one of these 2 schools regardless of our religious background, culture, race, gender or social status in this world.

The Exoteric school of life is designed for the masses, who depend on institutions for their governance and to generally organize their being, in this school people learn obedience, law and discipline. We are to perform the various rituals, rites and creeds that our particular religion has assigned to us on belief or faith, mostly without seeking explanations for all of those things. This elementary stage of the Exoteric school of life which is designed for the masses, corresponds to religious fanaticism and the state of worldly materialism.

Anyone willfully belonging or learning how to conform to the mainstream society for their governance and focusing predominantly on outer aspects of life such as materialism, politics, military, institutionalized education, business corporations, social concerns, organized crime, gang banging, masonry, entertainment business, athletics, religious organizations and affiliations (churches, mosques, synagogues and other so-called houses of external prayer), belongs into the first school; the servants and slaves academies, Exoteric school of life.

Exoteric/religious people are bound by their religion's preconceived and set ideas. This is why religious people are very touchy, argumentative, defensive, and difficult to talk to. It is very difficult to sit down and speak to someone who is in a fundamentalist religion and have any space or open-minded conversation whatsoever. If you have any disagreements with their literal religious interpretations they are immediately ready to fight you on it, and be quick to judge you as being confused, blind, in error and wrong because it challenges what they have been taught to think. Exoteric students of life depend on their religion, they are formal because they are very attached to the outer form of their religion. They depend upon their forms to some extent for their liberation from a life of "chaos". Their vision of god is external, for they have little understanding of the inner self (indwelling divinity within). They are taught to believe that god is "literally up there in the sky", somewhere out in the heavens separated from themselves. So they are taught to pray outside of themselves to the unknown "mystery" God.

They think externally (Exotericaly), for they are not taught to "seek the God within." People who are members of the Exoteric earth school must be aware that Exotericism itself is not the path, but rather the preparatory stage or the gate of entry into the Esoteric school. One cannot obtain the truth in the orthodox religions of the world. The holding of a narrow, cold, dogmatic creed, in all its rigid, lifeless literalism, cramps the soul and dwarfs its spirituality, clogging its progress and stunting its growth. Once a soul has acquired the necessary will and discipline and has obtained a sufficient degree of spiritual maturity from their religion, they become ready for the Esoteric school of life. Once a soul has passed through the Exoteric (religious) stage, they feel a natural distaste for base and unclean intentions and the doors of the true path open up. On the other hand, those who have not completed this preliminary stage during their present life, are generally uninterested in Esoteric knowledge and development (meant for only the chosen select few) or simply are not evolved enough to understand it, still sleep walking amongst humanity in their long robot like nightmare.

The Esoteric school of life is specifically designed for the chosen few, for as the mystical path gets narrower and steeper, so do the numbers walking it diminish and the spiritual person (soul) begins to advance on the path towards perfection. At this level the spiritual voyager becomes aware of his or her soul. In addition to respecting the law of the Exoteric side of life and religion, other more subtle prescriptions allow the student to struggle against the self-created ego (mask) that society has placed on man like a mask that hide your face from reality, but it's still you, and at this time in one's life, one feels the sense of the potentiality within themselves (soul) and has to cast off the mask (imitation self) to find their true self (contrary to society/masses).

They learn to be aware of the ego, in order to dissolve it into truth (higher self). Esotericism in Exotericism is likened unto a circle's center. The radius proceeding from the circumference to the center represents the mystical or initiative path that leads from outward observance to inner convictions. For centuries human beings have confirmed themselves to limitations of form, the form (outer/external meaning) of things; they judge by outward appearances, the surface, and overlook the contents, the meaning behind the form. This is what has been done with the religious scriptures of the world which also have a form, a content and an inner meaning. The form, the description, the parables, and stories are for ordinary, average people (Exoteric students of life). The contents, the morality and symbolism, are for disciples who wish to live according to that morality, and the spiritual/mystical meaning is for the Esoteric students who know how to interpret it, not literally but symbolically, begins to see what the words represent. Don't take the holy books, Torah, Bible and Qur'an literally, for the letter kills (ignorance equals death). Thus, the religious significance can penetrate into your spirit and the symbolic forms can disappear. Esoteric students know that form (Exotericism) is necessary, but they do what most men are unable to do, they use their Esoteric knowledge to go behind the forms and decipher the inner multi-paradoxical meanings. At the conclusions of this stage, the material (carnal) world loses its attraction, so that the spiritual voyager now controls his or her worldly passions; there are no longer temptations that can bind him/her. Students of the Esoteric school of life acquire inner knowing and awareness of self, truly becoming aware of the creator they are, and their purpose/role on earth as Egiptians. Here, belief becomes certainty (knowing), and faith becomes facts.

The spiritual voyagers of this school reach a state where they begin to go on the threshold of "perfection". They die to their ego's (masks) and see themselves, realizing that they are the droplet rejoining the divine ocean of The All. At this level there is no longer any difference between religions because the apparent divergence that is noticeable in their former Exoteric forms, disappear at these higher levels of awareness. The Exoteric students of life only know the external aspects of religions, in which you find differences naturally because those religions were sent out at different influences of time, places, particular civilizations and different mentalities, according to the people's needs to be blinded and their capacities to understand, blocked by belief and faith. All religions have a tendency to emphasize the truths that may be particularly essential. As a certain medicine has the property to heal a certain deficiency only, so a particular religion is only partial and can never meet all the needs of the human soul. God is only for the good who believe as I believe only, and he alone knows what is best for a particular people and age or race. As the Jews, he chose them in their tongue in their part of the earth, so it was only for them. A southern path, a northern path, and a far eastern path, each of them claiming to be the only, original, and undefiled doctrine of the

Buddha, which would leave all of your responsibilities and go sit and chant. The same with other founders; on a man deserting his parents at age 13 and then ending up hung on a cross, killed, stopped fishermen from taking care of their family to follow him. What about their wives and kids left to suffer? That's the birth of Christianity. Stop all your work, leaving your jobs in Goshen, Egypt, make a reckless exodus to nowhere, that's Judaism. Desert your family and hometown from Makka to Madina, steal from caravans , kill people, then go home and kill more people, take their wives and that's the birth of Islam. Now look at them again. So the Christians and the Muslims are only fooling themselves. No traditional religion is the only truth or the only solution for this era and the future. Don't be fooled. We know how the Christian religion came into existence, and the Islamic and Judaism also, it was certainly not Jesus, Moses or Mohammed who made what is known as the religions called Christianity, Judaism and Islam, but some learned and very few men put their heads together and built them up into the religions seem now. There was nothing divine in the way in which they function either: Buddha retired from the world, sat down in meditation, and discovered a way out of earthly suffering and misery. That would drop all of your responsibilities, out of all of this illness, death, sin, and hunger around him, but he also left his family, wife and children, but did he tell what he did to get there, no. Even before he had died, his teachings had already begun to be twisted and distorted. He became great, a God. It was only after his disappearance that Buddhism as a full-fledged religion that reached its entirety, founded upon what the Buddha meaning "awaked one" was supposed to have said and the supposed significance of these reported sayings, that's religion's for you. But because the disciples and the disciples' disciples could not fully agree on what Buddha had said or what he meant by his utterances, there grew up a host of sects and sub-sects in the body of the parent religion. World religions is like the summit (highest point) of a pyramid; it is one and unique, truly standing above the rest. The Esoteric dimension involves the spiritual senses, so it is almost impossible to convey an overstanding of that reality to those who have not yet awakened their spiritual/mystical awareness. True Esoteric teachings are only accessible to those who have already fulfilled, and moved beyond the Exoteric school of life and put into practice one of the religions of the founding prophets: Judaism, Hinduism, Jainism, Sikhism, Buddhism, Taoism, Bahaism, Christianity, Zoroastrianism, Islam or Tribal religions. The Neteru (Deities) never allows anyone to leave one realm (school of thought) and enter a new one without growth. Choices allow you to evolve, you will choose to act according to your growth. If you cannot pass the Exoteric school, your progress will be stopped, for you will be found at your level. No man will be able to go further than the strength and vision that his own soul permits him to go. The A.E.O. As I had mentioned earlier is the Esoteric initiates who live according to the universal (spiritual) laws that are of sound right reasoning. We, members of the Ancient Egiptian Order, are spiritual beacons, a satellite in contact with the outside world awaiting like-minded evolved souls who have advanced beyond the first school and the same fate overtook the teachings of Jesus Christ. That too, came to be made in the same way, dividing itself into sects and organized religions. It is often said that if Jesus came back to earth, he would not be able to recognize what he taught, due to the forms that have been imposed on it by fallible men. The same if Buddha, Moses, and Muhammad were to come back and see what has been made of their teachings, they would immediately run back discouraged to heaven.

All religions each have the same story to tell. The occasion for its (religious) birth, is the coming of a great teacher of the world. He appears and reveals as an incarnation of divine truth. But men seize upon it, trade upon it, and make an almost political organization out of it. The religion is equipped by them with a governmental policy, and laws, with its creed and dogmas (rules, regulations, rites and ceremonies), all binding upon its adherence, all absolute and inviolable. Like the state, it too administers rewards to the loyal, and assigns punishments for those who revolt or go astray, for the heretic, and the renegades. The first principle article of these established credo, religion could not have existed. If you do not believe and proclaim that you alone possess the one or the highest truth, you will not be able to impress people and make them flock to you. This is natural to the religious mind, but it is just that, which makes religion stand in the way of spiritual life. Religion degenerates when taught by self righteous men, it is no good relying on a degree at a theological college; books alone cannot give the total truth. You must be a part of it. One may have studied religious scriptures, history, philosophy; one may be well versed in theology, dogmas, doctrines, and give wonderful sermons, and yet be a baby when it comes to a spiritual life. In order to transform people's lives one must first find one's own way.

The articles and dogmas of a religion are mind-made things designed for you to cling to and shut yourself up in a code of life made out for you. You do not and cannot know the truth of the spirit that lies beyond all codes and religious dogmas, wide, large and free. When you stop at a religious creed and tie yourself in it, taking if for the only revealed truth in the world, you stop the advancement and widening of our inner soul. Students of the Esoteric school of life leave the religious dogmas and orthodox interpretations, just like the clothing of a past season. They are not bound to any religion, they are universal, extracting knowledge and wisdom from all religions and philosophies without being influenced by literalism, religious dogmas, ceremonies and rehearsed rituals, as their followers today. Underneath the masks of god, there is only God. One must not confuse religious teachings with spiritual teachings, religious teachings belong to the past and halt progress. They have been unable to provide one with the nourishment needed for one's spiritual growth. Spiritual teachings are the teachings of the present, in-heralding the future.

They enlighten the consciousness and prepare it for future realization. Authentic spiritual (mystical) teachings are above religions (being universal) and strive for total truth. They teach us to enter into direct contact with the divine (pure untouchable consciousness). Here we do not have binding religions, we replace religion by the spiritual life, which is truer, deeper, and higher, at the same time, closer to the divine which is in everything, but we are not conscious of it. This is the universal progress that men must attain. Students of the Esoteric school of life study only one book: the book of life. Their meeting place is the temple of the divine spirit of truth, which pervades the whole of nature. For those who are chosen, the Esoteric brotherhood of truth says, this temple is easy to find, but for the eyes of the masses it remains able to receive them. The Exoteric dimension is essentially comprised of rituals, external forms of worship, superstition, fasting, social relations, holy days, idolatry, traditions, fanaticism and other Exoteric aspects. This is the stage whose fulfillment allows the real to advance spiritually to the Esoteric level/school. It forms the preparatory stage for our spiritual advancement towards perfection and it can be overstood, to some extent, by our ordinary physical/external senses and by the intellect/emotions. But the Esoteric dimension of (Exoteric school) on earth, and are awaiting further instructions/assistance into the next school level.

True members/students of the Ancient Egiptian Order are only puppets in the hands of the larger force, the all, participating in the center of transformation, setting spiritual examples and unity to the world: unity through uniformity is an absurdity. Unity must be realized through the union of many, the Esoteric brotherhood of truth. Each member is a part of the unity; each one is in indispensable to the whole. You have to pass the three schools. We suggest that the only way you will overcome Exoterism is that you master these three schools, by reading the degree of Christism, Muhammadism and Judaism.

Step 1: Read this paragraph after you finish the Messages from the masters "Esoteric or Exoteric" sacred document. For El Yazum (The Initiate). Take the paper clip enclosed in your package, and place it on the center of the four pages.

Step 2: Place your Pamphlet on an alter or dresser that is eye level to your eyes facing yours.

Step 3: Place a chair 3 feet away from the alter and take a seat.

Step 4: Take a glance from the right saying: "Amun-Ra" then, to your left saying : "Haru-Hotep". You say these Deities names 8 times, from right to left evenly, on the 9th time you say: "Om" holding it on a vibration tone.

Step 5: While breathing in and out 9 times. On the last count of 9 you say: "Om Kuluwm", while locking your eyes directly on the pair of eyes that are looking at you. You will feel the presence of someone watching you if you really concentrate.

Why Exoteric?
