Salvation Processing

The reason why many do fall is because they're not yet saved, when a man has attained salvation, it becomes hard or he can never again fall back to sin because, he has been totally subjected under the government of a spirit, the government of the Christ. Even if he does chooses to fall back into the arms of sin, or no matter how the evil one manipulates and orchestrate, the government of the holy spirit over such a man will restrict him, he becomes like a prisoner of the holy spirit, bound to do God's will.

Unless, he wills himself to struggle out of the government of the holy spirit, he'll then, be released into darkness. Such a man is a fool, the greatest of the greatest, he doesn't know how rare and valuable his purchase was until he has lost it all completely, never to come back. If a man was restored unto Jesus, his heart becomes empty and he is given the spirit of Christ. However, if he refuses to fill his heart by the spirit of Christ in him with the properties of God, then, the spirit of sin will come back with more reinforcement stronger than he is to get back their properties lying within. It is the properties of sin left in man's heart that draws the spirit of sin back in to dwell, he must sanctifies his heart and get rid of them.

That's why we don't joke with repentance, you don't rise and fall and say; " eh.. Jesus will forgive," you're not only joking with your salvation, you're joking with your eternal future with God.

Salvation lies at the end, it is given only to those who've endured the heat to stand unshaken in Jesus. Your foundation must be tried In the fire, if it is made of straw you'll be burnt to ashes but, If it is made of fine precious stones then, you'll stand the test of time, ready to be used, ready to be built into the kingdom of God. Those who were burnt to ashes, lacked the word because, the word is what enhance the quality and texture of our foundation, material. We are material to be used as part of God's kingdom building.

When one comes to repentance, God's seed is been sown in his heart as a deposit. This seed, God's word, gives him the holy spirit, the comforter, guide and teacher. For a born again;

-As a comforter; he encourages of where the Lord is taking us.

- As a teacher; He teaches us God's word in new dimensions based on our growth, it's like being in a school, you'll only be taught in accordance to how much you've grown. We should learn to listen to him because, not everything he says is written in the word. I've seen a few who've neglected the holy spirit because, they thought God is restricted only to the Bible, I mean, is God a programmed robot that he can't talk beyond what is His written word? Still, we should grow to be able to discern when He is whispering or speaking to our hearts.

- As a guide; He guides us in what to let go off, what to do to rapidly boost our relationship with God. He cares more about our relationship with God, that's why He's here.

The holy spirit in us also, is our recognition, our ID as God's children. However, if the seed falls to the ground and fails to germinate in our hearts, If it isn't nurtured, it'll wither and decay, bringing death. This is why many do rise and fall, because they fail to nurture God's seed sown in them to become deep rooted in their heart. One who spends time nurturing his seed will have God's word deep rooted making it hard for the evil one to uproot and in time it'll grow bearing fruits of the spirit, it is when he bears fruits he then, can be identified by spirit entities as a child of God. You can't discern some trees from afar unless you identify the edible and colorful fruit.

You must nurture God's seed through His word and safe guard it by prayers, God doesn't just plants it and then you'll go relax, no. It's more like the parable of the sower. Some did nurture their seed, they germinated but they withered and died at the rise of temptation, trial, persecution, the world, issues of life and the flesh because, they have no vision for the kingdom they couldn't see beyond the vistas of salvation, they only cared about themselves and not about their relationship with God. Their relationship with God was a selfish one, a relationship that demands only from God.

Repentance isn't necessarily your assurance for the kingdom of heaven, if you do, think again. A man can repent a thousand time but, salvation is once, only a fool would want to " deliberately " fall after being saved, even scripture recorded those who fell after salvation as anti Christ,

" they were once amongst us."

Salvation is achieved after a war well fought, it is not by grace. Salvation, you must fight to earn it, it's not given to the unfaithful and lazy, it is earned on a hard day's work. Those who refuse to grow and still rely only on grace might eventually not venture into the kingdom of heaven. Through repentance, the spirit of Christ is restored, but if the holy spirit dies (leaves), you'll not be fit to enter into heaven.

Salvation firstly, is a process to determine those who are qualified to rule and reign with God for eternity. It is given to man to will and if Lucifer fell, then, man also can ruin God's kingdom, now God wouldn't want that, and so He placed us here in the earth realm first, for a Kingdom mandate to be fulfilled and then to winnow those who aren't fit for His kingdom, those who'll eventually turn out like Lucifer.

So, If you eventually fall to sin, (which i pray your shouldn't) don't go blaming it on the devil, it's a revelation that you'd turn out just as the rebellious angels once did if you were originally placed in heaven. If man was created without a salvation process in place to try them after receiving Jesus, there would have been another war in heaven. Now don't say God is wicked because of your laziness, He is just. God didn't made robots, we must be tried for our hearts to be revealed and so, He sacrificed for us a God, His first son, Jesus, to restore us through salvation after we've passed the trial phase to reveal our heart.

In summary, man fell and God knew before time began that man would fall and so, Jesus was the lamb that was slain for the salvation of man even before the dawn of time, to restore the fallen man so he can be tried and after been tried and his heart revealed right, God will select few out of the saved and invest much in them for His kingdom establishment. Now don't say God is wicked, He's just, you're the one who's wicked for faltering because, everything has been given you.

Salvation is given only to those who have endured and carried their cross to the end. The reward for salvation is the out pouring of the holy spirit to those who have overcome sin, so that God can begin to walk with them. God does not work on faulty foundations. Salvation is that basis, upon which a man becomes subjected under the government of Jesus to become filled with the holy spirit so God can begin working with him. Therefore, salvation is not necessarily about being saved, it's a foundation for God's kingdom mandate to be fulfilled in a man.

Before God can begin working in a man, every thick cloud of darkness must be obliterated with light, and every cords of darkness broken. Salvation doesn't only delivers from sin and worldliness, but also from the curses of sin and all that has a man bound, be it ancestral, foundational or familiar spirits, whatever it may be. All these hinders God's move in a man's life and salvation processing is what erases them through prayers weighted with life (God's word.)

The fall of man added so many unnecessary death that hinders the move in God in man and for these to be broken off, every man must undergo the salvation processing, a deliverance process through the word (power of God) and in prayers.

Untill a man is delivered from sin, worldliness and cords of darkness that brings death, God can't work with him. So when you walk with Jesus in obedience, becoming more intimate with Him through His word and in prayers, when you see deliverance taking place, deliverance from sin and it's curses, bondages of darkness, spiritual death and so on, don't just rejoice you're being set free, know this then, that there's an activation of life in you and where there's life, death no longer dwells. It's natural, death and life can't coexist.

The absence of death, build the filling up of God's life in us without hindrances, naturally you'll have ravenous hunger for the word to harness more of God's life. God's life in us is everything, we can't do without it, the more it fills us, the more we become like Him in His very nature. If you pray all the time and lack the word (God's life) know you've been wasting too much effort, for it is God's life that erases darkness.

How much God's life dominates your heart will affect your every being, even your prayer life because, prayer is intimacy with God and it is also a transport system to carry God's life unto Him. How much life you've harnessed will determine how much God will be interested in what your heart is saying. He knows your heart already, you only need prayer to transport His life in you to break through the earth realm unto His throne. That's why a sinner can't be heard by God because, he communicates death. Now that you're saved, begin to fill your heart with life because, you just came out of death, you must be replenished with life else, you'll be like an experiment in the hands of the devil, not to sin but to frustration. You need more of God's life to walk with Him in faith and to overcome at all time.

The fullness of life birthed in us, the fullness of the holy spirit, is a credential for God's project to begin in our lives. Being filled of the holy spirit is like having a certificate which certificates our validity, our authenticity of a solid foundation in which God's kingdom will be rested.

Salvation processing also in terms of relationship, is a phase that builds a deep level of Intimacy with the Father. God loves His own but, we should be aware now, that God doesn't love all equally, He loves those more who loves Him more. To God, love transmitted by mortal men aren't in emotions rather, they're expressed as sacrifices. We must carry our cross daily, overcoming temptations, persecutions, trials to get to the end. Everyday in the life of a child of God, are days of death, death at the cross, the more you choose to die to become more intimate with God so that your life can express more of Him, and for Him to invest more in you, the bigger and heavier your cross.

If your life as a child of God counted thirty years in the realm of time, (earth realm) it means you carried diverse weightiness of cross numbering an estimate of ten thousand, nine hundred and fifty crosses. However, it's not the number of cross carried or length of life lived in time, it is the weightiness of the cross carried and life harnessed that'll determine our reward in heaven. So, therefore, one can live thirty years as a child of God but, another who lived just few months a child of God can be greater that he who lived thirty years.

God knows all things, He's omniscience, but the hearts of men is not fixed, God has to see. Those who overcome even under the weightiness of the cross truly loves much, God loves a man more who has sacrificed much for Him.

Salvation as a process of righteousness; righteousness is our effort and every man saved at the end will be judged, entrusted the kingdom and rewarded according to the righteousness of his heart. The reason why God walks with certain men is not merely by grace, it's because, during their salvation process they were more righteous than the few. They were more righteous to put much effort for the holy spirit to help them build Intimacy with God. You know, the holy spirit helps us in our righteousness and He also, helps us in our holiness. However, still, He needs our authorization to function in us, our effort applied to spend time in the presence will determine how much He'll be interested and work in us though God's word.

Your righteousness will trigger a new dimensions in God to open up to you when you're filled. In other words, salvation processing is not about being saved, it is a test run to reveal the hearts of men, in other for God to know those whom He'll invest his kingdom and for you to become aware of it. It's like a selection phase of men who'll be of high ranking value in God's kingdom

The man who has much value the devil will try to bid more for his soul, when a man of value is seen God also will bid more to secure his salvation.

Salvation processing to select men of high ranking value for the fulfillment of God's kingdom mandate is like this;

It's like a set of slaves, we really are slaves to spirit entities. You know, when slaves are to be purchased in times of old, they'll be brought out and stripped of their clothing to reveal those of high value, those who are well built, healthy, durable. They'll be auctioned to reveal those who have greater worth, their jaws will be checked, muscles, stature, every fiber of their being will be checked for defaults.

Now, a bidder wouldn't want to buy a commodity of poor quality else, his invest on him will be a waste. Out of the slaves brought out, those of greater worth will be purchased, out of the many, few will be purchased of greater value. There'll be an auction and the highest bidder will get the slave of great worth. So it is with our salvation processing.

In our salvation processing, we are like slaves ready to be purchased and invested God's kingdom. Now, how much we lived in righteousness will be revealed, how much righteousness we put in support by the holy spirit to become more intimate with God will be revealed and judged to determine our worth. God's looking for edible men, slaves who can carry the weight of His kingdom on their shoulders without being weary, and if your foundation on salvation, your righteousness is found shaky, you'll be rejected or be of low value. That's why we must dwell more in the presence, pressing onward and seeing beyond the vistas of salvation, we must see the kingdom of God and not just the king of heaven.

For instance, ten slaves were brought out, these tens slaves all underwent salvation processing, in other words; they're all saved, but only few will be chosen to become functionaries of God's kingdom. There'll be an auction, God and the devil will be the only bidders in this slave auction. When the slaves are being checked and the ones with high value are identified, then the bidding will begin. Immediately the bidding is raised, God will do everything to get the slave of greater worth, the devil also, will try harder.

This is why a man will face greater temptations and trials he can bear during his salvation process because, it has been checked and identified he's of greater value and so, the devil will do everything to have him, so also. However, God will mostly win the bidding, because even the temptations and trials the devil throws to decline the worth of the slave, God will turn, in his life, to become spices to fuel his sacrifice, making him of even greater worth for His kingdom.

Although, ten were saved and brought into the Master's estate, only few out of the ten, if possible one or two, will be of much value and will be greatly rewarded when all is said and done. They'll be placed in charge of many.

Salvation also is a test run for the kingdom, to revealed the hearts of men, those who are fit to carry out God's kingdom mandate. Your faithfulness and love which is your sacrifice to attain salvation and to see beyond the vistas of salvation will determine how much God will invest in you. There's more to salvation than you think, it is a process, mainly for the kingdom, to refine and select those of great worth and value for the building of God's kingdom.

If you focus your vision only on salvation and not beyond, to build a deep level of Intimacy with God, if you fail to sacrifice to become more for God and not just for entering into the kingdom of heaven then, you've failed your salvation processing. Although you're saved but, you've failed to become a functionary or a functionary of great value in God's kingdom. Only men who dwells more in the presence, in the word and in prayers, with a burning desire to become a embodiment through which God can be expressed are truly qualified, and merited their salvation processing.

Now that you've known this, you must do everything to desire God more and build Intimacy with Him in your salvation process to become a priced and rare commodity. The devil will fight you hard but, in the end his temptations and pressure will serve as spices to make you of greater value, because you'll do well to build an even more deep level of Intimacy and overcome.

Don’t let the devil cause you to rise and fall, it’ll affect your quality as a slave, God is looking for slaves to be purchased and only the finest who stood unshaken will be bought for kingdom building purpose, the others will be bought, but have little to no value in the house of the master. This is why you see few men called by God, and many aren’t, it’s not because they were specifically chosen, it’s because, they were the few who saw beyond the vistas of salvation and never faltered during their processing, but rather, chose to become more refined.

Salvation processing is a critical phase, where men born again are selected, auctioned like salves. Your Intimacy level with God during your salvation process will determine how must God will invest His kingdom in you, don't joke with it.
