

Call for Trainees: Executive Civil Society Leadership Program (ECSLP)

The African Civic Leadership Program (ACLP) and Civil Society Resource Center (CSRC) are pleased to the Executive Civil Society Leadership Program (ECSLP) pilot training. The ECSLP is designed to support the capacity enhancement efforts of newly formed civil society actors engaged in activities related to promoting human rights advocacy and good governance. The program will bring in experts with expertise in various areas of CSOs, who will present best practices and lessons learned from both domestic and global experiences. The pilot training will be conducted over a period of 5 consecutive days (from 19-23 September 2023) and certificates of participation will be awarded to those who successfully complete the program.

The curriculum and content of this training program have been specially designed to cater to the specific requirements and contexts of human rights CSOs, providing participants with valuable skills, knowledge, and resources tailored to their work in promoting and protecting human rights. The training curriculum will cover a wide range of topics including:

- Ethiopia's legal regime and international instruments on human rights and CSOs
- General management skills it and CSO governance
- Project design, planning and management and strategic analysis
- Human resources management and development
- CSO fund raising, local resources mobilization, volunteers and constituency building
- CSO fund raising, local resources mobilization, income generating activities, volunteers and constituency building
- Evidence-based advocacy, communications and media usage

Anyone working in a Human Rights CSO is invited to join this valuable training. Don't miss out on this enriching learning experience, and register now by sending an email to henok.teshome@csrc-et.org to secure your spot in the training.
