UNISA university of south africa

IMPORTANT ACADEMIC COMMUNICATION ON THE CHANGES FOR 2021

Dear Student

Unisa has been requested to extend the 2021 registration period until March 2021 due to the disruptions caused by the COVID-19 pandemic.

The extension of the registration period had a number of significant implications for the academic activities planned for the current academic year, amongst others:

1. The shorter academic year allows for only one semester period for semester modules, commencing in April 2021.
2. All assignment due dates for semester modules in the 2021 academic year will be revised with submission due dates scheduled between May and September.
3. The assignments and due dates in TL101 should be disregarded and no assignments must be submitted until the new TL001 has been received.
4. The TL001 with the revised assignments and due dates will be published from 10 February 2021 on the relevant module sites.
5. You should download the TL001 with the revised assignments and due dates for each module on myUnisa under Official Study Material, e.g. FAC1501 _2021_TL_001.

Although the assessment arrangements will change, the study material and content will remain the same. You are therefore reminded to continue with your engagement with the learning content and to complete the self-assessment activities, as applicable.

Kind regards
Unisa