Dice Wisdom

Imagine that you are a perfect being of light and love. Before your incarnation into this lifetime, that's exactly who you are - omnipotent, glorious and perfect. This is your Higher Self, the Self of all things. You made the decision to embrace this human experience (as the human self); you selected the personality and physical form that would best suit the lessons chosen. The human self does not easily recognize the power and energy available.

During times of stress we can accomplish great things because we move past fear and into action. We allow that action because we have a reason (perhaps protecting someone we love) to act bravely. This guidebook will help you recognize that the Universe is always working for you, not against you. When you cast the dice for an answer, you are seeking a perspective that is already a part of you. If you can form the question, you can know the answer.

We are not at the fate of some whim or destiny that is beyond or outside of us. We are simply aligning our self with the path we chose to embrace before the incarnation of this lifetime. This puts the power where it belongs - our perfect enlightened spirit directing our mundane human self.

This concept is especially powerful when we witness something that began in us as a thought and then manifests into our outward reality. This is the power of "I". I choose, I am and I exist. That's what makes this life so magical; the power of our choices, the power of self-awareness, and the gift of this life. If we were supposed to live our life for the sake of others than why were we all born with differences? Why is it we are not a school of minnows moving in unison for no real purpose except movement, food, safety, and procreation? We are not beings born to exclusively serve – we are born to realize that we exist to become our highest potential. You are no good to yourself (or anyone else) if you do not develop fully into your true identity. Your true self is connected with the Divine and can accomplish astonishing goals.

When you speak of "I" it is the unique aspect of your energy. It is a recognition that acknowledges our highest and most enlightened self and the witness to all things. When thought or spoken the word "I" is the touches our meaning of life and our unique expression as a gift to this world. This is not selfish but self-aware. You must have a strong sense of who you really are before you can make any sense of your destiny and purpose. Once we reach our age of reason (and that varies for each person) it is essential that you decide your life's purpose. It is not what your peers or authority figures taught you (or expected of you), it is your sense of your talents and what you know in the deepest part of your soul to be your truth. You may have intelligence to become a physicist but not the desire. There is a clue here however: talent and what you love to do will lead you to your purpose. That is the first step in reaching your personal destiny. True happiness and contentment in life is about how much you love, not how many people love you. What you love is what defines you.

Just opening your mind to the possibility that you have more influence than you think will start the process of truly embracing this life and your potential in it. It is both empowering and frightening to be yourself. Most people are the sum total of others' opinions of them. While it is nice to hear the positive (and otherwise the negative) allowing others to have too much influence on our sense of self by their opinions never serves us. Living up to your own expectations is always more difficult than living up to someone else's. This is especially significant if a parent who never followed their dream reared you.

Regardless of your upbringing, your spirit chose this life and the situation in which you are living it to best suit why you are here. If your childhood was far from "normal" it was for you to have the gift of that personal perspective and do something with or about it. At some point, we are supposed to acknowledge our power and potential. When you begin to treat your life as a choice and not as a victim, then you have taken the first step toward your providence.

You'll need a pair of dice that you exclusively use for questions. Prepare your dice for casting by burying the pair of standard six-sided dice in salt for 24 hours. Then, only use that pair of dice for your castings. Hold the dice in your left hand and think of a question. Concentrate until you are only thinking of that question, and then roll the two dice. The one most to the left (or on the top) is read first and then the second dice. Look up the answer to your query in the following pages. Numbers are order specific. A two and a five has a different meaning than a five and a two.

When you cast the dice you are engaging the best of yourself. You are beginning to trust yourself and your capacity. It is now time to give your Self permission to shine.

I choose, I am, I exist, I love, and I live.

ONE + ONE
DIVINE AGREEMENT

YES

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Gold

Physical Plane:

Casting ONE + ONE predicts that the solution to your problem will arrive by your attentiveness to others. For the next week, treat each individual you meet as if they have the answer to your question. You will not have to ask for help, nor even ask your question, it will present itself to you in the proper form at the proper time.
We are all here on this Earth to help each other reach our greatest potential. This is not a position of servitude; rather, it is one of recognizing the spiritual guides that manifest to us as fellow humans. Simply by waiting for the answer to unfold through another will place your mind in the attitude of receptivity.

Keep your secrets and wait for the answer.

Spiritual Perspective:

This is the divine agreement between you and your higher self. Your spirit chose this moment in time to exist. You chose what your body looks like; as well as your family, significant loves; how smart you are; and the meaningful relationships you attract in this lifetime. Your spirit chose to manifest for a specific purpose and your quest in this lifetime is to achieve your highest potential.

You chose all the people that presented significant challenges and it is always about learning claiming the importance of this moment. Learn and then release. Be especially attentive to people who have nothing to gain regarding your issue. The older you are, the more you have accomplished even though it may not seem that way. You are exactly the person you are for the purpose of this lifetime.

This is also the balance of the masculine and the feminine within you. If you find that those scales are imbalanced, it's time to make the appropriate adjustments. If you've been constantly questing after a goal, consider shifting your perspective to one of patience and waiting. Or, you might want to become more dynamic if you have been thinking that the goal will arrive with little effort on your part.

Some of our greatest desires materialize out of just being aware of the potential of the moment.

Ritual:

Write your question on a small slip of paper with the following affirmation: "The answer to my question now manifests for the benefit of all concerned."

ONE + TWO GATHERING

NO

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Yellow Topaz

Physical Plane:

Casting ONE + TWO indicates that you don't have enough information to make this decision. There are still secrets that are being withheld from you and it is a good idea to stall your commitment until such time that important information is gathered. This question always includes other people. All doubts about this next step must be answered before you will know if this is the right move to make. If you are deciding about a new career opportunity, make sure you know all about the company you are considering. If you have asked about a relationship, there are still unanswered concerns. This is a time of inquiry not action.

Form the most enlightening questions and then inquire.

Spiritual Perspective:

Take the time to consider your life path. You are amazingly powerful and others are recognizing your strength. This is a time in your life where opportunities are presenting themselves more quickly because you have established your potential for a meaningful partnership; career advancement; or beginning any project on your own.

Do not expend resources or be impulsive at this time. Be cheerful and optimistic that the appropriate information will unfold at the exact moment for you to make this decision. You are mature enough spiritually to handle the situation presented to you, but (on a soul level) you are not willing to sacrifice the time if the decision does not serve your highest potential.

You are at a point in your life where time is your most important commodity; nothing should waste this precious gift. Anything you choose to bestow your attention needs to be of appropriate value. This question is about preparing your turning point in this life. You are on the brink of desired changes; make sure that you are serving your best interest.

Sometimes hesitancy is a gift from our Self.

Ritual:

On a small slip of paper write the following affirmation: "The value of my time is appropriately rewarded."

ONE + THREE PRIORITIES

YES

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Moldavite

Physical Plane:

Casting ONE + THREE embraces material desires and about bringing "things" into your life. It is about learning to focus your mind on a specific possession or situation. Are you seeking wealth for a more comfortable lifestyle? Are you looking to move to a new physical environment? Do you want a new car? You may have anything you want once you focus on that goal. There is nothing wrong with wanting possessions that you enjoy. It allows comfort, safety, and a reflection of confidence that you can create anything you wish in this lifetime.

Decide on what you want and then plan to have it.

Spiritual Perspective:

Every "thing" in this world began as a thought. That knowledge can draw to you any material possession, any job situation, or great love. This allows you to live in an attitude of abundance. When you really desire something, behaving as if it is already an aspect of your life (or on its way) allows you the ability to release emotional anticipation.

Some people live in the perspective that wanting material things in life is somehow evil or greedy. Envy is evil; thinking that you are "less-than" because you think you don't have the perfect nose or drive the fanciest car. Once you decide that you can have anything you want just by simple focus, it allows you to celebrate and appreciate that others have achieved abundance in their lifetime. This recognition of potential embraces the natural right to reflect the abundant capacity of each being.

People who have embraced the perspective of a material out-picturing of internal goals and desires are not owned by their possessions. They celebrate them and enjoy them but also know that these accessories are temporary.

This detachment to the “things” in life costs little emotional expense, yet draws to you anything you wish to attract.

Embrace that your Self knows only abundance.

Ritual:

Write down on paper the thing you desire with the following affirmation: “This or something better manifests for me and the benefit of all concerned.”

ONE + FOUR FOUNDATION

NO

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Black Tourmaline

Physical Plane:

Casting ONE + FOUR represents planning and structure. Check that every financial, material, and physical item is working in accord to your question. This is about the tedious task of checking all the details. Make sure the financing, people, and materials required for the question are available. This is about selfishly making sure that all aspects of the project are working on your behalf. This is not a good time for assumption of capacity and ability. You are personally required to perform this "checking" as it will truly affect you.

You must first care for your self before you can care for anything else.

Spiritual Perspective:

Defining what is important to you is the first step in creating an authentic sense of self. This is about living up to your own potential and expectations. It is actually easier to live up to another's idea of success and accomplishment because you do not have to decide for yourself what's important.

We have been cultured that selfishness is distasteful but it is those with a sense of self that have accomplished the greatest things in their lifetime. They are not trying to live up to their Mother or Father's expectations – they are living up to their own. That is a much more difficult concept to initially grasp because it means that you will probably have to change your "foundation" or support system in some way.

Your perspective and potential are unique to you and therefore, are the individual expression of the Divine within you. Trust that you know the right thing to do and you will know how to handle any challenge or opportunity that presents itself. You are no good to yourself or anyone else if you have not decided how you will live your life from this point forward.

Your recognition of Self is the most liberating viewpoint.

Ritual:

Write down on a slip of paper the following affirmation: “Each event moves me closer to recognition of my highest potential.”

ONE + FIVE INTENTION

YES

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Citrine

Physical Plane:

The combination of ONE + FIVE is about advertising what you want. Tell everyone that has the potential to help you about your intentions. If you are seeking a loving companion, a new job, a vacation, or a material thing, this is the time to talk about your objective. Do not be shy; this is about you expanding your circle to bring you what you know in your heart you may have. Contact people from the past, communicate your goals and then allow those goals to materialize. Write down what you want, place it in an envelope, seal it and put it on your refrigerator with a magnet.

Form a clear picture of what you want and talk about it.

Spiritual Perspective:

Allowing yourself permission to create what you want is the way to bring forth a fulfilling life. You will eventually teach others the way to fashion their own goals and desires. By the experience of manifesting your desires, you can easily set an example of how to work with the flow of all things. There are no accidents and pure intent on your part allows the Universe to direct to you exactly what you require.

If you are emphasizing lack in your life then that is what you will receive, if you do not think there's enough, then that is what you will experience. Operate from the perspective of abundance and that will bring observable and measurable results. You will find that the person or thing will find its way to you with very little effort on your part. Your poise will be one of awareness and then the energy to take action when the appropriate omen occurs.

Clear intention allows you flexibility and the ability to adapt to rapid changes. The more disruptive the flow of events, the more your current perspective or environment was not working toward your best possible potential. Embrace that this discomfort is actually moving you toward your right of abundance.

Pure intent produces beneficial results.

Ritual:

Write down on a piece of paper the following affirmation: “Each personal interaction brings my goal closer to me and I will recognize the appropriate moment to act.”

ONE + SIX
RELEASE

NO

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Topaz

Physical Plane:

Casting ONE + SIX is about releasing the past. You cannot achieve the goal of your question until you do so. Usually this casting represents a former love relationship that was not resolved and painful hurt feelings still linger. This is the time to release and forgive that person or situation for not being what you expected at that point in your life. The quicker you liberate yourself from the cloud of the past, the more efficient you become in embracing the new and more empowering aspects of your life. Write about the past struggle that holds you back and then go outside and burn the words.

The past no longer applies to you.

Spiritual Perspective:

Other people, though well intentioned, may have colored your perspective with doubt about your abilities and value. This can be a reflection of an internal insecure view or, more likely, it may be that it is exactly the reason you created that past interaction in the first place. If we are all here on Earth to learn lessons and reach our highest potential, then is would make sense that each situation actually benefits us in some way.

You are in exactly the situation you need to be in for each lesson earned. Whichever event was triggered in your mind when you consulted the dice it is exactly the correct one for you to examine. Listen for words of limitation that are not your own. If the words are not yours, then you need to forgive that person and instead embrace that they have provoked you to embrace a potentially more gratifying perspective.

Use any anger or hurt to motivate you toward your own happiness. Consider how your life would have been different (and maybe less fulfilling) if that "past" still existed today. If it was a great love, bless them for opening your heart, if it was a challenging work situation or business failure, bless the fact that you have knowledge if what did not prosper or benefit you.

The past cultures us to appreciate the prosperity and joy of now and the future.

Ritual:

Write down on a piece of paper the following affirmation: “All things presented to me recognize my current and future potential.”

TWO + ONE

GRATITUDE

NO

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Amber

Physical Plane:

The numbers TWO + ONE asks you to recognize those people along the way who have helped you achieve certain goals. These people may not be currently involved with your life but it is important that they be acknowledged. A simple thank you may suffice or perhaps you return a favor, in kind, at the level in which they assisted you. If they helped you with public recognition in some way, help them be recognized publicly. Maybe they introduced you to a meaningful person, so you introduce them to someone that is potentially meaningful.

Gratitude paves the way to a more significant experience.

Spiritual Perspective:

Openly expressing your gratefulness allows your heart and eyes to open to the perspective that the Universe is always working on our behalf. Recognizing the people that brought you to this moment in life creates natural goodwill. Even people who may have treated us badly in the past deserve at least mental recognition for the motivation they provided for our betterment.

You are the sum total of your focus and the people in your life. The books you have read, the meaningful relationships, the teachers, and the enemies have all brought you to the perspective of this moment. It is time to pause and reflect on the contribution of others toward your success. If you think no one helped you to get to where you are then you have created a stalemate in your progress.

To begin movement in your life or career, it is important that the perspective of gratefulness now flows through you. Practice genuine appreciation in even the smallest of tasks. Be especially thoughtful to people who serve you in some way. Go about your day with authentic thankfulness in your heart – it is time to realize how blessed you are. That will release the stagnant feeling in your life.

A grateful heart recognizes and embraces all things.

Ritual:

Write the following affirmation on a piece of paper: "I am grateful for all the wonderful assistance in my past, present, and future."

TWO + TWO FRIENDSHIP

YES

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Emerald

Physical Plane:

The numbers TWO + TWO represents appreciating all friendships in this lifetime. This is an internal appreciation, not necessarily an external appreciation. It is now time on your part to acknowledge the credibility of friendships without the conscious knowledge of the people considered. This is where you extend a favor or two behind the scenes on their behalf. You will find that by touting someone else's business, friendship, or good experience that more beneficial tidings find their way to you. This is a way to add more depth to your business, relationships or situations simply by recognizing greatness in others.

Sing the praises of someone you care about.

Spiritual Perspective:

Our best friends and most meaningful relationships reflect what we like about ourselves. By touting the wonderful things about others, you are actually talking about the things within you that you admire. The flip side of this exercise is true as well; if we do not appreciate something about another person, than we are considering aspects of our more negative nature.

Envy is the most destructive characteristic we can adopt. What it tells us about ourselves is that we cannot tolerate someone having something we desire for ourselves and maybe we think they do not deserve such success. The shifted perspective claims that the person who has triggered envy within us might be distinguished for what they have accomplished. The person goes from being criticized to being celebrated.

The most disarming way to deal with envy is to imagine that anything another can do we can do for ourselves. We all have something within us that is unique. It is up to us to embrace what we can contribute that brings us abundance and contentment. By complimenting the accomplishments of others you actually bring yourself greater approving energy by those around you.

Your atmosphere becomes one of thoughtful genuineness.

Ritual:

Write the following affirmation on a piece of paper: “I have all that I need to bring forth abundance and I praise those individuals who have achieved their goals in this lifetime.”

TWO + THREE
UNITY

NO

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Obsidian

Physical Plane:

Rolling TWO + THREE denotes a meeting of some sort to decide the answer. There are other items or people to consider in relation to your question. These may be events that have not yet transpired. Either way, the timing is not right for you to move forward in action. A dedication or rededication to the outcome is called for now. The situation has become scattered and unfocused. A meeting with the people involved must be scheduled as soon as possible. You cannot do this project by yourself; there is support and assistance at your fingertips.

Unity of different skills brings success.

Spiritual Perspective:

Your commitment to the goal is the first part of the equation and that is firmly established in your mind. The challenge arises when you realize that the others involved may be actually undermining the project or goal because of unclear understanding. Important items must be presented in written form to all concerned to bring about success. You may have to direct people in a specific manner for visible results.

The people involved see the goal differently than you. In a way, you may have to go back to the beginning of the project and start again. Success is expected once everyone knows how to contribute. Start by having each person write down how they visualize the ultimate result. It will then allow you to know how to interact and engage the energies of each person.

Although you know success is imminent, the others involved do not embrace how it will ultimately benefit them. People cannot read your mind, and your challenge is to learn how to motivate others to help you achieve this goal. This is an important lesson to assist you in future success. Although you would like to delegate this task to someone else, you will receive more enthusiasm if you have people directly report to you their progress.

Your direct influence will benefit others involved in greater ways than you expect.

Ritual:

Write the following affirmation on a slip of paper: "All individuals connected to this outcome work toward and achieve the highest possible success."

TWO + FOUR KINDNESS

YES

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Garnet

Physical Plane:

The combination of TWO + FOUR suggests that even strangers offer some wisdom for your question. While engaging in everyday activities, treat each person as if they are the most important person of the moment. Today is the day to send money anonymously to a charity. Today is the day you talk to someone new and be very interested in what they have to tell you. This is the day you give the gift of attentiveness to everyone. You will only invest a moment longer than usual but it will begin the awareness within you that all things in this Universe support you.

Kindness to everyone today forms Universal support tomorrow.

Spiritual Perspective:

Recognizing the interconnection of all things is the surest way to personal enlightenment. Interaction with all the important and unimportant parts of your world will help you feel connected. The simple act of thanking someone for what you may consider a menial task allows you to respect the gifts of your life. This will be where you acknowledge that you could not be where you are in this life if it were not for the people in it.

Begin by displaying kindness to your parents; take a moment in silent meditation for the gift of your life in this world. This gratitude applies for whomever you consider a positive parent figure. For those who chose a more difficult path, thank and forgive those who have helped guide you to this point. Offer benevolence in your heart to those who were inconsiderate, awkward, or rude.

By filling your heart with the strength of a gentle sovereign, you will not experience fear. Others will recognize your power and embrace you in the same manner. We are all spiritual beings in human form; behaving in this manner allows us to ultimately believe our immortal-ness. Realizing that our lessons often manifest through coincidental meetings, this kindness to the unknown keeps us in a perfect open-mind perspective.

Be prepared for the gifts that come to you just by being thoughtful.

Ritual:

Write down on the piece of paper on the following affirmation: “The Universe will mirror all my best qualities.”

TWO + FIVE
CREDIBLE WITNESS

NO

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Pyrite

Physical Plane:

Rolling TWO + FIVE implies self-examination through the eyes of others. Consider this a checkpoint for your progress. See what emotions are mirrored back to you today. This is the time of checking how others respond to you and your goals. Act on those encouraging words and meditate on what you resist hearing. Remember, everyone in your circle is here to assist you in becoming the most empowered being that you can conceive yourself to be. There is no loss of power; you are reserving it for the correct moment. This time is a small pause before meaningful action.

It is okay to examine your blind spot.

Spiritual Perspective:

All things around you reflect your inner perspective. If you maintain a clean orderly house then your mind is the same way. People that thrive in clutter sometimes miss important details. Today it the day to examine the material things around you as well as the people you attract. Because all things mirror our mind's potential, self-esteem and attitude, check to make sure you are sending the correct message to yourself and others.

The task of a total house cleansing* is more than just dusting. Real cleaning is removing the following items from your home: icons that remind you of depressing events from a past or current event; any item that is broken, doesn't fit, is not used, is spoiled; and anything representing death. Removing plants that do not thrive and replacing them with plants that are healthy is a good way of changing energy.

This arduous task is also a way to change your luck and perspective. The most successful people have the most flowing and clear atmosphere. Surround yourself with the best environment you can create. If you feel comfortable and energized in that space then you have given yourself the best possible perspective for accomplishment. Your home, car, and office must be places that allow you a gratifying empowering perspective.

Are you sending out a truthful message?

Ritual:

On a slip of paper write the following affirmation: “I create the ideal environment for success with my every action, word, and deed.”

TWO + SIX
SOUL MATE CONNECTION

YES

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Rose Quartz

Physical Plane:

Casting TWO + SIX is about soul connections. This is about true love, deep meaningful friendships, and the liberation that accompanies this level of companionship with another. Specifically, this is about celebrating or attracting one other person. If you have that person in your life, it is time to rejoice that you are creating something greater than you could have ever accomplished on your own. If you are seeking to incorporate great love in your life, manifested through a union with another then now is the time that the Universe is blessing you with the tools to do so.

I am now willing to experience blissful love in my life.

Spiritual Perspective:

Surrendering our guard to great love is the most difficult barrier to dissolve. You will know the right person when he or she empowers you to feel greater than yourself. The most remarkable aspect of this attraction is that you want the same for them. This means you love this person enough to know that if at some point they require something beyond you to learn and grow as a spirit, you are willing to allow them to embrace that.

This is not a one-way street; that person wishes the same for you - loving this way keeps the relationship dynamic and fresh. We choose at a soul level that which will bring us the great joyful lessons in this lifetime with another being. When we find each other, there is no stress about how to behave, our outward appearance, or the level of material wealth. It is uncalculated and something beyond the rules of the world.

This combination also produces temptation. Frequently, people already involved with the “right” person will meet someone attractive. Typically, this person will be exactly the opposite of the person in your current relationship. This person may be a soul-connection in a future or past lifetime. It is your responsibility to bless and release the emotions that you have allowed yourself to produce in connection with the temptation.

You have all the joys of our greatest gift – the capacity to love.

Ritual:

On a slip of paper write the following affirmation: "I am the giver and receiver of great love."

THREE + ONE
REFLECTION

YES

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Pearl

Physical Plane:

Producing THREE + ONE in your casting of the dice indicates that it is time to examine the past in regard to your question. How many times have you asked this question in your life? What results have you accomplished by doing things the same way? The desired outcome of your question will be achieved by embracing a new technique or experience. This combination is frequently produced when someone is repeating unfavorable patterns in their life. This is the time to radically change the manner in which you produce results.

Freeing yourself from past experience produces a favorable consequence.

Spiritual Perspective:

When we hold up our experience to another, we subconsciously project stubbornness and a desire to continue to embrace a time from the past. It is a more powerful process to state that you possess the capability to tackle the current situation. This is not a time to brag about accomplishments or to believe that past education or experience provides you with the credentials to entitle you something.

You would not be at this point in your life if you were not capable of allowing yourself this new opportunity. This is not about permission by another or proving to someone that you are attractive, worthy and capable. This is about shedding the past so you continue to learn. Be open and enthusiastic about this new direction. That will earn you more joy than anything from anytime in your past.

This is about seeing the same world with new eyes. Sometimes, you will receive this combination at the time of abrupt change. Fear thrives in these times if you let it. Trust that you would not have arranged for this change to happen if your soul was not ready. Your spirit is ready to embrace a new way to live and love. The past way of living no longer applies to your new way of life.

Your potential has yet to be realized.

Ritual:

On a slip of paper write the following affirmation: "All my past experience has prepared me to embrace my new way."

THREE + TWO POTENTIAL

NO

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Opal

Physical Plane:

Casting THREE + TWO is about trying what you have never done before. It may be a creating new job; a new relationship; a new place of residence; or a new spiritual perspective. Usually when we become comfortable (complacent) and do not generate action our self, something will happen to force us take action in some direction. You may find that the job you enjoyed gets uncomfortable, or that a supervisor becomes difficult in some way. A meaningful person in your life decides on a new direction that does not include you. Your life is about to change for the better even if change is unsettling.

The bigger the change created, the larger the potential realized.

Spiritual Perspective:

Have you noticed that the most fascinating people are the ones that seem to create life around them? Have you also noticed that the people who are the most opinionated are usually the most interesting? That is because they are typically people that do not settle for anything less in life. It is always about achieving higher, doing more, and truly living life to the fullest.

Sometimes, these individuals intimidate us but they provide the truest example of an authentic being and living. When we admire anything about another, we are admiring an aspect of our self. Once you believe this you may cultivate any aspect of yourself to something grander, and then you can take the first step toward embracing your potential. This is always about defining yourself toward something more sublime.

The most difficult part of change is allowing things to move into the past. This is not about who gets your old job or who is with your former love, this is about you shedding what no longer works toward revealing your best possible self. Find that emotion (even if it is tiny) that is excited that your life is about to change and cultivate that emotion. Let that spark propel you to your absolute best.

At some point, you must shine on your own.

Ritual:

On a slip of paper write the following affirmation: “My potential is constantly revealing itself to me and I am capable of action at the fortuitous moment.”

THREE + THREE
LOVE

YES

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Platinum

Physical Plane:

Casting THREE + THREE indicates perfect balance for all things concerning your question. Everything is supporting your decision. There is no question that love flows through this query and that the Universe resounds affirmation. You can do nothing wrong now. Your confidence is high, the people involved love and support you and this moment of truth benefits all concerned. Yes, you will get the job, a soul connection, or a desired outcome. All shadows of doubt are eliminated by the brightness of the energy that is generated by your spirit.

Know that success is assured and act accordingly.

Spiritual Perspective:

Each lifetime, the Universe shifts and opens the way for us to fulfill our fondest dreams. This is that moment for you. Nothing but celebration of your spirit is called for now. You have worked to this moment to take advantage of something greater and more gratifying than anything you have experienced in this lifetime. There is only room in your heart for love and gratitude.

It will feel dizzying at times to see cherished goals realized and you will understand what all this hard work was about. Celebrate, and thank those who assisted you to this arrival. You are ready; embrace the absolute greatness you deserve. There is no "payback" here; you are simply withdrawing from the Universe the energy that you have invested. This is truly an example of allowing yourself to enjoy what you have manifested.

You have learned to emphasize what is perfect and empowered about you. You are showing others, by your example, that they can realize anything you can visualize. It is your path and destiny to experience this intensity of excellence. You will eventually help others to learn to realize their dreams, but for now, enjoy and celebrate that your success is exactly what you have earned and deserve.

Splendor and light marks your path.

Ritual:

On a slip of paper write the following affirmation: “Every event in my life has lead me to enjoy this time of success.”

THREE + FOUR RISK

NO

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Turquoise

Physical Plane:

Rolling THREE + FOUR indicates that you will do well to take no risks or impulsive action at this time. This is about what others have to offer you not what you have to offer them. A personal example of this is on the horizon for you. This is why it is vital that you recognize where you draw your strength. This will be your sanctuary and power source for all the events that will begin shortly in your life.

NO

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Moonstone

Physical Plane:

Producing FIVE+FOUR in a roll asks you to consider those people whose lives are not as abundant as yours. Your life has reached a plateau or a standstill in some way and a heartfelt, earnest gesture of generosity will help things to flow again. This is about you giving the gift of your time, word, or abundance in a direction where it is sincerely appreciated. Even a small contribution to a charitable organization will help you break the stagnation that has developed in your life at this time. Giving now places you back in the perspective of power.

Outward flow of abundance (power) releases stagnation and blockage.

Spiritual Perspective:

Sometimes this combination is cast when you are asked to give up something really valuable for your life to progress. The more you believe that the Universe will always provide you with the gift of abundance, (then) the taking away or giving of things are only a mental block. However, this block will ultimately affect all aspects of our lives, especially money. The more you worry about money, the more the flow is cut off. Instead, transform any worry into action items. Write 5 things you want on an index card. Fold it in half lengthwise and carry that card in your wallet.

When you hold on to anything too tightly, it will lose its original form and appeal. You become imprisoned or even obsessed by it and no longer have the freedom you enjoyed when you first attained it. The giving of something greatly valued to another that shows gratitude and appreciation provides you with a very powerful perspective. There is great freedom to not be owned by a "thing."

Think of the people who buy a very expensive automobile and are not in the mindset of abundance to appreciate it; instead; they worry about it all the time. They are compulsive about every potential scratch or ding, the road they drive, and the parking places they select. It's not about the enjoyment of a beautiful and functional vehicle anymore; it is about their using the item to create an identity. That is not true abundance; that is pure materialism.

The Universe encourages an equal flow dynamic and receptivity – choose dynamic now.

Ritual:

Write the following affirmation on a slip of paper: "Thoughtful gifts of time and abundance create flow."

It is still supported, even with the doubts that may arise. You might be saying hello or good-bye to someone meaningful and cherished. It is important that you trust enough to take the implied action or step. This is the time to operate from your essence of truth.

Sometimes you are asked to trust another when your life is at a turning point. It may be that they are also beginning or changing their life in some significant way. However you assist that person in attaining their dream, you will always be rewarded in some fashion. Whether or not you personally see the results of your assistance, your contribution to another's success will be returned – even if that person cannot personally return the favor. It will come to you anyway. This time of trust has farther reaching effects than you expect.

You may be asked to lead a new project or take on a job you've never done before. Is it finally the time to begin your own business, move someplace beautiful, or give your heart to another? Now is the time. The more you trust now, the more love you will experience in your life. The power in this time of trust is invigorating; knowing that each element of your path is such that you can trust with an open and expectant heart.

Your story is always about how you aligned yourself with your greatest and most authentic self. Each lifetime, we decide how much we will suffer or celebrate that life. The most genuine life embodies compassion, capacity, and comprehension. It is the journey and the ever-changing destinations of

Spiritual Perspective:

There are no accidents. Every moment or event in your life has directed you to this question and you were not ready to ask it until now. Your emotional state, your wisdom, and your preparedness have brought you to this current situation. You are being asked to consider your place in the Universe and how it all interrelates around you. You are at a sacred place now in your heart and in your life.

This is the brink of enlightenment, the understanding that your presence on this Earth is as precious as every other element – that your being contributes a unique vibration. Consider celebrating the divine timing of all things and the patient, almost amused assurance of your chosen path. You are given a moment of excited anticipation of something astonishing about to be born. The greatest achievements arrive once we realize the purpose of our lives.

Acknowledge the people that you admire with the silent recognition that they too, have been at this exact point at some time in their lives. The instant before the acclaim, success, and understanding are the powerful reasons we have chosen to live in human form. Then, think of all the people who have assisted you to this time in your life and send them their deserved admiration in your heart.

You have always directed the abundant energy of your intent; now it manifests.

Ritual:

SIX + TWO
LUST/STRENGTH

YES

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Ruby

Physical Plane:

Casting SIX + TWO asks you to contemplate how you support the energy of yearning in your life. Consider how much the subject of your question is worth to you. Is it worth concentration beyond all other things? Approach this issue as if you are courting and coaxing your goal, not aggravating it. Be aware of your pursuit and the signs that present themselves but also, be somewhat aloof to the conclusion. Behave in each interaction as though you are expecting the most favorable result. This attitude will serve you to negotiate most interactions.

You can give yourself permission to have what you want.

Spiritual Perspective:

The greatest energy given to most living creatures is sexual. The innate yearning to connect on the most intimate physical level is a part of the human experience. It is the closest and most basic physical reminder of love. It is also often misunderstood between men and women, yet it reflects the perfect balance of the masculine and feminine. The most satisfying expression of lust is the dance of give and take.

In classic ballroom dancing, you can watch the beauty of two beings delighting in the method and flow of their movement. There is no struggle between the two dancers engaged; instead, it appears as an effortless, silent communication of dynamic and surrender. That is the true expression of strength, the knowledge of the dance of the two opposites.

You are asked to recognize all the opposing aspects of your environment because if it were not for that tension, there would be no dance. Remember, the planets and stars in our solar system conduct the divine ballet of magnetism. It is as ancient as time and yet as wondrous as first love. Flirt with life again. Regardless of your physical age, remember that your spirit is young, splendid and divine.

You are ready to engage yourself again in the dance.

Ritual:

On a slip of paper write the following affirmation: "I am now dancing with all of life and look forward to my next engaging opportunity."

AUTONOMY

NO

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Blue Sapphire

This is the time to trust your Self.

Spiritual Perspective:

At some point in our life, we will learn to trust that we know the correct thought, word or deed. We will see it in others and acknowledge it within. Not only is this about recognizing that we will be able to tackle whatever we are dealt, it is also seeing in others that same capacity. This is called the power of "I" and is the most evocative recognition we can embrace in our life.

Acknowledgement of "I" is the first step toward self-actualization. It is the unique expression of your most enlightened and magnificent Self. We are not at the whim of some fate or destiny that is beyond us or outside of us. We are simply aligning our self with the path we chose before incarnation into this lifetime. This puts our power back where it belongs – our perfect omnipotent Spirit-self directing our mundane human self.

It is both empowering and frightening to be yourself. Most people are the sum total of others' opinions. At some point when we begin to realize that it is much more challenging to live up to our own expectations, because innately we know our capacity. Life is magic because we have the power of choice, the power of self-awareness and the gift of this life.

You are at the age of your reason - decide on your gift.

Ritual:

On a slip of paper write the following affirmation: “I now have the energy, intelligence, and ability to decide the right action.”

SIX + FOUR
FORTUNE/CHANGE

YES

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Labradorite

Physical Plane:

Rolling SIX + FOUR asks you to make a friend of change because it is about to make a friend of you. The more disruptive and sweeping the change the better it will be for you. This combination indicates a benevolent set of circumstances and you will be ready to take advantage of the moment. You will have the resources, the right situation, and the right person will be there when you need them. You can now realize that you can have what you want. Say yes and celebrate your good fortune. Give yourself permission to move forward because the luck of preparation meeting opportunity has merged.

You are supported in every aspect.

Spiritual Perspective:

Although to others it may appear as if this was an effortless turn of fortune on your behalf, it is actually the result of your hard work and diligence. It is also your spirit's recognition that each life is filled with endings and beginnings. You are about to begin a new cycle of your life and in that is all the excitement of living the new experience. Bless and appreciate all the people and circumstances that brought you to this moment.

The most impressive achievement we can witness in our lifetime is something we thought about internally being manifest externally. Whether it is someone to love, a dream opportunity, or simply doing what feels both challenging and rewarding, it is all a result of what we believe we have the capacity to embrace. Allow yourself to enjoy this moment of recognition of your true Self-potential.

Once you open your mind top the concept that most changes are working for our highest good and potential, you will find yourself on an accelerated momentum. Others who operate on a higher vibration will subconsciously acknowledge you as a person of influence. You will draw to you supportive and meaningful people. Be prepared to accept the responsibility of a person of abundance.

All is aligning for you to succeed.

Ritual:

On a slip of paper write the following affirmation: “My focus and hard work now manifest my fortune and prosperity.”

SIX + FIVE
DESTINY

NO

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Iolite

Physical Plane:

Rolling SIX + FIVE tells you that fate, karma, and destiny are supporting your every action now. Though this casting supports action soon in relation to your question, it actually is more of a time of questioning all the events that have brought you to this moment. You are about to enjoy the swing of circumstances in your favor and it is timely to prepare for that change. Study every communication coming toward you now with the perspective of preparing for action. One of the items you receive will grant you clear indication of timing.

You are patiently awaiting your call to action.

Spiritual Perspective:

This combination typically appears when you are ready to move forward yet circumstances seem to be working against you. It is very important that you allow yourself permission to tackle the test of waiting and do nothing that works against your progress. The moment to action will be so obvious that there will be no question about the timing to act.

In your divine state, you have chosen this moment. This time represents great potential when your energies and the energies around you have formed critical mass. Something magnificent is about to be born and your mundane human self cannot rush the process. Simply allow this opportunity to unfold with the patient expectancy of something superb. Be confident that all your challenges and clear focus are about to be rewarded.

Consider how your environment must change to accommodate your new way of life and prepare for that change as you wait. You won't have time to attend to all the small things once your door opens for you. Connect with all of the people who have supported you through all of your challenges and let them know you are expecting something big any moment. Enjoy the anticipation of something great developing for you.

Watch the Universe unfold for you.

Ritual:

On a slip of paper write the following affirmation: “It is easy to wait for my magnificent and brilliant adventure to begin.”

SIX + SIX
ALL

YES

Supporting Gem/Mineral: Diamond

Physical Plane:

Rolling SIX + SIX tells you that your path is open to what you seek to achieve. The work is joyful, the events memorable, and the people involved are working with clear heart and focus. You cannot even ruin this moment. Your hard work and single-mindedness now allow you success, prosperity, abundance, and most of all the understanding of the significance of love. This is the realization of your potential, the understanding of your place in this world and the assurances that your life will never be the same. You have touched the sublime.

All that you seek to have in your life is at your fingertips now.

Spiritual Perspective:

This moment is the realization of why you were born into this lifetime. It is the identification of your purpose, the understanding of the power of love, and the result of living your life to its highest potential. The external around you is reflecting what your mind has embraced. This is the most powerful and fortunate combination of all the combination.

Celebrate all of those individuals who showed you the Universe was moving through them to help you; even those people who made you upset or appeared to be working against you. All the aspects that occurred to bring you to this place had to be there for you to succeed and realize this moment. Allow yourself to appreciate just how much you are loved because you chose to love everything about your life.

This cycle places you in a position to assist someone else and in doing so you help him or her realize his or her chosen destiny. Since you now understand that you had to recognize and act upon your unique gift first before you could be any assistance to someone else, the power behind your gift of assistance is now genuine. By your achievement through what you love, you can now recognize the true potential of another.

You have earned this pinnacle, now, what is the next one?

Ritual:

Write the following affirmation on a slip of paper: "For all that I can envision, I now have the ability and resources to bring it to manifestation."
