

Important Notice to all Students Regarding

Final Examination

1. It is strictly prohibited to hold any smartphones, smart watches, or any other electronic devices in exam rooms. Any student found holding these types of devices in the examination room, whether they are switched off or not, will be automatically disqualified for that particular course.
2. Possession of a piece of paper or any other source of information in the examination hall where such material is not specifically permitted or trying to coping from them is strictly forbidden and automatically results in an F grade in the particular course
3. Copying or trying to copy from any other student or deliberately letting any student to copy from one's exam paper results in an F grade in that particular course
4. Working on or being found in possession of examination papers other than one's own results in an F grade in the course and disciplinary measures.
5. Exchanging information in the examination hall through oral, body language, written and electronic or any other means where these are not specifically permitted will result in an F grade and is subjected to disciplinary measures.
6. Sitting on an examination in a course for which one has not been registered, and sitting for an examination in the name of another student will result in a complete dismissal from the university.
7. Taking an examination by proxy, i.e. through a secondary party will result in a complete dismissal from the university.
8. Evading the signature of attendance sheets and trying to leave examination halls without submitting question papers and answer sheets in an attempt to claim absence from the hall will result in an F grade for the course and disciplinary measures.