THE BRAVE LITTLE GHOST

One night, a little ghost was too scared to float outside the house.
But when his friends needed help to find their way, he decided to be brave.
He guided them safely through the spooky woods, even though he was scared.
Afterward, the little ghost felt proud and realized courage comes from helping others.

Moral: Being brave means helping others, even when you're scared.

eduflakes.com

THE WITCH WHO LOST HER BROOM

Wanda the witch lost her broom right before Halloween!
She walked around asking for help, but no one wanted to help a witch.
However, a kind pumpkin gave her a ride to find her broom.
Wanda promised to always be kind and help others in return.

Moral: Kindness always comes back to you.

eduflakes.com

THE FRIENDLY VAMPIRE

Victor the vampire never smiled because he thought his fangs were scary.
One day, a little bat told him that his fangs were what made him special.
Victor smiled wide and made friends with everyone in the forest.
He learned that being different is what makes you unique and fun.

Moral: Embrace what makes you special, and others will too.

eduflakes.com

THE SPIDER'S WEB

Sally the spider worked all night to build a beautiful web for Halloween.
But the wind kept blowing it down, and Sally felt like giving up.
Instead, she kept trying and made the strongest web she had ever built!
Her web became the talk of the garden, admired by all.

Moral: Never give up, even when things are tough.

THE PUMPKIN WHO WANTED TO GLOW

Peter the pumpkin wished he could glow as brightly as the others.
He felt sad because he wasn't picked for the Halloween display.
But when a child came looking for the perfect pumpkin, Peter was chosen for his big smile.
He realized that being joyful on the inside is what truly makes you shine.

Moral: True happiness comes from within, not from how you look.

eduflakes.com