

Impartation

Impartation is more than anointing, it is the transfer of life, however, the life transferred can only be unlocked and accessed when the receiver pays the necessary price to unlock it, only then will he walk in the fullness of it. In other words, impartation lies dormant in man, unless he meets the requirements to activate and walk in it. A great number of God's servants might lay their hands on you, but you won't see results, unless you key into it.

Impartation is not blessing, neither is it deliverance, many seem to be mistaken, it is the transfer of a cultivated and consecrated life of holiness for you to become a functionary for the advance of God's kingdom. If you can key into it, it is better than the blessing or healing you've received, because your blessings, healing will perish here on earth if you don't invest them unto eternity. When Jesus delivers through his vessels, it is meant to shorten the spiritual reaction that'll trigger the existence and function of such a man in God's kingdom.

The reason why some are imparted and get immediate manifestation of the Impartation is, because they've already died to sin and the flesh to pass the necessary requirements, but you if you've not, then...

Impartation is not only given on laying on of hands, it can bend through space and time, time and space does not have an effect on it, as long as the heart is ready to receive, you can be imparted by merely watching or listening to be connected to the source of life through the media. It doesn't matter if years have gone by after God's life has been transferred through his vessels, you just need faith to break the laws of this realm in order to download through time and space that which has been done years ago.

This life is transferred by the holy ghost when his fire engulfs you. Those who have been prepared and refined already, are immediately ushered to walk in the dimensions of life imparted in them, but for many, they need to fan it through yielding in obedience to the government of holy ghost, he is the fire that activates it and this fire is fueled by life, God's word.

The first Impartation is a life of holiness cultivated by the giver, when imparted, the holy ghost does a quick check on the receiver, if such a man is not yet born again, then he engulfs him in flames, giving him a new life of holiness which he needs to maintain. It is a quick way to salvation if you're given the grace by God, what others strive to attain, you get it cultivated and refined, transferred from the giver, all you have to do is maintenance.

While you're reading this, it is also an Impartation of life from Jesus through the writer, the only difference is, how much the writer has died to birth life? If he has died more, then you'll find the Lord acting in you according to His will, for His purpose, through His word, by His spirit in you. You begin to live in the influence of God's life transferred to you, if you choose to maintain it, that is.

However if a quick check is done by the holy spirit and the receiver is found to be filled with the holy ghost already, the second phase of Impartation is triggered, a phase for the receiver to begin walking in his ordination in God's kingdom.

You can be imparted, but still, amount to nothing if you don't key into it, it'll look as if nothing happened. Many have been touched by men of God, but due to the fact they lack knowledge of it or not being born again, they do think that being touched by that man is all about blessing, no, that's not blessing, of course it might set you free from bondage of poverty, but that is Impartation, the transfer of life, you'll need the holy spirit to discern and walk in it, to make it a reality.

For example if you're imparted by a servant of God, and he has the life of two, that is; the life of God cultivated by him and his mentor, and then he imparts you with life, then it'll be given the cultivated life of two in addition to your zero life. If you grow to harness your own life in addition, then it'll be three cultivated life you've gotten and then you transfer to another, it goes on like that, it makes things easier for God.

God advances from generation to generation, we Christians don't know we can transfer the life of God unto generations, we live our legacy on earth by the life we impart, if only we choose to get there and if only those who have been imparted knows what happened to them.

Many desire to be Imparted, but only the few knows it is a transfer of life. Have you ever wondered why you see a man of God in a revelation? Or why you find your self speaking in the holy ghost, being influenced slightly by the way the man of God speaks? You begin to walk, being influenced by the life that has been passed down to you. Many have been touched by genuine prophets, apostles, servant of God, but they won't function and become an expression of that life imparted until they're first born again in the holy ghost.

I was once touched by an apostle, then I wasn't born again in the holy ghost, it felt just like a normal touch I didn't fall or manifest any demon, because I was born again, but still on a shaky foundation. Untill years later I became born again in the holy ghost, then the life imparted was unlocked, I began walking in it, the life transferred from the Apostle's mentor to him was transferred partly unto me, then i began to walk in it naturally in; character, is spiritual habit and in speaking of the words of life from within, the words spoken by the holy spirit through me were in line with his, and the path they thread and the dealings of the holy spirit with them I threaded also, although not in details, but they birth my foundation.

Impartation is not all about anointing, if you bear anointing without the required quantity of life to support it, it'll cripple you, and Jesus said;

John 17:19

" And for their sakes I sanctify Myself, that they also may be sanctified by the truth."

When you carry the life of God, you can also release life, when you speak God's word to someone in spirit and truth, that is; in life, that's also impartation, even your presence alone can cause the transfer of the life of Christ unto others influencing them to live like Christ. It's just that, the degree at which God's life dominates and flows through you, will determine how much you'll release, that life released is an Impartation by the holy ghost unto others. If you stand that person stands, if you fall, he might also fall, because he is connected to you and influenced by the life of Jesus you've cultivated and transferred.

For example, you cannot speak life to deliver someone from lust, if you haven't be delivered from that spirit, because that spirit will come to you for a check. And also, you can't transfer the life of zeal for God's word to consume the heart of a man if you've not also cultivated such a life.

Many think until you fall to the ground or until you're charged then Impartation has taken place, no. The reason people fall or go out of control during Impartation it's, because they're not yet a perfect conduit to carry the voltage passed by the holy spirit, they have not grown enough in spirituality to synchronized with the fire of the holy ghost. However, one who has sacrificed to grow in Christ to an extent, can become a perfect conduit to contain the energy of the holy spirit transferred.

The highest peak of Impartation is to walk in the ordination of your calling by God. After all obedience has been obeyed, he becomes a functionary in God's kingdom project.

However, impartation can be corrupted by the devil, creating a negative impact. That's why we must be filled with the holy spirit in order to possess the ability to discern the spirit driving who is to impart a spirit unto us. Impartation is a transfer of spirits also, if you are imparted by a corrupted medium, either by laying on of hands or even by hearing the message a corrupted medium who preaches the word, you'll be imparted with an evil spirit if your foundation in Christ is not strong.

That's why mostly, pastors and chorister are dragged into lust, sexual immorality, masturbation by the devil, because they are the ones who imparts the church the most. When such a preacher speaks or when such a chorister sings, the atmosphere is charged with the spirit of lust and those who are weak, having little or no foundation In Christ, will think that they've received from Jesus, but unfortunately they've being imparted with the spirit of lust. And so we must sanctify ourselves that others may be sanctified

You can't reach the hearts of men if the life you proclaim is not lived through you. It is the life you have lived as an evidence of Christ dominating you, you birth in the heart is men through the word. This is impartation.
