

Kingdom Building

Salvation is the deliverance of mankind from bondages of the government of the devil. However, in reality, salvation actually is for the restoration of man to his original glory. Jesus came to restore man back to his original position in God. When a man has accepted to be under the government of the Christ, and all obedience has been obeyed to live only for God, he's then ushered by the holy spirit into his ordination which has been given right from the moment he was thought of, to enable him walk in fulfillment of the will of the Father.

if a born again has not yet discern his ordination, he's still walking the lost course, because although, he has attained wealth and all, but he isn't walking actually in his true destiny. God is building a kingdom and unto every man right before the fall of man God has given a place in that kingdom. The life of every man are like pieces of a blue print for God's kingdom government and so. We must see beyond the vistas of mortality to grow deeper in God so, He can reveal and entrust the blueprint of our ordination unto us that through us He'll build His kingdom to completion, even if you fail, God will give your blue print it another.

God's building a kingdom where everyone has a role to play, and everyone, everyone is given a specified blueprint to engage in the contract of building God's kingdom, that's why God placed man in the earth realm, the realm of time. God wants a new government after the fall of Lucifer, a perfect government by functionaries in his own likeness, and since the eternity is fixed, God has to place man in the realm of time where we can invest unto eternity to build this kingdom.

The time realm is a factor for the establishment of God's government but, the devil came and began corrupting the hearts of men, that's why the Lord brought about salvation as a system to restore man back to his original state. Only men belonging to the civilization of heaven can have a part in this building. Even as we are restored, having the spirit of God, as citizens we need to journey furthermore in God for our ordination, our true purpose on earth to be revealed, but it's a shame, many seems to build only to the world and all they do is live for their appetite instead of finding their place in Zion and make the necessary sacrifices to Invest unto eternity our true business.

The physical businesses you're in now are merely charades, the true business is the kingdom business where eternal wages will be given. The reason the world is in chaos is, because it has been given unto satan and so, he placed the world in chaos so, men will fix they eyes in things below and not on things about where their reality lies. The earth realm, the real of time is the only basis foundation for the building of God's kingdom and we are part of that building, in others word we are the building, the building is the government.

There's a kingdom of heaven and also a kingdom of God. The Kingdom of heaven is our eternal dwelling place with God while the kingdom of God is a government, and we are meant to be that government. For us to be established in this government, we must first be restored from our fallen state, that's why Jesus was the lamb that was slain before the beginning of the world. The kingdom is sown in our heart when we become filled with the holy spirit.

As we walk further in intimacy with God we come to a place of trust, after we've underwent through the fire of trial unscathed and sacrificed all to live only for God, then we are Invested the kingdom. And as we begin to live to fulfill the will of the Father in our lives as kingdom functionaries, we build His kingdom in our heart which is connected to heaven and are being ranked higher in His government the more we fulfil the writings of our ordination.

When all is said and done then, we'll be placed, fixed in thrones of different ranking in God's kingdom when we shall leave the realm of time to dwell in his kingdom for eternity. All you need to do to become a functionary of high ranking in God's kingdom is in the now, where time exist. In summary, your living only for the kingdom which has be sown in your heart is a battle for your eternal throne.

The realm of time was laid by God as a basis to build His kingdom government, a realm built as an investment ground where men shall serve as mediums through which life shall be harnessed through sacrifices raised from the alters of men (man's heart.) These are what God uses as a basis to harness life as a resource to build His kingdom. The more a man dies to himself to birth more of God's glory, the more he raises sacrifices, harnessing life which is used as resources for building his place in God's kingdom.

How much he dies and live for God will determine the worth of his life harnessed as a resource to secure his place and ranking in Zion. As it is written in the scripture;

Romans 12:1

" Therefore I urge you, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies a living and holy sacrifice, acceptable to God, which is your spiritual service of worship."

God is more concerned about the build of His kingdom and your place in it, how much you die to become a vessel that can channel and express more of God's dimension will determine your throne In God's kingdom.

How much you sacrifice to build Intimacy will determine your placing in the kingdom of God. Jesus said he went to prepare a place for us, He didn't just go, you're the one who'll live a sacrifice under His government to harness life as resources to enable Him build that house, that is; to secure you're throne in heaven. The place being prepared is your throne your part In God's kingdom which is connected to your heart as you're in the earth realm. How much life worth you harness will determine your position in God's government.

So, if you choose to harness low value of life, you'll have little to secure your throne completely. Thrones are restored on life and your life here will determine where and how you'll be over there. That's why devil does everything to cause the fall of a man, to make him be of little life even if he didn't eventually get to hell. All he wants is to distort God's kingdom establishment.

The moment the saints are raptured, the holy spirit will be removed from the earth realm and the world will be plunged into total darkness, because all the light bearers, the salt of the earth (earth preservers) are gone. God then won't have any business to do with men only to put them in a trial phase where they'll have to pay with their blood in order to get to heaven with no reward in store for them. The moment we're gone, God's kingdom building will come to a completion, and we'll all be judged and placed in different thrones in accordance to how much we lived, if you lived as a living sacrifice that is.

In God's house there are many mansions and only those who sacrifice more to build intimacy will rank more than others. None will be compared the same in God's kingdom, as I said earlier the life you lived here in sacrifice will determine your value over there, there'll be rich and richer. It is on the course of building this kingdom we'll be enthroned kings of different rankings if we rise to the rank of kings. When all is said and done, we'll be sitting at our rightful thrones ruling as a government in the kingdom of heaven. Just as these mansions are real mansions, they also reflect the worth of life lived in sacrifice while on earth and our position and ranking in God's kingdom.

Man in his fallen state cannot partake in this expenditure, because it is a function of life, life is needed as a resource for the building of this kingdom and a man in sin is dead. Where there's death, there's no life and since death has no place in heaven such a man will be cast into a realm of eternal death.

It's not all about you, it's bigger than you think, it's all about a kingdom, everyone is given a part, but the question remains, how much are you willing to pay so you can be restored to walk in your ordination? Your life will determine how much part you'll play. Many do think it all ends with salvation, not until you leave this world then, you'll know you've failed to invest in God's kingdom, when you see the greater glory of men who lived only for God, then you'll weep.

When you were being told to have a life of ceaseless prayers, you laughed it off, what you didn't know was that through prayers incense are being raised which invokes the presence of God, giving Him more authorization to establish His kingdom in the hearts of men. You didn't know your prayers would have served as heavenly gateways for the armies of angels to invade the earth realm to subdue darkness and you didn't know it is through prayers men are broken from cords of sin so that they can accept Jesus. You never knew it was supposed to be your life of holiness, birthing the diverse dimensions of the life of God expressed through you as a result of your sacrifice to die to yourself that'll serve as a witness of Christ.

Since death doesn't function in this kingdom and man has been bound in a death process right from birth, the Lord God needed to restore man with life through His Son Jesus, so man can become functionaries of His kingdom, this is where salvation becomes necessary. Salvation is just a ticket to restore us, so we can be part of God's kingdom. Without salvation, there's no stable life and God needs an active reaction of life for this project, not a man of repentance, who rises and falls.

This is why the devil causes men to dwell in sin or to remain in a stunted growth in Christ, he made it not just for men to go to hell, but rather, he wanted death to encroach so that God will have little life drawn from the hearts of mortals who lived for Him in a generation.

Even in a condemned state, satan stands to oppose the will of God concerning His kingdom, but he'll not win, no matter how hard he tries, he won't. It'll be a shock to know many that the number of humans in heaven now at more than that of hell and it's demons. Well, it's something I won't have time to reveal here. The devil can still oppose the kingdom of God even though he no longer have place, as long as men live to give him authorization.

The kingdom of God are for sons not children, every born again is born as a babe spiritually, but not many grew to attain sonship, only sons are given inheritance, a part in the Father's estate, a position. Whereas, the children remain babes and are given nothing, they only have right to food, shelter and clothing. Only sons are in maturity as the Father, they become a reflection of the Father, but babes are babes.

God doesn't want us to remain babes, He wants us to conquer and grow to become sons. In life you feed to grow under the care of your parents or guardian, they conquer, that is; they work for your feeding, but in the kingdom, you conquer to become sons. The reason why we conquer to overcome to become sons, is so that God will be just in giving our inheritance. God reproduced Himself in us by giving us His spirit, because only an exact copy of Him can rule his creation without fault, but we have to journey from our fallen state to become the sons He wants us to. Still man has the will to choose which kingdom he'll give his life in service. When a man yields his heart to a spirit, he has given that spirit authorization for the advancement of it's kingdom.

Men, as weak as we are in the flesh, gives authorizations to move Kingdoms, all a spirit does is whisper to your hearts, it's up to you to choose which government you'll subject your heart to advance.

Any man in sin, as sad as it can be, he's an opposition to God's kingdom, because the life of sin he lives gives authorization for darkness to hinder the move of God in the lives of men, such a man is a conqueror for the kingdom of darkness. And i wouldn't want to say; " hinder the advancement of God's kingdom," because God's kingdom will and has prevailed already. God has every right to destroy man for cahooting with the devil to try thwart His will towards man and His kingdom, not even for making the blood of Jesus shed for their sake in vain, but for trying to hinder his government. Any man in sin is like a terrorist who has been apprehended awaiting execution.

A king will never let anyone who opposes His throne to go scot free, He'll see to it that he's punished. We must awaken from our illusion, thinking it's all about us and this realm. This realm is just an illusion an investment ground unto eternity and a realm where the hearts of men are revealed. You won't realize this until you've been conveyed into reality. If you journey into the kingdom of heaven, what will be your value and archives amongst the Immortals.

Every son of God will be judged according to the value of his life lived for the kingdom. If your life is not consistent with prayers and the word and sacrifice to obey to the last command, then you're not yet living as conqueror.

The Kingdom of God is like a building block toy. In the pack of a building blocks, there are many blocks and out these blocks structures can be built. The sum total of the blocks in the pack can be used up completely without any to spare to build a complete structure. However, at the same time, few blocks can be used to build a complete structure even if not all blocks were used. Although, they're still useful, but they're not needed as part of the house, because the builder didn't include them.

So, it is when we shall see God, the sons of God who lived for the kingdom will have a part in the new Jerusalem, while those, children of God who lived outside the will of the Father, will be left in the pack, but not part of the structure.
