QUESTION ONE:

(20 marks)

Read the following and answer the questions.

All about Fugu Fish

This is a Fugu fish, It's quite small, it tastes good and can't swim very fast. But other fish don't eat it, because Fugu fish are poisonous. In fact there is enough poison in one Fugu fish to kill 30 people. So other fish don't eat Fugu. But what about people? Well, in Japan they love it .Japanese people eat around 10,000 tonnes of Fugu every year.

The meat of the Fugu fish isn't poisonous. The poison is in the skin and other parts of the body, and before you cook the fish, you have to remove all the poison. This is very difficult to do, and if you leave just a little poison, it can kill you. In 1958, nearly 200 people died in Japan after eating Fugu fish.

These days there are special 'Fugu chefs', who know how to prepare Fugu fish safely. It takes around three years to become a Fugu chef, and they can earn a lot of money, so eating in a Fugu restaurant isn't cheap: you can pay up to US$ 200 for a single dish.

So is it now safe to eat Fugu? Well, these days Fugu kills around 10 people a year in Japan. So it isn't completely safe, but it is much safer than it was in 1958.

And it is much safer than driving a car. Around 8,000 people die on Japanese roads. So if you are going to a Fugu restaurant, be careful when you cross the road!
