

Limitations Of Man

Nothing delays in our lives apart from sin and for those who are born again, functioning in God's kingdom, nothing delays more than unwillingness to yield to the holy ghost

Man is limited by so many things, because of his fall, that's why Jesus came for our sake, not only to be free from sin, but to be restored back to the original position he made us for.

I've seen many gone for crusades, I've seen many gone for deliverance, because of their limitations, hindrances, yes, there are spiritual entities that hinders, but today I'll emphasizing on man's main hindrances.

Before any hindrance, our main hindrance is sin, our first and original limitation. Your hindrances might be a generation curse, but first it is sin, and many has gone binding their fathers, mother's and relatives when they themselves are the cause generating shackles which binds them in deeper bondage, the more they pray, the more they become bound, because they call on Jesus with a dead heart. Life attract life, and death attracts death. If you cry out in prayers when your heart is dead, you'll cry out to demons to afflict you even more.

It's as simple as that, unless we choose to allow Jesus deliver us from sin, we'll remain limited. That failure you're having when it is not of God's design in preparation for where He's taking you, is caused by because of sin. Untill you've fought sin and overcome it then can you talk about alters of darkness that shock the light of God in a man's life if there's any. Dealing with alters, alters of darkness hinders a man from going further in his relationship with God, it hinders the manifestation of God in his life. They can only be broken down and replaced by the alter of God through prayers.

You'll need to service your alter to raise offerings unto God through prayers to dismantle every alter not of God. Unless your heart becomes an alter free from contamination, then God's presence breaks into your realm and you begin to walk in His presence constantly, and you what happens when you begin walking in the presence of God, everything about you is life.

We men of God should emphasize more on sin, of what good are healing, blessing, deliverance, if the spirit of sin is not yet erased from the hearts of men.

If the spirit of sin is not casted it. You know a deliverance, healing can be done by anointing, but the spirit of sin won't be casted out if the energy level of the authority of Jesus in the servant of God is not high enough to imposed life into the heart of the oppressed. It's is authority that rules out sin birthed from life. What makes a man not being subjected to sin is; the holy spirit dominating him given on the fullness of God's life in him which brings about deliverance from sin. While some men of God can operate under the authority of Jesus to drive out spirits of sin by imposing life into the hearts of men, you need to spend time on the word to be delivered, for it is the power of God unto salvation, it is His word that birth life.

For us born again in the holy ghost, it is yielding that removes hindrances in our relationship with God. The holy ghost always speaks to us, but we fail to yield in obedience, that's why we need to be filled else, we'll be limited. Still, one thing to be filled, it's another to listen and discern what the holy ghost whispers to your heart, telling you what to drop or what to do .

A time comes when we've obeyed all obedience to attain salvation, we are then ushered into a new dimension of life in God, the true purpose of God in our lives. God's true purpose for us isn't blessing, wealth, healing, yes they're all good, neither is it salvation, because salvation is just a ticket to usher us into that relationship with God we had lost because of sin. Having being saved at the end and restored, we do not merely live our lives as those who wants to be get into heaven immediately, rather a new desire is given by the holy spirit to fulfil the mandate of God in our lives, our true purpose, to be relevant amongst the immortals.

Whatever we do here that ends in the flesh is vanity, unless we unlock the realms of the kingdom, this is the path where relevance lies, where whatever we do every second of our lives is invested on God and they're being recorded with rewards attached for all eternity. Untill you begin to walk in the fulfillment of God's kingdom, you'll have little reward in God's kingdom, you'll be given charge over little, because over there, we'll be crowned kings of different rankings and authorities. Being a child of God and not a son, you'll be clothed, fed and sheltered for sure, however your limitation as a child does not give you access to inheritance and also access to whole house of God.

The moment we've obeyed all obedience, then the holy ghost takes over to build a new relationship, where God's blueprint for His project in our lives will be handed to us. However, if you fail to discern the move of God, if you fail to yield, you'll be considered unworthy. That's why we have few men manifestation the power and glory of God, because most of us couldn't discern the time and even some of us who did discern, failed to yield to the holy ghost to be cultivated until the day of harvest.

The flesh is the greatest limitations that hinders the manifestation and the move of God in our lives. After man has overcome sin, there lies the flesh, it is a spirit that makes us of no value unto God. You can't pray your way out of it, it is dealt with on sacrifice, you must die to the flesh to become clothed with the spirit of God. Unless we are clothed, we cannot become a conduit to harness, contain and function in the fullness of God's life.

God wants to manifest Himself though us, He wants to express Himself, unless we allow Him, He cannot find more expression in this realm, thereby hindering His kingdom advancement. Our failure to yield, is the cause of the dominion of darkness on earth, it is our fault, we must be awakened to pay for what we've done by surrendering to become valiant warriors of God who'll retake the territories overrun by darkness.

If you've not yet entered the kingdom, You've not started, your life begins to count when you begin to invest and function in God's kingdom in whatever way God designs for you. Whatever you do must gives expression to life of God.

Our life eternal begins on earth on acceptance of Jesus to heart, but that life begins to have relevance when we begin to yield in order to break the limiters that hinders us from walking in the fullness of His life. We must be the mediums through which God's life is birthed on earth, this is our true purpose on earth You'll be rewarded by how much life you generated while on earth and how much it was used by God through you.
