Introduction

Welcome to Phonics Bingo Ladders! Your students will learn how to play this engaging game is an instant, but the benefit of their playing it will last a lifetime.

That's because these engaging bingo ladders help children master 25 must-know phonics elements including short vowels, long vowels, silent e, bossy r, blends, and digraphs.

Research shows that repeated exposure to these elements helps lay the foundation for long-term reading success. Why? Systematic practice with key phonemes and letter clusters provides children with a "mental toolbox" they can instantly access to decode the hundreds of words they encounter each day. And decoding agility leads to reading fluency—the ultimate goal for all young learners.

Research also shows that one of the best ways for children to internalize the rules of phonics is through meaningful skill-and-drill activities. That's where this great book comes in.

A few minutes a day or week is all it takes to integrate these bingo ladders into your weekly routine. Treat the whole class to a quick game just before the bell rings. Or place laminated sets in a learning center for small groups or pairs to play independently. Make bingo ladders a classroom habit—and watch your students' reading skills soar!

Skills Covered:

Short a, short e, short i, short o, short u, long a, long e, long i, long o, long u, silent e, bossy r, br, ch, cl; fl, gr, pr, sh, sl, sp, st, sw, th, and tr.

Standards Covered:

The bingo games in this book are designed to support you in meeting these essential K–2 standards:

- ✓ Uses the general skills and strategies of the reading process.
- ✓ Understands level-appropriate sight words and vocabulary.
- ✓ Uses phonemic analysis to decode unknown words.
- ✓ Uses structural analysis to decode unknown words.

Preparing the Games for Play

To make each of the 25 bingo games, follow these simple directions:

1. Choose the phonics element you want to teach, for example long e. Make a photocopy of the six bingo ladders, chart, and cards for that set of words. (Tip: For whole-class play, make duplicate copies of the ladders so that every child gets one.)

2. Cut the bingo ladders and word cards apart along the dashed lines.

3. Optional: Color the ladders to make them extra appealing. Laminate the bingo ladders, charts, and cards to make them extra strong.

4. Purchase or prepare markers for the game such as plastic discs, dried beans, buttons, or the reproducible markers on pages 88 and 89. Also prepare a brown bag or box with the phonics element (for example, "long e") written on it.

5. Store each phonics game in a labeled manila envelope.

How to Play

The games in this book can be played by the whole class, small groups, or pairs. Here are the easy instructions:

1. Choose the phonics element you want to focus on, such as long e. (Tip: You can also use the blank templates on pages 85–87 to teach a phonics elements not included in this book.)

2. Make multiple copies of the bingo ladders for that set and distribute one to each student.

3. Give each student six markers.

4. Invite a student volunteer to act as the caller (or do so yourself). Provide the caller with the Caller's Chart and a brown bag or box filled with the cut-apart word cards.

5. Ask the caller to pull out a card (such as jeep), read it aloud, and place it on the Caller's Chart.

6. When a word appears on a student's board, he/she covers it with a marker.

7. Play continues with the caller reading aloud each word and students covering the words with markers. When a student has covered all six words on his/her ladder, that student shouts, "Phonics Bingo!"

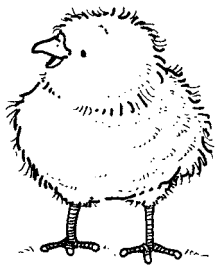

8. The caller should then check the answers to make sure that student is, in fact, a winner. If so, lead students in round of applause. (NOTE: If you are playing with multiples copies of the same bingo ladders, there will be multiple winners.)

Phonics Activities to Extend Learning

Reinforce phonemic awareness with a variety of quick listening activities, such as the following:

Listen Up!

✓ Tell children that you are going to say some words that contain the sound you are studying (slug, slime, slump). You will also say a word that doesn't belong (flat). When they hear the word that doesn't belong, they are to say "Buzzzz!" For a variation, gather children in an open area and invite them to run around you as you shout out words that have the same phonics element. When they hear the word that doesn't belong, they should "freeze."

✓ Make letter cards for a, e, i, o, and u. Distribute a set to each child. Tell children you are going to say a word that contains a short vowel, such as pig. Have children hold up the correct vowel (i). Continue in this manner with other short-vowel words. On another day, repeat the activity with words that contain long vowels.

✓ Choose a digraph such as sh. Tell children you are going to say some words, and they are to tell you if they hear the featured sound at the beginning or end of the word. If they hear the sound at the beginning (as in ship), they should put their fingers to their lips and say "shhh." If they hear the sound at the end (as in dish), they should put their hands together and wiggle them like a fish. Repeat the activity with other digraphs and movements.

✓ For multisyllabic words, tell children you are going to say some words and they are going to clap to show how many syllables, or word parts, they hear. For example, if you say the word grasshopper, they will clap three times: grass (clap)… hop (clap)… er (clap). Repeat the activity with other multisyllabic words.

Silly Sentences

Write a silly sentence on the board that contains several words featuring a target sound, such as tr. Include an underlined word that is one or two letters from being correct, for example: The tricky trolls traveled on a choo-choo grain. Ask a volunteer to change the letter(s) to form a word that makes sense in the sentence (train). Have children erase the old word and write the new one in its place. Continue with other silly sentences.

Phonics Toss

Arrange children into two or three teams. Divide a big sheet of drawing paper into five sections. Write a vowel, blend, or digraph in each section. Then challenge children to a beanbag toss. Have team members take turns tossing the beanbag onto the paper. When the beanbag lands, have the child say the phonics sound in that section and think of a word that begins with that sound. Write the words on the chalkboard, keeping separate columns for each team. Players earn one point for each word.

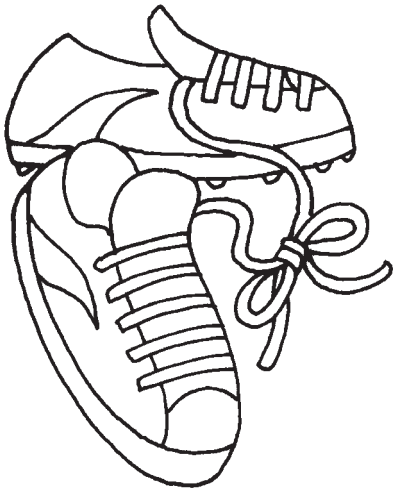

Phonics Pop-Up Game

Select a phonics sound, such as short a. Write words containing that sound on index cards. List the same words on a piece of paper (for you to read). Have children sit in a circle, and give each one a word card. Explain that when they hear their word, they are to pop up on their feet and hold up their card. After all the cards have been read, redistribute them to play again. Encourage children to see if they can improve their speed.

Reading 'Round the Room

Invite children to search around the room for items with a target sound, such as long o. Have children write the name of the object on a sticky note and place it on the object. You can also give children clues, such as "I spy something that is round. It represents the world." (globe) When you are finished working with that particular sound, collect the sticky notes and place them on index cards. Add these to your collection of word cards.

Terrific Tongue Twisters

Choose a target sound to work with, such as sh. Write a tongue twister on the board that features the sound, for example: Shelly Sharp shopped for shiny shoes. Say it once slowly and then challenge children to say it five times fast. When you are done, invite groups of children to invent their own phonics tongue twisters to share with the class.
