GENERAL OVERVIEW OF PATRIMONY, PROPERTY AND PROPERTY LAW

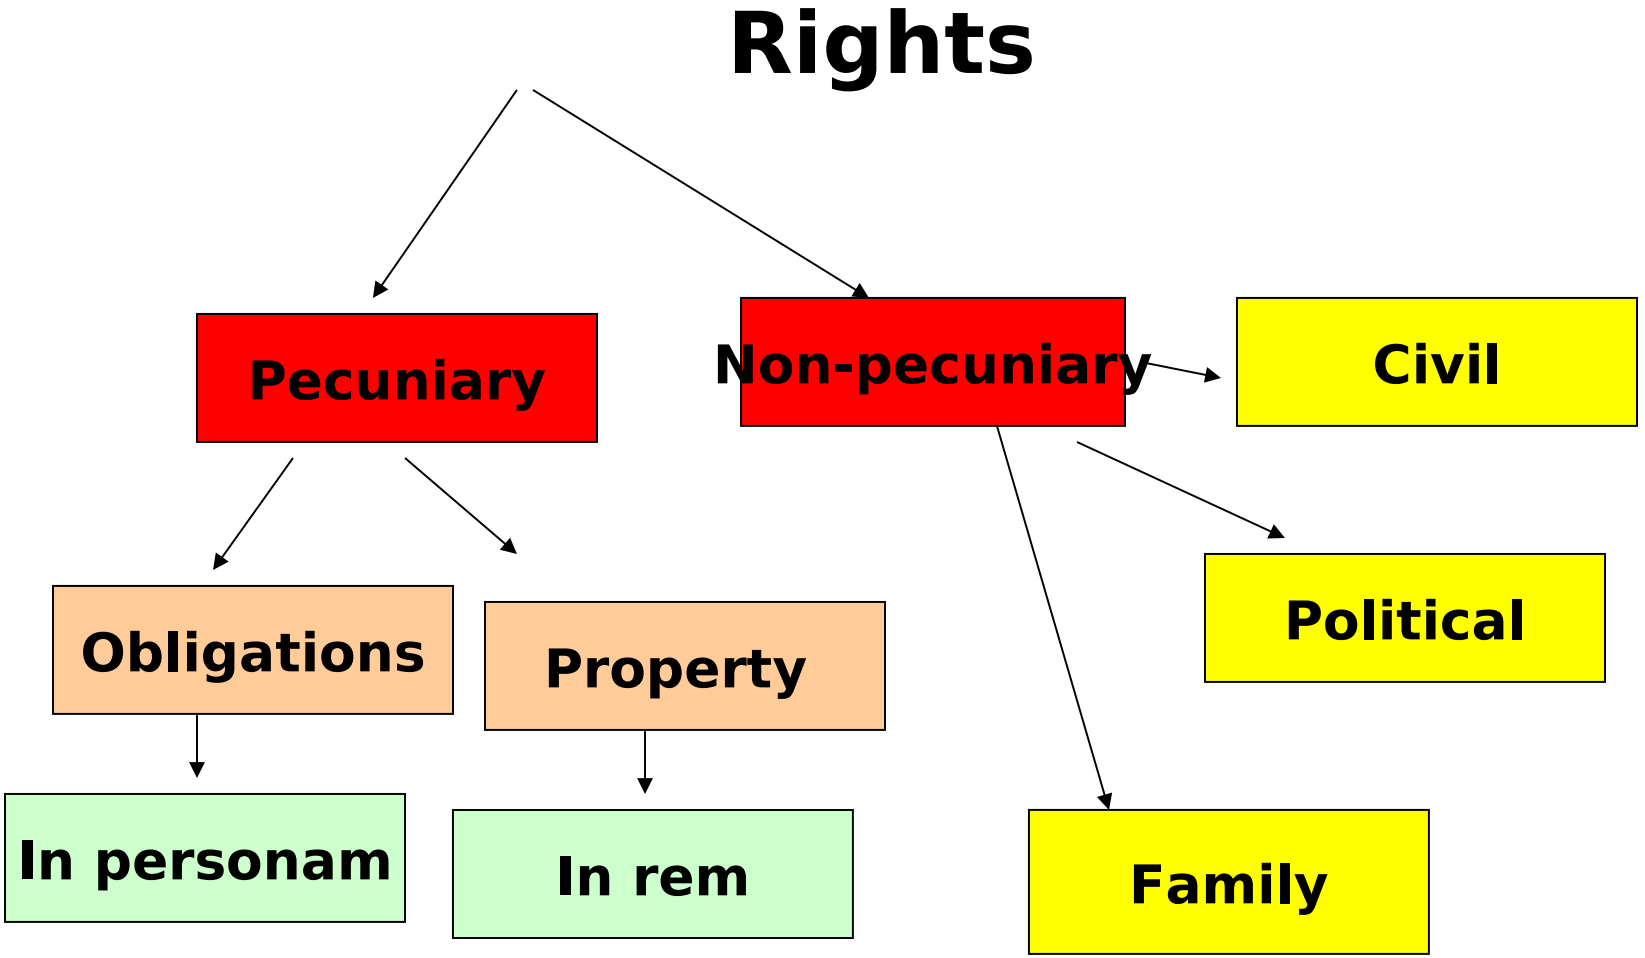

By: Biruk Bekele, Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

Property rights are governed by property law; while contract and tort by law of obligation

Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

Classification of rights

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

Nature and Definition of property

- Property law is one part of Civil law that …..governs the relationship between people(right holder and third parties) and things.
- In this relation ship, rights take a catalyst role (links the two).
- It specifies the objects or things in relation to which property rights may be exercised and their classification, the types of rights which are considered as property, how property rights are acquired, transferred, extinguished, the specific rights and obligations of the property right holder, the obligations of other persons towards the holder.

Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

- Q. Is property a thing or a right?

- Commonly, the term refers to things or objects such as a house, a land, a car, a table, mobile phones…etc.
- It also refers to the right of ownership of a person. Hence, you may commonly hear a person claiming that a certain thing or object is his property, that somebody took his property…etc.

- However, in its narrower and proper legal sense, property may be defined as an exclusive right to:

- control, use, transfer… an object or a thing of economic importance and its fruits,

- exclude all other persons from its use and enjoyment and

- the right to follow the thing and its fruits in the hands of any person who might have unlawfully taken it.

- The term, in its legal usage, refers to the rights a person may have in relation to things or objects that have economic value.
- The things or objects in relation to which property rights are exercised are called objects of property.
- Hence, property refers to rights such as ownership, possession, usufruct, and rights of servitude, recovery, pre-emption and promise of sale.

Recognition of Right to Property :

- Art 40/1/ of the FDRE Constitution which guarantees the right to property provides that property right includes,

  …… unless restricted by law for public purposes, the rights to acquire, use, and transfer things/ tangible or intangible/ of financial value in a manner compatible with other individuals rights.

❖ In addition to what the constitution provides, there are different laws that, in one way or an other, deal with property.

- Civil Laws (like the civil code, the revised family code)
- Lease Laws or urban land laws (laws that govern the land lease hold arrangements in a certain town area…proc. No 721/2011)
- Rural Land Laws (laws that govern the acquisition, transfer…of rural lands in a state).
- Intellectual Property Laws (laws that govern the intellectual rights of musicians, artists, performers, script writers…etc). It is an incorporeal right.

By: Biruk Bekele, Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

- In common law countries property right (ownership)….. is considered as bundle of rights.
- In the bundle of rights theory, ownership of real property is compared to a bundle of sticks.
- Each stick represents a distinct and separate right, which may be…

the right - to use the thing,
- to lease/rent it,
- to sell it,
- to use it as a collateral for debts
- to give it away by way of…donation, gift etc
- dispose/destroy it

By: Biruk Bekele, Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

Right in rem Vs. Right in personam

- Depending upon the sources of the right, Patrimonial right is classified as:

  1. A right in rem

- It is an interest assessable in terms of money, which is dependant upon a thing (res).

- It is ascertainable/protected against the whole world at large, thus, it confer a direct and immediate power or authority over a thing.

By: Biruk Bekele, Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

- Such right is a wider one in that it can be defended against any person.

- Rights in-rem create an obligation, on all other persons, ……to refrain from any act of interference…in the use and enjoyment of a thing one owns or possesses.

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

2. Rights in Personnum

Is as well a right assessable in terms of money….but it is ascertainable only against a particular person.

- Such rights emanate from:

❖ Contract (when a person enters into contractual arrangements concerning a thing the right emanates)

❖ Extra-contract (this happens when a person incurs liability either vicariously, due to his/her fault or strict liability; but, in the absence of contractual agreements)

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

Consider the following examples:

- If you own a car/laptop, you have the right to exclude every person in the world.
- If you rent a car/ lease your agricultural land to Abebe, however, you can exercise your right only against Abebe. (e.g. in case of non performance of the contract)
- If Kebede has caused damage on your property by the car he is driving or his dog bite your little child. What would be your ground to sue Kebede?

Classification of property

Necessity for classification of property

1. The economic and social values attached to things are not the same, i.e., certain things are more important than others are.

   Hence, it seems un fair to treat a table and a house in one group.

2. It helps the legislator to enact special rules governing the particular category of things.

   Hence, we need to have special rules that govern immovable and special movable things.

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

Property may be classified as:

- Tangible Vs intangible
- Movable Vs immovable
- Accessories Vs intrinsic
- Public Vs Private Domain

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

Tangible Vs Intangible

- This classification is based on the physical or material nature of things or objects,…….. that can be perceived by the senses and those which cannot be so perceived.

- Tangible things are things that have material or physical existence and unity and hence, can occupy space and can be seen or touched.

E.g. Table /Chair

- Intangible Things

  are things that do not have material existence.

E.g. Copy Right

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

Movable Vs Immovable

According to Art. 1126 things (goods) are either movable or immovable.

The basis of this classification is :

- Physical mobility or immobility

Movable things ..... which can move by themselves or be moved by man..... without losing their individual character. Art.1127

E.g. an ox, a car, table

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

- Immovable Things …….cannot move by themselves or cannot be moved by man….. unless they are first dismantled or demolished/lose their individual character
- According to Art. 1130 ….Land and buildings shall be deemed to be Immovable
- “Land” includes the ground and any fixture to the land.(trees, fence etc)
- Trees and crops are also intrinsic, part of the immovable which have no separate existence Art.1133

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

- Special movable things:

These are movable things by nature but to which the law attaches characteristics of immovable things.

The law does so mainly because of the importance attached to these types of things.

The rules governing the acquisition, transfer and proof of rights…….. over ordinary movable things/ also called chattels/ shall not apply to special movable things, because they are governed by the rules applicable to immovable.

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

E.g. The transfer of ownership right of a table is different from transferring a vehicle/car.

Because, among other things, it requires registration of transferee in the register kept by the relevant government organ… and issuance of a title deed in the name of the transferee similar to an immovable good. /See Art. 1185 and Art.1186 of the Civil Code. /

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

- Movables by anticipation:

These are immovable things by nature but which the law consider them as movable things.

According to Art.1133(2), trees and crops which are considered as intrinsic elements of land, and hence immovable, ……..but they will be considered as distinct movable things or chattels where they are the subject to contracts for their separation.

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

- This rule is also applicable to the component parts of a building which is going to be demolished and its intrinsic elements…… such as the doors, windows, corrugated iron sheets, pipes and electrical appliances…….. are considered as separate movable objects even before the house is demolished.

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

Immovable by Nature Vs Immovable by Destination

- Immovable by nature ……. are things that cannot be moved from one place to another at all…….. or that cannot be moved by man without being divided in to several parts or with out losing their individual character .

  E.g. Land, building

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

- Immovable by destination-

  Movable by nature, but since it is permanently destined to serve the immovable (for its economic exploitation), it becomes also immovable.

  E.g. horses, cattle, tractors are movable things. However, if they are intended to facilitate the use and exploitation of a land, then they will be considered as immovable things by their destination.

- E.g. if you sale a house what things does it include? what about a hotel ?

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

- What advantages in the classifications (mov vs immov)?

A. The mechanisms of acquisition of ownership differs. [E.g Acquisition via occupation Art. 1151, PIGF Art 1161-1167]

B. The mechanism of transfer of rights differs in the two.[E.g See Arts 1185, 2274,2444(1), 1723, 2877 – 2879]

C. To determine which court has the jurisdiction to entertain a case relating to the a thing. [See Art 24 Vs 25 of the Civil Prc. code]

D. Establishing a security against the two differs mortgage [Art 3041 & ff]- for immovable things; while pledge [Art-2825 & ff] for movable things.

E. Different period of limitations to ascertain rights on the things. [See Arts-1165 & 1192 vs Art1168]

F. Different scenarios of transferring a right in the two.

G. Different mechanism of proof of ownership [See Arts 1193 vs 1194-1196]

H. The rule of paterna paternis materna maternis / See Art 849 of the Civil Code/

Intrinsic Vs. Accessory

- Intrinsic element

  Art. 1132 defines intrinsic elements of goods as things(movable or immovable), which are regarded by custom???????? as forming part of a thing, or which is materially united to a thing and cannot be detached there from without destroying or damaging such thing.

- If detached however, it may have its own independent existence

  E.g. Trees, pipe lines, crops, etc.

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

Examples:

1. A hay-tucker attached to a tractor may be considered by farmers as forming part of the tractor /custom of the farming community/.

2. A house in a farm may also be considered as forming part of the land (custom).

3. Water pipes in a building…… cannot be detached from the building without damaging the floor in which they are buried.

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

The treatment of things as intrinsic elements will have the following effects:

- Rights on or dealings relating to the principal thing shall include the intrinsic elements unless the parties have agreed expressly that such rights or dealings shall not apply to them. Art 1131

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

- A thing that becomes an intrinsic element of another thing ceases to exist as a distinct movable thing. Arts. 1134(1)
- If the thing became an intrinsic part of the principal object, third parties right shall be extinguished.(but they can claim reimbursement of the value of such thing and compensation) Art. 1134(2)(3)

Example

- Assume ‘A’ used a sack of cement that belongs to ‘B’ while constructing his house with out the consent of the owner (B). After constructing the house, he transferred it to ‘C’ up on a contract of sale. After a while, ‘B’ come to know that his cement has been used to the construction of the house.

  Q. What will be his remedy in this particular scenario?

By: Biruk Bekele, Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

Accessory-immovable by destination

Art. 1136- Anything which the possessor or owner of a thing has permanently destined for the use of such a thing shall be deemed to be an accessory.

- Relation of destination…(permanently destined for the use of such thing..)

E.g. CD player and a car etc.

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

The treatment of things as accessories of another thing shall have the following effects:

- In the absence of an express provision to the contrary, rights on and dealings relating to the principal thing shall apply to the accessory. Similar with intrinsic elements Art. 1135.

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

- Temporary separation of the thing shall not, in any way, terminate the character of accessories. Art 1137.
- Rights of an owner or possessor of a thing, which is considered as an accessory of another thing shall not be affected by its treatment as such.(different from the case of intrinsic)

- However, the owner or possessor of the accessory may not claim it from third parties in good faith who have acquired the principal together with the accessory…… unless his rights to the accessory are evidenced by a deed dated prior to the date when it is so destined. Art 1138/2/.

By: Biruk Bekele,
Lecturer,School of
Law ,Samara University

- Consider the following example:
- Assume that Zeru owned a car. He borrowed a CD player from Goshu to play music on the car. After some days, Kefale bought both the car and the CD player from Zeru believing that both things belong to Zeru through a contract concluded on December, 10, 2006 E.C. Later on, Goshu awared of the dealing between Zeru and Kefale that included his CD player. He instituted a court action against Kefale claiming that the CD player should be returned to him.

Based on the facts above, answer the following questions:

A. Do you think that Goshu will be successful? Why/ why not? (5%).

B. Would your answer be different if Goshu can support his claim with a written document that embodied the CD player to the car on September 20, 2006 E.C agreed with Zeru? Why/ why not? (5%).

- Finally, the owner of a principal thing…… may terminate the character of accessory of such thing at any time, …… but he cannot do so if a third party has already acquired a right in relation to the principal thing with the belief that he will benefit from the accessory. Art. 1139

THEORIES REGARDING ORIGIN OF PROPERTY

A. THE POSITIVIST THEORY

- According to the positivist theory, law is nothing but the command of the sovereign that is enacted for reasons of public policy, protection of individual rights, promote the general welfare, increase social wealth or maximize social utility.

Cont….

- Property and law are born together and die together. Before laws were made, there was no property. Take away laws, and property ceases.
- Similarly, E. Jenks argues that private property is a creation of the state.

Cont…

- However, this theory is criticized on the ground that the state and private property are the results of the same social and economic forces and we can hardly say one is the creation of the other.
- John Locke argues that the state is the result of a social contract in which the society transferred some of their rights to the state for the purpose of protection their rights including the right to property.

B. THE HEGELIAN THEORY

- Hegel concludes that the person becomes a real self only by engaging in a property relationship with something external. Such a relationship is the goal of the person.
- Hence, private property originated in the person's attempt to actualize his/her free will (desire), i.e., when someone extends his will to external things he makes that thing a part of himself.

Cont…

- Similarly, Professor Margaret Jane Radin has argued that to be a person, an individual needs some control over resources in the external world.
- The premise underlying the personhood perspective is that to achieve proper self-development-- to be a person--an individual needs some control over resources in the external environment.

Cont…

- For example, if you express your generosity by giving away fruits that grow on your orchard, then if the orchard ceases to be your property, you are no longer able to express your character. Therefore, private property needs to be protected.

C. THE OCCUPATION/ FIRST POSSESSION/ THEORY

- Private property is come in to existence when the man began to physically control and exclude others. [Physical manifestation]

D. LABOR OR ENTITLEMENT THEORY

- The earth and all that is there in is given to men for the support and comfort of their being. It is common for everyone.
- The labor of his body and the work of his hands, we may say, are properly his. So where a person appropriates a land or any one of its fruits, he has mixed his labor with, and joined to it, such thing is his own and there by makes it his property.

- It is this labor that puts a distinction between those that are appropriated and those which are common.
- In other words, the difference between things owned privately and those, which are commonly owned by all human kind, lies in the fact that ones labor has been added to on.

Cont…

- However, this theory has certain problems,

1. In the absence of prior theory of ownership, it is not self evident that one owns even his/her own labor that is mixed with something,
2. The labor theory does not provide guidance in determining the scope o f the right that one establishes by mixing one's labor with something else. Suppose I pour a can of tomato juice in to the ocean: do I now own the sea?

THEORIES REGARDING THE JUSTIFICATION OF PRIVATE PROPERTY

- The theories discussed above in connection with the origin of private property are also used to justify or condemn the existence of the institution.

A) Occupation

- Justify the existence of private property on the ground that the first occupier should be rewarded and property acquired in such a manner is ethically justifiable.

B) Labor theory

- Private property is the result of individual labor because industry (hard work) should be encouraged. The whole effect ensures economic growth.

C) The Utilitarian theory

- Justifiable because it increases human happiness.

D. Hegelian Theory

- Property is a part of the personality of the owner and the protections provided for property of the person are protections for the person.

E) Marxist Theory

- Property is the evil that has to be abolished. Because, private property served and is serving as a means of exploitation of the slave by the slave owner.

Chapter two

Possession

ይዞታ

By: Biruk Bekele, Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

Objectives:

- Understand the meaning of possession,theories and it basic features that distinguish it from a mere holding.
- Understand the legal effects of possession
- Know protections provided by the law to the possessor.
- Identify the modes of transfer of possession.

THEORIES OF POSSESSION

1. SAVIGNY'S/CLASSICAL/ THEORY

- Savigny, a German jurist argued that possession consisted of two ingredients, corpus possessions, i.e., effective control and animus domino, i.e., the intention to hold as an owner.
- Possession=corpus [Physical Control] + Animus [Mental element, i.e. the intention to hold as an owner]

Cont…

- The tenant, the borrower, and the agent are not possessors in Roman law because, they did not intend to hold in their own right.
- However, this theory failed to explain a scenario in which a certain individual may be considered as possessor with having animus such as pledgee & usufructuary.

2. JEHRING'S THEORY

- According to this theory a possessor is a man who, in relation to a thing resembles an owner, i.e., who has direct physical control of such thing.
- This theory explains those cases, which were difficult to Savigny such as the pledgee and the usufructuary that were given possession rights.

- However, it fails to explain the cases where the law denies possessory right to those who are in exclusive physical control of a thing such as a borrower, a tenant and a depositee.

3. SALMOND'S THEORY

He started by distinguishing between possession in fact and possession in law. He claims that there is only one conception and that is possession in fact which is possession in truth and in fact, and possession in law is a legal fiction. He then distinguished between possession of physical objects, which he called corporeal possession and possession of rights, which he

- The relation of the possession to other persons a reasonable expectation of non-interference in the use of it is required to be possessor of corporeal objects.

- Pitfall: Critiques argue that expectation of non-interference is not necessary for the continuation of possession. For example, a man continues to possess his pocketbook although a thief is pursuing him that he would interfere with his use of it in a

Which theory of possession do you think is adopted by the Ethiopian Civil Code?

By: Biruk Bekele, Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

Definition of Possession

- The term 'possession' may be defined as……. the detention and enjoyment of a thing ……by a person himself or through another person in his name.

- It refers to the relation of a person to a thing over which he may, at his pleasure, exercise such control as the character of the thing permits to the exclusion of other persons

- The reading of Art. 1140-1147 shows that there are two elements to fulfill for a possessor.
  - Physical control of the thing (corpus element)
  - Intent to use the thing (Animus element)

  These two cumulative elements make distinction between a mere holder and a possessor

- Art. 1140. - Definition

  Possession consists in the actual(effective) control which a person exercises over a thing.

- Art. 1141 Direct and indirect possession

  *The possessor may exercise his control over a thing ……..directly or through a third party who holds such a thing.

Hence, there are two types of possession as expressly written in the very title of Art. 1141.

These are direct possession and indirect possession.

Possession..

- Art. 1147(1) on its part proclaims that "… he who began to possess on behalf of another person shall be regarded as a mere holder."

  E.g. Borrower of a thing, warehouse service

- What distinguishes a possessor from a mere holder is clearly his attitude towards that object of property.

- If one holds it for himself, the holder is at the same time a possessor, but if one holds it for another, the holder is simply treated as a mere holder, a detentor.

Possessors .....E.g. lessee, use-fractures

A Mere holders.....E.g. agents, guards,

Acquisition of possession

- The acquisition of possession is realized if the two constitutive elements concur,
  - The physical control of the thing (corpus) and
  - The intention to control a thing for ones own interest/ animus/.

- In Ethiopia, possession may be acquired through different means, such as
  - Contract
  - Inheritance
  - By operation of the law and so on.

Transfer of Possession

Three Types of Delivery

A. Actual Delivery

- As a matter of principle a thing may be transferred to others by delivery of the thing(transfer of possession/thing)-

  E.g. Book Art. 1143,

B. Symbolic Delivery

- the thing may be transferred by delivery of a document (the document which represent the thing)

  E.g. House & car via keys

- Documents representing the thing such as a bill of lading, a ware house goods deposit certificate [Art. 1144

C. Constructive Delivery

- When only Animus is delivered and corpus remains with original possessor. glance at Arts1145
- Example; sale of fungibles<substitutable goods> see also Arts 1747,1778

Defect of Possession

- Possession may be affected by flaws either in the mental element/ the animus /or in the nature of the physical acts / the corpus / through which possession has been acquired or continued.

- A defective possession shall not produce the effects that are normally associated with possession.

- Art 1146/1/ provides that defective possession shall not give rise to any right.

- A possession is defective if it is secretive or dubious (Art. 1146) and precarious.

- Art.1146(2) – Secretive/ Clandestine……..unknown to the outside that the person is the possessor
- Art.1146(3) - Dubious……. if it becomes doubtful about the true possessor i.e. whether the person is holding in his own name or on behalf of another

- Possession of a person is affected by the defect of precariousness….. if the person does not have a right of ownership in relation to the object he holds.

- Precarious possessions refer to the possession of those who hold a thing for another on basis of an agreement at the expiration of the agreement, they must return the thing

  This shows that it is only an owner who has a certain and secure possession.(no presumed defects)

- Others such as usefractuary, lessee, tenant, pledgee have temporary right, after some time (e.g. termination of contract) they will return the thing to the owner.

Cont…

- The other ground is violence. It may render possession defective. See Arts-1148 & 1149 of the Civil Code
- Non-use???: Our civil code keep silent. However, in land proclamation [Rural Land Proc.] it is one ground that make possession defective and hence, one ground for termination of right.

Effects of Possession

- Possession may create ownership either by occupation, i.e., by taking control of res-nullius/ a thing without owner/ or through the expiration of a period of acquisitive prescription. [See Art 1151 and 1168]

- Possession is a prima facie evidence of ownership, and he who would disturb a possessor must show either title/ownership or a better possessory right.[see 1193 of the Civil Code]

- Possession is the basis for certain remedies because the law protects a possessor.

Even a wrongful possessor shall not be dispossessed without due process of the law and with out proving the existence of a better title. See- Art 1206

Why protection?

1. To protect and promote constitutional rights of individual and thereby promote democracy. / See Art 40 of the FDRE Constitution/
2. To ensure peace and security.
3. To appreciate industriousness.

Protections accorded to possession

- A possession might be violated for certain reasons. To protect the interventions, the law provides different mechanisms.

- Two methods to protect one's possession are :
  - Possessory action
  - Use of Force
- Possessory actions are……. legal actions or suits instituted by a possessor…. if his right is affected.

- According to art 1149 (1) this action may be instituted by a possessor [even a holder] if one's possession is:
  - Deprived (dispossessed or taken away/evicted)
  - Interfered with (use and enjoyment)

- The application must be either for:
  - restoration of the thing or
  - cessation of the interference and
  - claim for compensation if any.

Eg.1 The Kebele forcefully evicted a tenant(without any justifiable reason)

Eg.2 Land lord repeatedly required the tenant to leave the house, even threatened him to use force.

E.g. 3 Art 1225…to refrain from causing nuisance, smoke, unpleasant smell.

Possessory Action Period of Limitations

- Possessory action of any type shall be barred if not brought within a period of one year/ the Amharic version provides two years/ from the day of the usurpation or interference. Art 1149/2/
- However, he may still recover the thing by instituting action for restitution under Art.1206 provided that
  - he can prove his right of ownership and as long as he has not lost his ownership through extinctive prescription. Art 1168 and 1189.

Cont…

- What is the difference b/n possessory action and negatory action?

- Negatory actions are based ownership or title, where as possessory actions are those that are based exclusively on possession with out touching the basis of the title.
- Possessory actions include actions to retain possession, actions in restraint of works by neighbors and actions to recover possession.

Cont…

- Things and interests with regard to which a possessory action can be brought are corporal immovable, their usufruct, servitudes and immovable rights of enjoyment and use.
- However, since possession of corporeal movable things /chattels/ is equivalent to ownership, the action applicable to them is negatory actions, i.e., actions based on title or ownership and that are intended to recover the same.

Attention!

- The possessor loses his right to require the restoration of the thing or cessation of interference where he fails to institute legal action with in the period of two years.
- However, he may still recover the thing by instituting action for restitution/ negatory action/ under Art 1206 of the Civil Code provided that he can prove his right of ownership and as long as he has not lost his ownership through extinctive prescription.

Use of Force

- Use of force……. is the other means provided by the law for the protection of possession.
- Art. 1148, the possessor or holder has the right to defend his possession……. by using a reasonable force

  - to prevent a person who intends to dispossess him or

  - to retake possession of a thing which has been taken away from him by force or which has been stolen from him provided that the usurper is caught……. in the act or when running away.
- E.g. Using force against a thief, intruder etc

Loss of Possession Right

1. Non-use [Rural Land Law Proc]
2. Consent of the possessor

2.1 Sell

2.2 Relinquish/ See Art 1164/

3. Loss of the object/ Arts-1151,1152,1153/
4. Law/ Legal Declaration / Arts-1192,1168/

Chapter 3

Individual Ownership Right

Session Objectives

- Define ownership and its component elements.
- Identify the ways by which ownership right is acquired.
- Identify the restrictions on the right of ownership.
- Understand the grounds and modes of transfer of ownership.
- Understand the grounds on which right of ownership is extinguished.

Meaning

- Ownership is defined (Art. 1204) as the widest right that may be exercised over a corporeal thing.

- Owner has the following rights
  - Use and enjoyment (use, rent/lease, mortgage, pledge, …)
  - Right of possession in exclusion of others (non-interferences, discontinuity, restriction)
  - Right of alienation (sale, inherit, donate, destroy)
  - The right to leave or abandon the thing or its fruits at will.
- In its Roman context ownership right is explained as :
  - Usus (use and enjoyment)
  - Fructus (collect fruit…..rent..)
  - Abusus (Transfer/sale, destroy)

By: Biruk Bekele, Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

Ownership Rights is said to be:

- Exclusive because these rights are in principle available only to the owner

- Relatively "perpetual" since these rights are neither extinguished by non-usage nor limited by duration. [Art 1206]

- It is said to be absolute b/c the owner may do as he likes with the thing that is his own. But, this does not mean there are no limitations up on ownership right.

Forms of ownership

1. ULTIMATE O/P

- Other persons hold the rights of present enjoyment temporarily through contracts such as usufruct or lease and the residual magnetic core is left to the owner.

2. COMPLETE/BENEFICIAL O/P

- the owner enjoys all the rights and privileges emanating from it.

Restriction of Ownership Right

- RULE: O/P right may not be divided nor restricted except in accordance with law
- GROUNDS OF RESTRICTION
- Public Policy:
  - Limitation on exercise of o/p rights b/c of health, safety and security: animals with contagious diseases (2369 & 2373), Sale of medicines, alcohol, tobacco, dynamites
  - Restriction on acquisition of o/p right: land and natural resources, cultural heritages, antiquities, narcotics, guns,
- Contractual ground:
  - Right of preemption[Art 1410(2)], promise of sale[Art 1410(1)], contractual servitude

Cont…

- Mutual interest of neighborly estate
  - excavations or ditches (1210 and 1225)
  - nuisances to a neighbor by noise, smoke, gases odor (1225/26)
  - use of water (1245, 1246 (1))
  - allowing access to land (1217-24, 1249(2), 1252, 1253)

PROPERTY RIGHTS WITH REGARD TO LAND AND WATER

- Under Art 40 of the FDRE Constitution land/ both rural and urban/ is declared to be the property of the state of Ethiopia and its peoples.
- Regarding property rights in relation to water resources, Arts 1255 and 1447 of the Civil Code provide that waterways (rivers), lakes and underground accumulation of water shall be deemed to form part of a public domain, i.e., they can not be privately owned, alienated, or acquired through possession in good faith, occupation. See also Art 1454 and 1455. Furthermore, according to Art 40(3) of FDRE Constitution water resources, which include both surface and underground water, are common property of the peoples and state of Ethiopia.

Cont…

- Hence, the type of property right that may be had in relation to water resources is a use right provided by the Water Resources Management Proclamation No 197/2000. However, water shall be private property where it is collected in a man made reservoir, basin or cistern (an underground container that is used for collecting & storing rainwater) from which it does not flow naturally. See Art 1229 of the Civil Code.

SCOPE OF RIGHT OF OWNERSHIP/USE OF LAND

- Possession right ; not ownership right over land at the current legal system of Ethiopia can be exercised as per Art 40(3) of the FDRE Constitution.
- The possessor, for instance, can exercise the following rights: See Arts- 1209,1255(2), 1211,1212,1213,1216...

Acquisition of Ownership

- A person may acquire property rights in a variety of ways.
- For systematic purposes, a distinction is made in civil law jurisdictions between original and derivative acquisition.

1. Derivative Acquisition;

- refers to acquisition right of ownership through transfer from one person to another.
- It is a mode of acquisition in which the right of the transferee is dependent on the right of the transferor.
- Here, no one can transfer a better title or right than he has!!!

Cont…

- It can happen by:
  - Transfer by juridical acts
    - Sale (2266-2426)
    - Donation inter vivos (2427-2470)
    - Donation mortis causa (Will) (826-1125)
  - Legal (E.g. intestate succession)
  - Judicial (E.g., attachment for execution of judgment)

2. Original Acquisition

- This mode of acquisition involves the creation of new property right, which is independent of any preexisting rights over the same thing.
- It is possible for a non-owner to transfer a perfect right of ownership. E.g. PIGF

e.g. Occupation, Possession in Good Faith, Accession and Usucaption/ Acquisitive Prescription

1. Occupation:

- This mode of acquisition of ownership is not applicable to immovable property. Because,
- Art 1194 of the Civil Code makes immovable things without an owner the property of the state. Furthermore, Art 40/3/ of the FDRE Constitution makes land and all natural resources the property of the state and the peoples of Ethiopia and hence will not be acquired via occupation.

- However, the law attributes ownership to the finder after a lapse of certain period of time(after ten years Art 1192) and completion of certain requirements such as announcement of the find or report to the authorities.

- It seems this no longer works for land. But, it works for buildings.

- E.g.1 In a case between Ato Hailu H/Giorgis and Wro Yeshi H/Mariam in Civil File No 29575 at the Federal First Instance Court,
- The defendant possesses a house since 1968 that belonged to the plaintiff and paid tax in her own name.
- The plaintiff demanded recovery of house (after more than 30 years) but the defendant claimed that she becomes an owner by virtue of Art. 1168

SERVITUDES

Art.1350-1385

By: Biruk Bekele, Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

Section Objectives

At the end of the unit, students are expected to:

- define the concept of servitude.
- understand the purpose of servitude and its drawbacks.
- identify the nature and various types of servitude.
- identify the sources of servitude.
- identify the rights and duties of the owners of the servient tenement and the dominant tenement.
- understand the grounds on which servitude is extinguished.

Definition

- Servitude is a right in rem / real right/ over a definite plot of land, called the servient tenement and annexed to another plot of land, called the dominant tenement.

- It can also be defined as an encumbrance or restriction on the right of ownership of the owner of the servient tenement for the benefit of the owner of dominant tenement.
- Servitude is a right that can only exist in relation to two or more plots of land belonging to two or more persons. However, these lands are not required to be adjacent Art 1359(1) (2)

- As any real right, not only the burden of servitude runs with the servient land its benefit also runs with the dominant land…. unlike use and habitation. Art 1361

PURPOSE S OF SERVITUDE

- A person may be unable to make the most advantageous use of his land or building…… without some rights over the land belonging to his neighbors.

E.g. The most convenient access to the high way from one part of once land may lie across the land of his neighbor

- However, the law tries to restrict the number and extent of encumbrances or servitudes on the servient tenement in the different ways.

E.g. the servitude only to be used for originally intended purpose.

SOURCES OF SERVITUDE

- Servitudes arising from contracts. Art 1362/1/ &Art.1363(shall be made in writing)

For such contract to have a legal effect on third parties it shall be registered . Art.1364

- Servitude may also arise from the will of the deceased person who divides his land holding between two or more persons. Art 1362/2/

- Acquisitive Prescription. Art 1366

  servitude may arise from enjoyment of the servient tenement for a period of ten years.

  a servitude acquired through acquisitive prescription shall not affect third parties…… unless its acquisition is registered in the register of immovable properties

- Servitude may also arise out of the provisions of the law.

  As a matter of principle the law guarantees individual holdings from any possible encroachments through providing the right to bring possessory action and to use reasonable force.

However, in exceptional cases it provides rights for other while imposing restrictions on the land holder.

Examples:

Art. 1217(necessary trespass)

Art. 1218(repair of walls)

Art. 1372/2/ (the right of way to a well) etc

Rights and Duties of the Parties

- It shall be determined by the instrument creating the servitude.
- where the servitude is created by contract or will
- where it is created by acquisitive prescription it shall be determined by the manner in which the servitude is created or enjoyed in good faith over a long period of time, i.e., usage.
- where the instrument creating the servitude is not enforceable the provisions of the Civil Code shall determine the rights and duties of the parties. Art 1370

Rights and Duties of the Servient Tenement

- He has obligation to allow the owner/holder of the dominant tenement to use his land for the purpose for which the servitude is created ……..and refrain from exercising certain rights inherent in ownership/holding…..such as the right to prevent other persons from entering his land or using his land. Art 1359

By: Biruk Bekele, Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

- He also has the obligation to perform works related to the construction, maintenance and repair of the means necessary for the exercise of rights of servitude by the owner of the dominant tenement, where under the instrument creating the servitude, he has undertaken such obligation. Art 1373/2/

- The owner/holder of the servient tenement has the right to redeem the servitude where he can prove that inconveniences there are higher than the benefits derived by the dominant tenement. Art 1383

- The owner/holder of the servient tenement may require that the servitude be exercised on such other part of the servient tenement as will be equally convenient to the owner of the dominant tenement.

  Arts 1380,1220(3)

Rights and Duties of the Dominant Owner/holder

- The owner/holder of the dominant tenement must exercise his rights in a manner,…….. which causes minimum inconvenience or damage to the servient tenement. Art.1375(1)

- He may not make any alteration that would increase the burden of the servient tenement and he shall exercise in accordance with the instrument which has created the servitude. Art 1375(2)

- Where the dominant tenement is divided, the right of servitude shall continue for the benefit of each parcel.

However, such division shall not increase the burden of the servient tenement

Art 1377.

- Where the servient tenement is divided, the dominant tenement shall have the right of servitude on each of the new parcels of land. Art 1378 (1)

If it is feasible only on one of the parcels the other parcel shall be relieved. Art 1378 (2)

Types of Servitudes

Urban Servitudes Vs Rustic/ Rural Servitudes

Urban servitudes are servitudes created and enjoyed in urban areas/on urban land.

These include right of view, right of way and the various other servitudes arising out of the law such as the right to install water, gas or electrical lines.

By: Biruk Bekele, Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

Rural servitudes are those types of servitudes created and enjoyed in rural areas.

such as right of way or right to cross a parcel of land on foot, with animals, across fields, rights of pasture, watering animals, wood-cutting, irrigation. Art 1371

By: Biruk Bekele, Lecturer,School of Law ,Samara University

Continuous Vs Discontinuous Servitudes

This classification is based on whether or not the right of servitude can continue without continuous human intervention.

- Continuous servitude is a servitude that continues without continuous human intervention.

E.g. Servitudes of view and drawing water are considered as continuous servitudes.

- Discontinuous servitude is a servitude that cannot exist without a continuous human intervention.

  Therefore, for such kind of servitude to continue to exist, the beneficiary must continue to use /exercise the right created by it.

E.g. Servitudes of way or passage, pasturing cattle and servitude of extracting quarry.. etc. Art 1382

- This indicates that apparent servitudes are discontinuous servitudes ……since such servitude shall be extinguished……if the owner of the dominant tenement fails to exercise his rights for a period of ten years. Art.1381(3)

Apparent Vs Non-apparent Servitudes
