SELECTION PROCESS

SSB interview is conducted by Services Selection Board for the recruitment of officers. SSB interview is a five days process with include two stage of testing. Only, when a candidate clears Stage I testing goes for Stage-II testing. Lets talk more about what is SSB interview and what are the different SSB boards and tests conducted by them.

The aim of five day testing is to assess personality of candidates by three pronged approach – Manasa, Vacha & Karmna, Translating into your thoughts, speech and deed/actions. These three approaches are termed as techniques and they are assessed by Psychologist, Interviewing Officer and Group testing Officer independently. The summation of three approaches in conference gives inputs for identifying a potential and a trainable Armed Forces leader.

If you want to be an officer in Army, Navy or Air force, you have to attend SSB interview and clear it followed by your medical examination.

REPORTING DAY

RECEPTION

The day of reporting at the SSB board, followed by document check and form filling[PIQ forms]. You are suppose to report at the place mentioned in the call letter, mostly you are asked to report at MCQ [Moment Control Office]. You will not find any difficult in doing so because there are many other candidates who reports on the same day, so you may find one or two.

[For some entries reporting day and Screening day are same, please follow your call letters for correct information]

Note: For some entries reporting day and screening[PPDT] are same, when your reporting time is early like 0700 hours then your screening day will be on the very first day(reporting day).

Candidates arriving late or by road/air should proceed directly on their own and report to the SSB. On your arrival at the SSB, you will be given sufficient time to settle down.

OPENING ADDRESS

The first organised event at the SSB is the opening address. The duty officer gives and introductory talk, explains matters of administration arrangements, the DOs and Don'ts at the SSB and the routine at SSB in the brief for the next five days. Listen carefully to what he says.

DOCUMENTATION

After the opening address Documentation check is the next event. You are required to produce your original certificates for verification and fill up certain forms like the TA form on the reporting day itself. You will also be allotted chest numbers for your Stage I testing.

DAY 1 – STAGE 1

OIR TEST - Officer Intelligence Rating Test

Morning of the Day 1 begins with the Officer Intelligence Rating (OIR) Test. The test would start early, so ensure that you have a good night sleep and wake up in time to be ready for the tests. The tests themselves include verbal and non-verbal tests which require simple and analytical reasoning. Officer Intelligence Rating Test is conducted on the first day of the SSB selection procedure along with PPDT. This test features verbal and non-verbal questions which are not very tough but require presence of mind and speed. There are about forty to sixty questions and the given time varies with the number and the difficulty of the questions.

The test is divided into two parts: Verbal reasoning and Non-Verbal reasoning.

Verbal reasoning

- Spelling
- Grammar
- Sentence Completion

PPDT - PICTURE PERCEPTION AND DISCUSSION TEST

PPDT or Picture perception and discussion test is one of the two tests conducted in stage one testing of SSB interview, the another one is officer intelligence test. Officer intelligence test consist of written test in verbal and non-verbal questions which is very easy and do not count much for screening, but PPDT plays an important role in screening.

Now we will discuss about PPDT, what is PPDT and how to write and speak during PPDT. This would help fresher who certainly miss or get confuse during PPDT story writing, narration and group discussion.

What is PPDT?

- PPDT stands for picture perception and discussion test, as the name suggests, you need to write a story on the picture shown, narrate it and then discuss among group members to make a common story.

How to write a story in PPDT?

- You will see the picture for 30 secs and then you will get 1 min to note down few details and then 4 mins to write your story on the page provided by the SSB.
- In 1 minute you have to write down the details like gender of the characters you have seen, their age, mood and circle the character you have seen first.
- All these details have to be marked inside the box printed on the sheet provided by SSB.
- Write M/F/P for male/female/person(if the gender is not clear).
- Write +/-/0 for positive/negative/neutral mood.
- Write their age assumed by you and as per the picture shown.
- Circle the details of the character you have seen first.
- On the right hand side of the sheet, you have to write the action happening in your story, it could be in 3-4 words like "saving a child", "Enjoying in vacation", "helping a poor" etc

Picture Perception [Story Writing]

Sample of the PPDT story sheet:

Name:	Roll Number:
Chest no:	Batch no:

Action: Helping in farming

Story:

Your story goes here, keep minimum 100 words. If the space is not enough, use back side of the sheet

Assume that you have seen the picture(above) during story writing, it will be displayed for 30 secs and then 1 min for noting down few details. Assumptions may vary person to person, but try to assume practical and logical, if you find the character as a female, then write it as a female but male.

Details in the Box

- According to the picture, I have seen a female[F] character first on the very left side of the frame with positive mode and age around 26 years. So you can see what I have mentioned it in the box given.
- I have also seen another female[F] on the right hand side of the frame with little sad facial expression (negative mood) and age around 40 years.
- I have seen another character in the middle of the frame, I not able to guess the gender so I marked it as a person [P] but I guess the age would be 45 years and mood is neutral.
- These assumptions may vary person to person, one may see only two characters and other may assume it as a battle ground, so it depends on how you think and respond to what you see.

Action Part

Coming to action part, I find the scene of an agricultural land, so my story is related to farming/ agricultural. After seeing the picture few keywords came to my mind like farming+poor+agriculture+help+fertilizers+drought+earning+livelihood etc etc , so based on that I assumed some story in my mind and based on that I wrote the action in very short.

Your Story

Once you are done with above, you will get 4 mins to write the story, keep your story relevant to the picture and characters mentioned by you. Sometime you may not be able to finish the story in time, but that's okay, you can add the missing parts while narrating but again make sure you do not change your story completely, but try to keep it relevant.

Discussion Test [Individual Narration + Group Discussion]

This part of screening which can make most of us nervous, as a matter of fact, individual narration and group discussion decides whether you stay for the day or screened out. So, use your full ability to perform well enough during narration and discussion.

This part consist two things, one is individual narration and another is group discussion. After the story writing, candidates will be divided in a group of 12 -14, all group members are suppose to sit in a semi circular fashion. You will be getting chance to read your story again just to revise before the individual narration starts.

Individual narration:

1. Candidate with the least chest number start narrating his/her story, once finished, the next candidate will start his/her narration. This will proceeds till last candidate.
2. Once the narration start, assessors will not interrupt neither you are suppose to look or talk to assessors.
3. You will be getting sufficient instructions from assessors before the narration starts.
4. Try to keep your story short and to the point, you may get maximum 1 min to finish your narration.

Group Discussion:

1. As soon as the last candidate completes his/her narration, group discussion begins among group members without any interruption from assessors.
2. Generally it starts with 6-7 candidates speaking/yelling at the same time, you are suppose to keep your calm and show maturity.
3. The motto of the group discussion is to make a common story out of the picture shown.
4. If the group discussion becomes fish market, assessors may divide the group into two halves. This makes the discussion easier because of less candidates in each group.
5. You may get 5-10 mins for discussion.
6. At last assessors will stop the discussion and tell the group to move out of the room.

TIPS FOR WRITING BETTER PPDT STORIES

1. Remember the picture is hazy so concentrate and try to drive out the most positive scene you can. Spend the 30 seconds given for observing the picture very effectively.
2. Stay away from pre conceived stories, or those you have read from Books. Stay as original as you can.
3. Go for a fewer number of characters, even if you see a mob, marks only 2-3 characters at the most, this will help you in building a better story and save your time.
4. Your story must comprise of a hero/heroine and this should be the central character of your story. The hero should do some heroic or appreciable thing in your story. Make a single hero only.
5. Write the story in past tense.
6. You don't have to describe the scene instead you have to imagine what possibly could have led to the scene, how the hero overcame the problem in your story and what the result was.
7. Thus in general a story should have a format somewhat like this. There should be some problem/concern, there should be a hero and he should overcome the problem, and then write that the problem or concern was solved or taken care of and the hero felt nice on doing so.
8. Listen to the instructions given at the time of PPDT very carefully.
9. Do not write very impractical stories, like being rewarded for doing something, means getting bravery award and all. Getting rewarded is a difficult task and doesn't happens in real life too often, so be practical.
10. You will be asked to write the action of the story; here you have to write the main gist or theme of your story in a single line or 5-10 words. Keep in mind that you don't have to give the title to your story.
11. Write the story neatly, without cuts and in best possible handwriting.

TIPS FOR STORY NARRATION

1. There is so much transparency about the SSB procedure nowadays and so many reference books/sites are available, so the aspirants/ candidates must utilise this opportunity and practice as much as they can. Give yourself enough time to get familiar with the psychological tests that take place in the SSB. Practice as much sample papers as you can. But remember that you only need an idea for how to go about writing the story, kindly don't just learn the sample stories and write those in the PPDT. You need to project your personality so your story needs to be authentic.
2. Make a mental note Jot down all the major points of your story and mentally rehearse them. The role of the characters, the mood, the age range, the scenario, all should be crystal clear in your mind. If you have all the pointers ready and in place, you are likely to narrate better.
3. Be very clear and specific. In a group of 15-25 candidates, where each has to put their perspective and story forward, it becomes very important to be very specific and not to beat around the bush when it comes to narrating your story and to find a common conclusion. You should be very clear with what you want to say and communicate effectively.
4. Critically analyse the picture. Be very careful while you try to pick up the various things that are going on in the picture shown to you. You have just 60 seconds to observe and incorporate the scene shown in the picture in your story. There will be things that everyone will notice and write about, so go beyond that and try to observe other things happening in the picture (however small it may seem) and incorporate it in your story. Be logical while doing so.

5. Listen to everyone. The setup of the discussion part of PPDT is somewhat like a GD, where everyone is trying to put their point forward. Some candidates might have a point that you didn't think of or notice, so it's very important to listen to what everyone is saying. The goal is to come to a common conclusion about the story of the picture shown. This only possible if all the perspectives are heard.
6. Be confident while speaking. You need to be very clear about your story and while speaking be confident. Try to put your point forward logically and convince others. The main theme of the story should be immediately as the discussion starts. Be active during the discussion.
7. To succeed in the PPDT be realistic, logical and analytical while writing and narrating your story. It should be reflective of your personality.

5 SECRET TIPS TO CLEAR PPDT [SCREENING TEST]

1. Observe picture carefully – People forget to do this and start writing the things they have read somewhere else or someone has asked them to write or taught them. Every personality is different and if you follow others personality success will never be yours.
2. Make a blue print in mind – Normally things should be made up in mind first in the given 30 seconds and then it should come in the paper. Never change the things in between .Be original and live with it.
3. Keep it short with the flow intact – I have been assessing a lot of mentees for their stories and what I see in the majority of the cases that the flow and the link are missing in most. Different stories cannot be altogether in one story. We only need one story with what led to the thing, what happened and what could be a probable ending.
4. It's not an English writing competition, but a psychology test – People spend a lot of time in writing good words and beautiful English. It's not that competition. Even if things are grammatically wrong but psychologically relevant you have the chance to get recommended. Though general mistakes might create a bad impression and hence avoided.
5. Don't fight while discussing – It's a discussion to get a conclusion and not a ground to fight on the certain issue. So discuss, give everyone a chance and don't make it a fish market.

SAMPLE PPDT PICTURE AND STORY

Story: Naval was headmaster in the village high school. As always he was on the walk around the fields in the village. But today he was not feeling the fresh air, rather he was coughing due to the polluted air. As he moved on, he saw big flames of fire in the field. He ran up to that field quickly and what he saw was the farmers were burning the waste after cultivating their crop, which was polluting the fresh environment of early morning. On the same evening, Naval with the help of panchayat members talked to the farmers of the village and told them about the new government plans for controlling air pollution, according to which they can sell the waste to fertilizer companies and they should keep some amount of it in fields itself, as it will provide nutrients to the soil for next crop. In this way Naval help the cause of pollution control in his village.

RESULT OF STAGE 1 - PPDT

Once all candidates have undergone this stage the results of Stage I are declared. Successful candidates are retained for Stage II testing and the balance are asked to leave after a short brief on general shortcomings. The candidates are provided with lunch and transport to go to the railway station. Candidates will also be paid the entitled Travelling Allowance for AC 3 tier class. This travelling allowance is paid to candidates appearing for the first time in SSB on production of the original tickets.

PPDT/Screening Result:

1. You will get your results after few hours, those who are selected stay back for next few days for stage-II testing.
2. Don't loose hope if you are not selected. Try to learn from your experiences.

STAGE 2- DAY 2- PSYCHOLOGICAL TEST

The candidates are retained for further testing in Stage 2 will be divided into groups of eight to ten candidates. Each candidate will be allotted a new chest number. It is important to remember that you are not competing with other candidates, all of you will be assessed against the common standard of suitability and it is possible that everyone in the group is selected or rejected. You will require to fill up Personal Information Questionnaire (PIQ) with correct and exact details about your life. In case of a large batch some of you may find yourself facing Interviewing Officer in the evening of same day.

The second day sees the testing in the earnest and begins with the onset of Psychological Assessment. The candidates are taken through a series of situations projected as words, pictures and narrated situations. The reaction timings are stringent to bring in natural and subconscious behavioral pattern of individual. As the Psych tests takes time and one has to be fresh and natural, the tests are started early in the morning. Before the tests are administered you will be briefed by the Psychologist about the various tests you have to undergo, also before you undergo actual tests you will be familiarised with the example tests of each type. Psych test are administered on candidates to access the psychological profile acceptable for candidates of particular age group.

There are 4 different psychological tests as mentioned below:

1. Thematic Apperception Test
2. Word Association Test
3. Situation Reaction Test
4. Self Description Test

THEMATIC APPERCEPTION TEST

The first test among the battery of Psych tests is the Thematic Apperception Test (TAT). In this test a total of 12 pictures including a blank picture will be shown for 30 seconds each, one after the other. Candidates are asked to write story around the picture shown, covering issues like what led to the situation, what is going on and what would be the outcome of the situation perceived in the picture. The picture is selected in a manner to allow your creative mind to evolve a number of stories.

No story is correct or wrong, what matters is it must be a story triggered in your mind by the picture. Remember that the picture is shown only for 30 seconds and then you are asked to write about the picture within four minutes. In the blank picture, you have to imagine a picture of your own choice and write a story around that. Since the timings are stringent you are advised to write the story that occurs to you first on seeing the picture, that way your response will be natural and you will be able to write the entire story within the limited time available to you.

WHY THEMATIC APPERCEPTION TEST?

This pictures originally employed for this purpose were very vague. There was a great play of projection or inner sub consciousness in the interpretation of these T.A.T pictures. Pictures with greater details and needing less play of projection and imagination were introduced by two psychologist, Murray and Margon, who used these in 1903 and the same are generally in use in India.

In TAT, the picture used by the SSBs are on the model of Murray's pictures, but they are almost clear and not hazy. A set of 12 pictures is generally used including one blank slide. A slide of each picture is shown on a screen with the help of a magic lantern for half a minute and the candidates are required to write a story based on the picture in a period of four minutes in the particular space provided on the answer sheet.

These test is based on the theory that in the construction or stories around ambiguous pictures, the candidate organize material from his own personal experiences, partly as a result of the stimulus that he receives i.e. what he finds in the picture and partly his associations with such stimuli recalled from his past experiences.

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE STORY

The candidates must remember that there are certain essential elements or components of a well constructed story. These are:

- The Hero: Each story must have a hero or the chief character with whom the writer identifies himself. The hero should exhibit qualities which an officer of the Armed Forces should possess. He should act and behave like a normal human being and not like a supernatural being.
- Other characters who help the hero in the execution of the task undertaken by him.
- Situation in the Story:
 - What it is ?
 - How it came into being or what events led up to it?
 - What will be the outcome or conclusion?
- The them or plot:
 - It is an attempt by the hero, assisted by other characters to organize the story by pooling all the resources at this disposal in order to successfully solve the problem by him.
 - The plot should be interesting and end successfully.
 - It should be self-evident. The reader must not remain in doubt about it or keep on guessing it.

TIPS FOR TAT:

1. It is a test of your imagination and you have to imagine and write a story. Remember it is a story writing and not describing the picture.
2. Your story should clearly have a hero. Now this Hero is very important. This is so because this Hero represents you.
3. The thing a person writes or says or in other words the kind of reaction a person gives depicts his/her personality in a great deal. Hence the kind of story you make depict your personality to a certain extent.
4. Thus the Hero represents you. So make the Hero a positive character.
5. Your story must be a positive story.
6. The story should have a past, a present and a future. The picture which is shown according to which you frame the story must appear somewhere in the story, most likely in the present part of the story.
7. Observe the picture very carefully and note down the minutest detail in your mind, they will help you in framing the story nicely.
8. Never write a pre-conceived story. Also do not try to forcefully fit something in the picture. Write only around what is shown.
9. Now some pictures may appear totally negative. A gloomy face, a dead body, an accident scene etc. What to do then? In these cases don't overlook and avoid what is very evidently visible, instead try to make a positive ending.
10. Don't unnecessarily put negativity in your story. A sad face doesn't imply death all the time, so do not make negative stories. You have to make it positive.
11. Generally the structure of the story is that there is a hero. There is some information related to how things led to the present scenario (The picture), then the Hero solves the problem thus giving a positive ending.
12. Give realistic aim, and practical problems and their solutions. Do not give impractical views or childish imagination.
13. An ideal story lies between 80-100 words. A shorter story is not better, so practice writing fast. There is ample sample material present on our website.
14. Choose the age and profession of the main lead of your story very carefully. The age should be exactly what is evident from the picture. And choose the profession according to the age.
15. In case of many characters in the clip, choose the one closest to your age as your hero. In case of pictures in which it is very difficult to determine the age, there also choose the age nearest to yours. But do not forcefully give the age of very evident characters near to your age. For eg. If in the picture only one child of 5 years is shown then do not write his age as 21 years in the story.
16. A good story has a motto, however small it may be, but it should be practical, mature and realistic motto.

SAMPLE TAT PICTURE AND STORY

Story: Shoeb was an engineering student in Ramnath college of technology. He had a hobby in trekking. After his exams he wished to take a break and go for trekking from nagra hill to pithora garh. He talked to his friends and they all agreed upon the idea. He made all the arrangements and they left on the next morning. They started the hike and were enjoying the beauty of the surroundings. Suddenly the way forward was seen blocked due to landslides which had come the last night. Shoeb analysed the situation and took a decision to move forward by making way out of the malba on the track. With great difficulty and teamwork they managed to cross the hurdle. They continued and reached their destination successfully. Tough difficult, the tour was adventurous and memorable for the group. They felt energised and joined their schedule tasks again.

WORD ASSOCIATION TEST

The next psych test is the Word Association Test (WAT). In this test a total of 60 words are shown to the candidates. Each word is flashed on the screen for 15 seconds. The candidate is required to write down the first thought or idea that comes to his mind on seeing the word in the space provided in the 15 seconds before the next word is flashed.

GOLDEN TIPS TO TACKLE WORD ASSOCIATION TEST

- WAT helps psychologist to understand the real behaviour of the candidate under pressure.
- WAT totally depends on how you react to words in your real life.
- A better introspection will help you to know your real personality, your interests, your fears and your weaknesses. By knowing your weaknesses one can work on that and can change them in one's strengths. It will help you in changing the image of a word in your mind {explained later}.
- First of all look at the words carefully as it will be shown only for 15 seconds. If you'll miss even a single word, you'll miss the whole sequence.
- As you'll see the word your mind will form an idea, now it depends on your personality to make a positive idea or a negative idea.
- Then write a sentence on the idea you have formed. Make sure your writing is legible.
- There are no negative words, if you'll look them with a positive approach. Words will work in your favour automatically.
- Try to practice WAT at your home and make some response sheets. You'll see the response will automatically will get better and better.
- You must write at least 6-7 officers like qualities in 60 sentences.
- Do not use too many sentence on defence forces.
- Don't write simple observations
- Don't write idioms, phrases, quotations, universal truths. They show lack of original thoughts.
- Don't use the word "I or Me" much.
- Write sentences from human point of view.

HOW TO WRITE A POSITIVE SENTENCE FROM A NEGATIVE WORD

- When your reaction to a negative word is positive, it will be easy for you to make a sentence from the word.
- Form a positive idea from a negative word shown in the slide.

For example– DIE: – Now when we hear die, an image of death comes to our mind. It is natural but a little practice will help you to change the image out of your mind.

Sentence– Indian people are diehard fans of cricket.

Or

Sentence–With Agni- V, Indian security system becomes a deadly combination.

- Do not use readymade sentence. This will break the pattern of loop created by psychologist.
- Practice writing negative words, it will help you in changing the image of those words in your mind.

SITUATION REACTION TEST

The third psych test is the Situation Reaction Test (SRT). This test consists of 60 routine life situations regarding day to day activities. The situations are printed in the booklet and candidate is asked to write his reaction by completing the sentences as to how he would feel, think and act in these situations. A total of 30 minutes are given to candidates to write down reactions to all the sixty situations in the booklet.

8 SMART TIPS TO ATTEMPT SITUATION REACTION TEST (SRT)

Here are the tips which could prove to be very useful in clearing all the 60 situations easily within 30 minutes:

1. Practising lot and with a focus is the foremost essence of this test.
2. When you see the situation on the paper, write whatever comes to mind, but it should make sense.
3. Do not make a long explanation because it is time consuming.

Remember, you have only 30 seconds; write short and to the point. e.g. for SRT 'He saw a snake entering into someone's house. He...' you can write 'divert its attention with a stick and alarm the people inside the house' instead of 'He took a stick and started to beat it to divert its attention and alarmed the people inside the house.'

1. Give a positive and a meaningful reaction.
2. Though uncommon situations are presented, try to make a meaningful conclusion/reaction because it reveals that you are capable of handling any situation.
3. If you find that a situation is repeated in another form, then give the reaction differently but see it is not contradictory to the previous reaction.
4. Do not make a irresponsible reaction, in other words, do not merely react to the situation. Let your reactions be filled with responsibility.
5. Do not make the sentences incomplete; at the same time the sentence preferably should be short to manage time.

Practise with these tips handy and SRT will become a child's play. Hope these tips would help you to prepare for the SRT in upcoming SSBs.

SELF DESCRIPTION TEST

The last in the battery of Psych tests is the Self Description Test (SD). Each candidate is given 15 minute and is asked to write 5 separate paragraphs on the opinion of his parents or guardian, friends, teachers or superiors, self opinion and qualities the candidate would like to develop/ inculcate in himself.

TIPS TO CRACK SELF DESCRIPTION TEST

- Listen to the instructions given by the Psychologist carefully.
- Be true and frank in giving your self-description. Never try to bluff about any of your qualities as the psychologist will easily find it out. Remind that psychologist is an experienced person he will easily find out the character traits even if you try to conceal.
- Your emphasis should be on such points that reveal some traits of your personality.

- We all have good traits as well as bad ones. Please write your bad points along with your good ones.
- You should take care that your self- description should never contradict with any of the information given to the board.
- Maintain a good writing speed.
- Never try to memorize any self description from anywhere and produce it before the board. It will only reduce your chances of selection as the SD will have no connection with your personality traits.
- Do not write strong negative things about you. There is much difference between weaknesses and negative qualities. Be positive.

QUESTIONS TO BE ASKED IN SELF DESCRIPTION

1. Write about your strength and weaknesses?

- The answer totally depends upon your personality and presentation of one's personality in his mind. If one will have a good understanding about his personality, he will definitely perform better. The most important thing for a personality test to be remembered is one should have a good introspection of his/her personality to know and understand your strength and weakness much better. When you are writing your strengths make sure you are mentioning all the strengths which you think is most comparable to officer like qualities. Coming to your weakness, mention the weakness on which you are working on. If you have some weakness that you think can be an impediment in your selection, work on it. Try to talk to your parents, friends, and teachers and find out more about your weaknesses and make them in your strengths.

2. What your friends say about you?

- Now if you've friends you must have like them for most of their qualities and dislike them for their mistakes. The same thing goes with your friends. Try to write the positive traits of your personality. To elaborate more, you can give examples – How they helped in winning your battles of personal failures to convert them into success? Why do you like them? How you help them in achieving their aims. I would suggest that if you think that you are friendly in nature then you must remember names of all the people in your group and their likes and dislikes. Give examples how you help during their problem, during their ups and downs.

3. What your parents say about you?

4. What your teachers say about you?

5. What kind of person you want to be?

Observe the comments made about you by your parents, friends, teachers or you may directly ask them. Note these points on a paper and try to make a sample description. You have to practice it more and more times that you will be able to finish the description within allotted time. See that your friends, parent's or teacher's view should never contradict with your self- analysis and also among themselves. Practice will help you to eliminate unimportant points and give importance to important ones. Practice will improve your speed and confidence.

You are once again warned that you should never copy a Self Description from a book or from the internet and re produce it in the SSB AS IT WILL HAVE NO CONNECTION WITH YOU and character traits differ from person to person.

In short , have truthfulness and honesty while writing a SD and try to give a balanced view of your personality.

DOS & DON'TS OF PSYCHOLOGICAL TEST [OFFICIAL TIPS FROM SSB]

DOs

- Listen and adhere to the instructions properly.
- Clarify all your doubts before the commencement of each test. Be as imaginative and spontaneous as possible.
- Give your first reaction to picture/word shown to you, don't think twice as there is no right or wrong answer to the situation, everyone is like to respond in his own unique way.
- Be realistic and logical in your responses and keep track of time.

Don'ts

- Do not use coached/ tutored ideas while responding to psychological test battery.
- Do not create mental sets about pictures during run up to the SSB as it may restrict your spontaneity and imagination.

PERSONAL INTERVIEW

On completion of Psych tests and subsequent refreshment break, some of the candidates have to appear before the Interviewing Officer for Personal Interview. The interviews will continue in the afternoon and evenings of Day 2, 3 and 4. You will be interviewed only once and will be informed well in advance about the time and place.

TIPS FOR FACING INTERVIEW IN SSB

- Preparation for the Interview: The candidate has to prepare himself to be able to answer basic questions regarding the service which he wishes to join. Before facing the Board, the candidate must try to acquire sufficient knowledge on the burning topics of the world and of the service which he wishes to join. Being not able to answer basic questions regarding army and telling the board that you wished to join army from your childhood will only put you in a awkward situation.
- Increase your general awareness: The candidate must be able to answer questions on all the current events in the world. But one thing is to be noted that if you didn't know about an event, be truthful and tell the interviewing officer that you don't know it. Your wide store of knowledge will of course increase your confidence.
- Relaxation: Tension causes nervousness which is really fatal in SSB Interviews. You should not worry about SSB Interviews. Early preparation will reduce your tension and if you feel nervousness, take 15 long breaths, It will surely restore your confidence.
- Facial expression: It is said that face is the index of mind. So be natural in your facial expression.
- Dress: The dress should be according to the place and climate. The dress should not be shabby and as far as possible, wear light colored shirts. The mustaches should be properly trimmed and cut your nails.
- Manner of sitting in the Interview room: Always put your hands on your thighs and must not move it. Avoid use of unusual; gestures and speak truthfully to the Interviewing officer with a smiling face. The candidate should maintain eye contact with the Interviewing officer, should not look up, down, left or right.
- Manner of talking : Talk politely to the Interviewing officer and if you ever want to disagree with the Interviewing officer, do it politely and be natural in your talks with the interviewing officer. Your voice should be pleasant and audible. Do not murmur or stammer. Maintain a normal speed while talking. On controversial topics, it is always better to talk both for and against it and try to provide a solution for it. It shows that you have a constructive approach. Sometimes the interviewing officer may put anger provoking questions. Do never lose your temper. Be cool in answering.
- Leaving the Interview room: After the interview is over, you will be told to leave the room and never forget to thank the interviewing officer. Leave the room confidently as you came in the Interview room. Leave the room with a gentle smile and with your head held high. It shows that you are confident.
- Preparation for SSB Interview: The candidate must be able to answer questions related to their educational back ground right from their 8th standard, Regarding your hobbies. Interests ,activities in which you participated , basic information regarding the service you wish to join ,why you want to join that particular service ,why were you screened out last time, some SRT'S

7 INTERVIEW ETIQUETTES CANDIDATES SHOULD KNOW

1. Good Entry – A good beginning is half done. These need to be kept in mind while preparing for SSB interview. Positive entry with humble behaviour makes the good image of the person. Polite voice coupled with gentle entry is the best way to enter the interview room.

2. Eye Contact – While attending the personal interview, candidates are advised to maintain eye contact with interviewing officer. This not only shows your alertness but also shows your confidence. Avoiding eye while answering any question or thinking something leaves a bad impact over IO.
3. Posture – The way you sit after entering the room, the way you stand while going out of the room and even the way you sit in entire interview period matter a lot. Shaking legs, biting nails, non-erect posture, etc. should be avoided. These traits show non-presence (mentally), lack of interest or lack of social moral values. Erect posture shows attentiveness and your interest to the speaker/ interviewing officer.
4. Hand Movements – Hand movement should be as low as possible. Try to bind your palm with your legs. Your attention and discipline will impress the interviewing officer. Hand movement with conversation should be controlled. Excess usage shows low confidence of the candidate.
5. Talking Style – The way of talking while the questioning and answering is going should be in a cordial manner. Speaking louder, or in a lazy way, fumbling, confusingly speaking, correcting yourself again and again, might take your chances of selection down.
6. Mild Smile – Answering with a mild smile on face doubles the impact of the candidate. Personal interview has some questions of enjoyment, seriousness and more, but candidate must keep a smile on the face. Remember, excessive laughing means you are excessively frank and not a serious guy toward your future or work. An officer has to be cool minded in all kinds of situations. An unstable mind can take the entire team to into a problem.
7. Total Attention – Paying total attention to the interviewing officer shows your attentiveness. It is the most important quality that an officer must possess. Hearing the questions or getting what IO wants to ask, his counter questions and his expression have to be attentively observed and your reply must be as per the requirement of the question. Answering irrelevant or out of topic will reduce IO's interest in you. Keep the conversation, comprehensive and crisp.

8 POWERFUL TRICKS TO BOOST YOUR CONFIDENCE BEFORE THE INTERVIEW

1. Stop Thinking Too Much.
It's finally come down to the moment that every Defence Aspirant waits for, your interview, which gives you the chance to express yourself and to convince the authorities that yes "I have it in me". So just stop over thinking. One of the biggest reasons why people fail to feel and be confident is their fear of thinking of the 'what ifs'. Don't make the situation more complicated for yourself by dwelling in such thoughts.
2. Work on your Non-Verbal Communication.
93% of the communication between humans occurs through means of non-verbal communication. Your words only comprise of 7% of the total communication. So I hope you realise how important it is to focus and to work on your gestures and postures. From the moment you enter the room, till the time you move out of the door, The IO is observing your body language. There should be congruence between what you say and what your body says.
3. Think happy thoughts.
While you are sitting outside and waiting for your interview to start think about the happy moments and memories that you have about yourself and your loved ones. It could be a day out with your family, a trip with your friends, a conversation with your teacher or time spent with your pet. Anything. Think about whatever makes you happy. In doing so, the level of your stress hormones decreases and you start to better and positive.

4. Superman Pose.

Research says that standing in a superman pose before doing anything significant and important helps you feel better and confident about yourself. The superman pose causes a decrease in cortisol level of 25%. So 10 minutes before your interview starts, go somewhere private and for 2 minutes stand in the superman pose. Be self-assured.

5. Go back to the last time you felt confident.

Think of the last event in your life in which you felt really confident about yourself. Mentally go back to that event and try to recall your emotions and feelings at that point of time. Try to remember how much relieved and happy you were after the completion of that particular task. Try to feel the same emotions and feelings and you'll end up becoming more confident.

6. Rehearse Mentally.

Just go through major points that you have to remember during your interview and try to just scan through all the pointers that you had prepared for yourself. You should be clear about each word that you had written in your Personal Information Questionnaire (PIQ), so just rehearse whatever you had written and any other major fact and detail that you have to remember.

7. Think of nice things that people have said about you.

Try to think of all the positive things that your friends, family, colleagues and your teachers have said about you. It's the best way to remind yourself that you are capable of doing good and great things in life. You will instantly feel positive and confident about yourself.

8. Enjoy the moment!

You are about to give probably the most important interview of your life. You've worked hard, you've dreamt about it and you're so close to living your dream. So just live in the moment. Breathe in and breathe out. Later in life this'll be one of your fondest memories, provided you believe in yourself and follow the above tricks!

13 PSYCHOLOGICAL LIFE HACKS TO CLEAR THE PERSONAL INTERVIEW

We are shaped by our thoughts. How we think, perceive and believe all influences how we adjust and function in our environment. We all know that psychology has an integral role to play in the SSB interview. The agenda of the interview is to determine whether the candidate possesses the Officer Like Qualities (OLQs). This is done by means of a purposive or directed conversation between the candidate and the Interviewing Officer (IO). Not only is the current personality evaluated but the training potential of the candidate is also assessed.

In order to excel in the interview, the candidate needs to be in touch with his/her own personality and of their surroundings. The following psychological life hacks will help you in performing better in the SSB interview.

Cognitive reframing

It is a psychological technique used to identify negative thoughts, and reframing those thoughts into more positive challenges. Before your interview starts, instead of thinking it to be a threat, perceive it as a challenge which you have to overcome. You'll be likely to perform better and efficiently.

You are in control of your emotions, and thoughts.

Tell yourself you're happy or you're excited. Eventually your brain will end up believing it. Saying that you're depressed or you're feeling anxious will make you all the more depressed and anxious.

Your attitude is everything.

Learn how to deal with stress without changing your behaviour. It's not always possible to answer all questions in the correct manner. Don't lose your cool and don't be demoralised if the interview isn't going the way you wanted it to. Just go with the flow and give it your best shot.

Maintain proper eye contact.

In a research it was found that 67% of interviewees fail to maintain adequate eye contact. Maintaining proper eye contact is essential since it shows that you are confident. A candidate who looks straight in the interviewer's eye will be appraised as more confident than a candidate who looks at the floor or at the ceiling and avoids eye contact. But don't stare or gaze hard at the IO. Look at their eyes long enough to notice what colour they are.

Chewing gum before the interview

Researchers from St. Lawrence University found that gum-chewing benefits working memory, episodic memory and general information-processing speed. The chewing motion makes it easier to focus and concentrate. Chewing some gum before the interview may help you focus, remember important information and it helps to combat the stress and nervousness. Don't forget to spit the gum out before entering the interview room!

Smile!

While entering the room, greeting the IO, thanking him or listening to him, keep your smile on. Smiling from time to time (wherever appropriate) makes you feel more relaxed and cheerful. Smiling indicates that you are cheerful and connect with people easily.

Posture

Stand up straight, avoid slouching, keep your hands out of pockets, and head held up high. It's not just a cliché — you literally feel better.

Dress smartly.

If your clothes create an initial unfavourable impression, you'll have trouble neutralising it during the interview. If you look good, you feel good; and if you feel good, you'll do well.

Etiquettes.

Manners and courtesy help in tilting the direction of the interview in your favour. Before entering the room, gently knock on the door. You can politely ask if you can come in- enter only when you are asked to, with confidence. Wish those present as per the time of the day. Wait till you are asked to sit and thank the person who asks you to sit down. While answering questions, be respectful and say 'sir', however excessive use of the word 'sir' must be avoided.

Believe in yourself.

The interview revolved around you; therefore, it is you and your performance that matters. Keep telling yourself that you have 'it' in you and believe in it. Don't be nervous and don't get intimidated by the personality and the aura of the IO.

Express your emotions.

Use your emotions to allow the IO to have a better understanding of yourself. Describe your feelings as and when appropriate. Avoid extreme emotions such as anger, sentiments, etc. Use your body language as a part of your emotional expression. Avoid giving political opinions. Remember, armed forces are always apolitical and above board.

Be truthful

Credibility, once lost is hard to regain. You want to portray yourself as morally trustworthy since your reputation is at stake. Be respectful towards the other person with whom you're speaking and be sensitive towards others' feelings.

Positive thinking.

Having a positive mindset is vital. Positive thinking helps in combating negative thoughts, it elevates one's mood and it helps us to focus on the bright side of life. It motivates us towards success. Being optimistic in the face of challenges is a positive trait that will help a candidate in the interview.

While you are waiting for your interview to start, keep these tips in mind as they will help you combat stress and anxiety.

25 GOLDEN TIPS FROM A SENIOR INTERVIEWING OFFICER AT SSB

The interviewing officer discusses by way of questions and answers the opportunities you had in life and the utilization which you have made of them. It is a test of your heart. The interviewing officer is fairly senior and experienced in the armed forces. While he interacts with you, he visualizes whether you have the essential qualities to be trained to be an army officer. What you have done till date with regard to your basic educational performances in exams from 10th to present level, your achievements in extra-curricular activities, your hobbies, sports, activities and any other interests in life, your relation with your parents, friends, teachers and society at large, your general awareness and general knowledge and your physical and mental fortitude are important facets of his assessment. The interviewing officer understands and gives you fair benefit for shortcomings or mistakes which you may have committed. Thus, do not try and hide anything. The tendency of lying or making false pretenses is viewed negatively and is easily discernible.

DAY 3 & 4 - GROUP TESTING

The third day is full of exciting physical activity in the Group Testing Grounds. The candidates will be briefed by the Group Testing Officer in the morning about all out door activities. The primary concern here is to see how you will face the obstacles and the tasks allotted to you and your attitude towards other members of the group both while working with them and while directing them. Group tests do not require specialised individual skills on your part, logical thinking, coordinated team efforts, work ability to receive and give suggestion is what is looked at by assessors. You will be provided with Sketch Board, Ladders, Ropes, Planks and other such things as your tools to help you in the assigned task. You are given few minutes to form plan and thereafter execute the task within the given timeframe. The battery of GTO tests consists of nine tests/ tasks.

GROUP DISCUSSION

The first task of GTO battery of test begins with Group Discussions on a debatable topic, which is usually given on a current event/ social issues. In the first group discussion the group is allowed to select one of the two topics offered.

In the second group discussion the topic is of the GTO's choice. Each discussion will last for approximately 20 to 30 minutes. Each candidate is expected to participate in the discussions. Remember that the discussions involve the exchange of ideas and thoughts. It is not a traffic of words.

TIPS TO EXCEL IN GD OF SSB

- Assessors are more interested in qualities, though the effect of knowledge and data cannot be neglected. So regular reading and practicing can help in this regard.
- Logical reasoning and supplementation of it with useful example is liked by all as it helps in strong holding of your point.
- Confidence has always been the key to success, so see that whatever is presented, it is done with full confidence.
- There is nothing like that I will always speak for the topic or against it. Please understand the difference between debate, extempore and a GD. Here things are limited to expressing of views only.
- Body language is positive creates a altogether different level of awareness towards the other members of the group and they are always interested in listening.
- Being a good listener is always a sign of a good member of a group.
- Being a member of group your responsibility is to coordinate with the group and not to create a fish market. Even if others are contributing to create a fish market you have to emerge as a leader to get out of that situation and to facilitate proper discussion.
- Eye contact should be maintained with the group members only and don't try to show off by speaking more. Balance the content with the knowledge and coordination.

FIVE COMMON MISTAKES IN GROUP DISCUSSION

1. Waiting for the right time: There will never come a perfect time to speak. You'll have to snatch that time amongst the discussion. So wait for an opportunity where you can enter the discussion. This moment needs to be very appropriate, otherwise it'll look like you are shouting and dominating. Wait for a chance where the volume of the whole group comes down a bit, then just speak in a firm, not rude voice. Make your voice count, don't speak along with the group in a herd.
2. Not listening to others: Some candidates keep on speaking again and again thus not giving a chance to others to speak. While some candidates when start speaking, speak for a really long time. The audience gets bored due to this behaviour. Moreover you tend to repeat your points, making a negative impression on the GTO. When you speak more and listen less, the GTO barely gets chance to judge others, so you appear like a very dominant person. When you start speaking speak for maximum of 60 seconds to 90 seconds, and give others a chance to speak.
3. Trying to over-help: Candidates sometimes try to do charity by pretending to help others in the group. Thus they shout on other person's behalf, let so and so chest number speak. Remember you are not there for charity, the so and so chest number made it till there without your help, and he/she is capable to do so now also. If you really want to appear like a leader, just listen to other people's points without interrupting unnecessarily.
4. Speaking for the sake of speaking: Do not speak just for the sake of speaking. Some candidates speak just because they have to, not because they have a point. If you just repeat other's points or speak irrelevant things, it'll definitely go against you. So speak only the relevant things, and points which actually contribute to the discussion.
5. Not being themselves: Adopting extremes of behaviour, like getting up from the chair or shouting on others is definitely not accepted. Also if you speak in a made up accent or do too many gestures then you appear fake. So be yourself, think like you are discussing things with friends.

GROUP PLANNING EXERCISE

The Group planning Exercise is the second test of the GTO test series. In this test a story on a model with a few problems is narrated. What you are required to do is to identify the problems and evolve the practical solution within the given time. You are expected to write down your own individual solution on the paper provided to you. A candidate while giving solution should think logically, write and draw neatly and also examine alternate solutions of the problem. Thereafter your group collective solution will be discussed by the group and you are expected to participate in evolving the group plan acceptable to everyone. One of you may then be asked to explain the acceptable group plan.

EXCELLING IN GROUP PLANNING EXERCISE

1. Write neatly, carefully: You need to maintain a good handwriting while you write your solution. As time will be a constraint so you are likely to mess up your handwriting. There are myths regarding the Group Planning Exercise solution, many people say the GTO never reads it. But you have never been a witness to what happens inside the board, so please write carefully and neatly.
2. Apply Logic: Do not go for bookish solutions. There might be solutions where country is being given more priority and in some life is given priority. It is your own appreciation what you give priority to. There are no hard and fast rules to solve Group Planning Exercise, and I am sure if you stick to others solutions you are likely to fail. So read a few solutions, and what matters the most is applying your brain.
3. Be analytical: Analyzing a problem is even bigger a task than solving it. If you are able to analyze a problem well you can excel in Group Planning Exercise very well. Look out for the minutest details, look out for the resources and apply them in your solution. Read the problem carefully and listen to the instructions very prominently.
4. Divide and conquer: Candidates feel that they have to put the whole group to work for a single problem. This is not the case. You can divide your group in two parts and work for the major two problems.
5. Don't speak first in the discussion: if you speak first in the discussion you'll open up your cards. Listen you at least one more person before you speak. In this way you can also check whether or not you have missed out any points, because sometimes in hurry you might miss points. In this case when you feel the solution which you wrote is not as good as the plan others are speaking, change your side. Go with the plan you think suits the best.
6. Learn to find mistakes: If you can learn the art of finding small mistakes in others plans, you can come up as the hero in the planning exercise. Listen to their plan and find small mistakes, do not say them in a condescending manner, instead comment politely, that your plan is good but lacks this. Do opt yourself for the person who narrates the group story.

GROUP PLANNING EXERCISE WITH SOLUTION

This test basically designed to check our decision making capabilities i.e. how quick and effective we are in making decision in time bounded environment. We are given a set of problems all of the problems need to be solved in different time constraints. This test involves few steps and according to mine experience, I would like to tell you what to be done in which step.

Step 1: Brief introduction of the concerned area by GTO

Friend here you need to be very attentive because if you missed any place or misinterpreted anything on map, it will hamper your performance. so be attentive, listen to every minute detail meticulously and keep them in mind.

Step 2: In next step GTO is going to read out the problem in the concerned area to you. He has the write up with him. In this test you need to co-relate the problem to the map, and while listening pay attention to hidden resources, given resources, time constraints, and total no. of problems and what all problems are. So at the end of this step you must be able to answer these questions to yourself.

- How many problems are there?
- What are the resources given and hidden?
- What are Time constraints of each problem?
- What are other constraints like no telephone is working, your vehicle broke down. Head lights are not working and so on.

Step 3: Now GTO will give you 5 min. to read out the write up of the problem. Friend if you were good in listening and were attentive in step 2 then in this step you will get advantage. Those five minutes you can utilize in your planning. now be quick and do the followings.

- Decide priorities of problems, and have always a reason for giving the particular priority to a particular problem, it will help you in discussion.(keep loss and time available in mind while doing this)
- As a problem can be solved in more than one ways. Start thinking for available solutions to each problem and decide which one to follow and how many persons you need to solve that problem. Friends whatever solution you follow have a reason for that. Most important thing which I learned recently from 14ssb board GTO that whenever you have a choice between possibility and certainty go for certainty. Example. You are on a road with an injured person, you have two options one to take lift and at a short distance you have a petrol pump or garage. Then it is certain that you will get vehicle at garage or pump, but you may or may not get lift. So always select an option which is accessible to you and which ensures you the solution.
- After you get a solution to each problem now you have a clear idea about how many persons are needed in each problem. So now you can decide in how many sub groups you will divide your team.
- Friends if you jump on dividing the group first before solution, you can get wrong in mid way. So do it at last.

Step 4:- in this step GTO will ask you write your individual solution on a paper. Let me clear my friends everything is evaluated in ssb, nothing is just for time pass, so do not believe on rumors that this copy will not be evaluated. For writing always follow a particular way so that you don't miss anything. Like this

“We group of _ friends, on our way to the —encountered with some problems. According to priority problems are:-

A:-

B:-

C:-

D:-

Write what you have (resources) quickly and always mention hidden resources as it shows you are practical and can think other options too.

Now write I will divide my group in _ sub groups of 3,2,2,3 (according to you)

Now attending each problem priority wise write down solution attending these points for each
Who, what, when, where, how, time- distance and action

Always mention distance according to scale given to you, you can go to the model or map and measure it with you hand so that you can get a rough idea of distance and time needed to travel that distance using the particular mode of transport.

After you finish this reassemble your group mates and move where you were going prior to the problems.

Step 5:- group discussion to reach a common solution. Again it is a discussion so all the things which are tested in GDs ,will be there. But this time one more thing will be tested and this is your decision making ability and how you persuade others to your decision. Presence of mind and listening are most important things. If you have made a good plan then discuss reasons behind your particular choice of priority or particular path, particular transport anything you say there have a reason for that and it is sufficient for a good discussion. other things are same as in group discussion. If you have strong reasons your group mates will agree automatically. And keep in mind what group is deciding for common plan so that if your group nominates you to give final plan. You don't hesitate and can give it confidently. And this is a fact that group will nominate you automatically if you were good and active throughout the discussion.

• Example for group planning exercise

You are a group of 10 students returning to your hostel at doper after a picnic at Rampur your vehicle developed problem and you left it at garage near petrol pump and your group decided to enjoy ferry as your jeep will be repaired by 6pm. You stopped at tea stall and having tea, one of your friends found a rifle and accidentally he fired a bullet which injured him in his shoulder. While you were thinking about what to do, a boy came to you to seek your help as his father fell down near wheat fields from his cart and broken his leg. As he finished a man came on cycle to you and informed that miscreant who are hidden in shanty village, and they are going to remove fish plates of train track and also will blast a train going from dholpur to Rampur which leaves at 4:45 and they plan to blow it at 5:30 over the bridge. And villagers are afraid of goons so they are not informing police. just as he finished a woman came to you and asked for help as her cow was stranded in marshy land and it is the only source if her livelihood as it 4pm now, and you need to reach hostel before 7 pm you are also provided that a bus leaves from shampur to dholpur leaves at 5 pm. boats are also available at ferry. No telephone or mobile is working. What you will do in such a situation?

• Way to find GPE Solutions

Note that carefully I am suggesting ways to think solution not how to write solution.

Step 1 priority setting

1. Person injured with bullet: reason:-he needs immediate assistance as excessive bleeding is dangerous for him.
2. Person with broken leg: – reason as we have enough time for train problem and the farmer can't go himself anywhere. And he also needs some medical assistance.
3. As train will leave at 4:45 and reach the bridge at 5:30 it is 4:00 now so we can give this problem 3rd priority.
4. Cow stranded in marshy land. As human life is not involved

Step 2 Solution to each problem and assigning it to subgroups

Problem 1:- person injured with bullet

- First of all I will stop his blood using cloths now, (think solution in these 7 points)
- Who: 2 of us
- What: take the person to hospital
- When: start 4:15 as it will take some time to plan and take lift.
- Where: to the hospital
- How: we will take lift from passing vehicles.

- Time and distance: it will take near 15 min to cover the distance of 15km and additional 15 min to take him to hospital.
- Action: admitted the person to the hospital and treatment started. and sent a ambulance to pick up the leg broken person and take him to hospital.

Problem 2: leg broken person

- Who: 2 of us + cycle +son of that person
- What: will go to wheat field and take him out so that ambulance can pick him up
- When: start at 4:15
- Where: we will move from tea stall to wheat field
- How: using cycle and cart
- Time & distance: to cover 4 km cycle will take near 10 minutes and we will take him out on his cart in near 10 min.
- Action: we will take him to tea stall and wait for ambulance so that he can be taken to hospital and can be treated.

Problem 3: train problem

- Who: 3 of us
- What: 1 will inform shanty village police and 2 will inform railway person at manned railway crossing.
- When: at 4:15
- Where: police station in village and at manned crossing
- How: 1 will take help of villagers to reach police station using villagers motor cycle or cycle. And other two will reach ferry in running and take boat to reach the manned crossing near temple.
- Time & distance: 1 man will use villager's resources and in 20 minutes he can find the police station .and 2 others will cover 3 km. in 10 min. and then reaming 8 km by boat and it will take 10 minutes as speed of current will also support us.
- Action: informing the concerned person on time will resolve the issue till 4:50 pm.

Problem 4: cow in marshy land

- Who: 2 of us + lady + villager who informed us about miscreants
- What: will take the cow out of marshy land
- When: they will start at 4:15
- Where: will move to marshy land
- How: we will collect resources like rope, man power, some some sticks, a wooden plank etc. and using them we will pull the cow out
- Time & distance: it will take us 5 mins to cover 2 kms and then 10 mins to gather resources. And near 30 mins to take cow out.
- Action: we will save the cow with help of villagers. Till 5:00.

After all problems are solved

- All of us will gather at tea stall till 5:20 and catch the bus and reach garage and collect our jeep and return to the hostel before 7:00 pm.

PROGRESSIVE GROUP TASK

Progressive group task PGT is continued after the group planning exercise. This is an outdoor task and is one of the interesting tasks of the GTO series. This task is about a set of obstacles in ground in that you and your team members need to cross each obstacle by a set of rules. The time allotted for the task is 30-45 minutes and to cross the obstacles the group will have some helping materials which are given by the GTO.

The helping material will be

- Wooden log (Balli)
- Wooden plank (Phatta)
- Rope
- A fragile load to carry

As the name suggests the task will include a number of levels and the consecutive level will be difficult than the last level. The whole group participates in the task.

RULES OF THE TASK

1. Rule of color– The structures are painted in different colors viz Red, Yellow and White.
2. White– Both the person and helping material can use this structure.
3. Yellow– The person can stand on this structure but he cannot place the helping material on the structure colored yellow.
4. Red– Both the candidate and helping material should not touch the obstacle.
5. Out of bound area– The areas in the PGT which should not be touched are called as out of bound areas. These areas include the mud surfaces and the color mentioned above.
6. Rule of rigidity– This rule states that no two rigid helping materials can be tied together. Instead the helping material can be tied with the structure.
7. Rule of infinity– This states that the start and the end line of the obstacle extend till infinity. The group cannot pass these lines.
8. Rule of Group and load– The entire group along with the last person, helping material and load must move ahead in unison at any point of time through the entire course of the obstacle.
9. Rule of distance– It states that no distance greater than four feet can be jumped. The gap more than four feet has to be bridged using the helping materials to shorten the distance.

IMPORTANT POINTS TO BE FOLLOWED

1. Never look at the GTO while doing the tasks.
2. Pay attention to the briefing given by the GTO before the start of any obstacle.
3. Look into the details, the GTO shows in his explanation. Many a times, he indirectly gives clues and hints while briefing.
4. Give a logical solution of the problem.
5. Talk to your group in a friendly tone.
6. Support the subordinate and motivate them to complete the task.

TIPS ON TACKLING PROGRESSIVE GROUP TASK

1. Run to the start line where the helping materials are placed as soon as the GTO says that you may start. Don't walk like a snail show some sense of urgency.
2. When you'll run it'll be an advantage for you only because then you'll be able to catch hold of any of the helping material.
3. You must take the plank or balli or the rope in your hand and start the work immediately.
4. Please do not take the load and try to get your possession on the helping materials because then only you'll be able to start the work.
5. While you are making your bridge you must ask other group members to help you and not try to do it on your own.
6. If someone else has taken the lead and started making the bridge then you must support them by your ideas and your physical help.
7. Do not stand and watch the other members doing it, you have to be involved and look involved.
8. Volunteer to cross the bridge first and encourage others to cross it as well. If anybody is hesitating then you must motivate them and help them in crossing.
9. While working and encouraging others you must be loud enough because your voice must reach the GTO at least and he'll think that you are involved.
10. You must look working the entire time try not to remain idle for a single second.
11. When the GTO is giving the directions he might ask you that okay now I'll tell you the rules for PGT, does anybody knows the rule? Then please do not act over smart and say 'Yes', because this is the first Outdoor task you are blank on the rules as of now.
12. Do not ask the GTO silly questions like how much distance is 3-4 feet, at your age you are expected to have that much sense of distance.
13. The GTO will even ask your group that how much time you'll need to complete the task, do not say 30 minute or 35 minute, tell 1 hour he'll bargain for 40-45 minute.
14. Do not shout on your team members and do not throw the helping material etc.
15. Do not break the rules and if you are breaking any you have infinite chance to correct it, there is no penalty hence if you happen to break a rule then you must repeat the task again. Honesty is what is expected from you.
16. Wait till all the members have crossed.
17. Do not look at the GTO all the time.
18. DO not give up easily, keep on motivating your team members and encouraging them to perform.

GROUP OBSTACLE RACE [SNAKE RACE]

Unlike other tasks here the entire group competes with other groups of your batch over a set of six obstacles. Each group has to carry a roll of tent/ stuffed gunny bags in the shape of snake from the start point to finish point. Therefore the task is commonly referred as Snake Race. The rules of the race will be explained to you, the winner is the group that cover all the obstacles against the challenge posed by opponents. Not to forget to include time, obstacles and load within the framework of rules of the race. After the race there is a short 20 minutes break for rest and refreshments.

THE OBSTACLES TO BE CROSSED IN SNAKE RACE ARE

- Spider web
- Parallel big size iron pipe painted with white, red alternatively, the candidate has to cross it without touching the red lines and bend his body such that making the letter '8'.
- Balance Beam.
- 10 feet wall.
- Crossing parallel walls – In between these walls, a pipe is laid to cross.

The aim of Preparation for individual obstacle and snake race is for Physical Stamina. They will see physical stamina and fearlessness in Individual Obstacles. Also in Snake Race they will see our selfishness participation in group, rule following, team spirit etc.

GENERAL PREPARATION

Doing exercises like Push ups, Pull ups, Rope climbing etc is really helpful for the Group Obstacle race. Because in these exercises, we are lifting our own body weight.

For eg. For climbing up 10 feet wall, we must have greater muscular strength in arms. Push ups and pull ups increase our ability to lift our own body weight.

GROUP OBSTACLE RACE – PROCEDURE

The senior most GTO explains the rules of the task and the nature of the obstacles to all the groups.

- A dummy snake is given to each group which they have to carry with them all the time during the race.
- The whole group is required to run together with the snake. Individual running is prohibited.
- The colour rule of the PGT also applies here. The snake should not touch the ground and should be held by at least 3 group members when they are on an obstacle.
- Otherwise the whole group must hold the snake when approaching one obstacle from another.
- Each group is required to have a war cry for example “BHARAT MATA KI JAY”, “CHAK DE” etc.
- The group must shout the war cry loudly in order to motivate its group members and also to spook the rival group.
- A penalty in the form of time is imposed by the GTO if the group is found to break any rule.
- The group which finishes first after bearing the time penalties (if any) is declared the winner.

GROUP OBSTACLE RACE – KEY POINTS

- It is a test of cooperation and team spirit. Therefore, it is requested that you do not show any selfish motive at any point of the race.
- Though it is a race, you must not leave your group members behind to win the race.
- Be careful with all the rules of the task and if you have broken any rule, admit it honestly.
- Be genuinely helpful towards your group members, do not get into squabbles with them.
- Please shun this dogma of showing your helping nature to the GTO overtly.
- Forget that there is any GTO checking your performance. It is really fatuous and flippant of the candidates to help others just for getting some points by the GTO.
- The GTO is very experienced; do not look at him during the task. He is noticing everybody though he is appearing not to.
- Motivate the group when required. Please do not listen to the people who tell you to shout the WAR CRY incessantly. It will only make your throat go sore, nothing else.
- Remember, only genuine and veritable efforts will be rewarded, even a pang of selfish motive will get into the eye of GTO.
- Do the task as a normal routine activity, extra pressure will only make things worse.

HALF GROUP TASK (HGT)

After the break you will participate in the Half Group Task. This task is similar to the PGT except that it is conducted over one obstacle with smaller group.

The HGT can be considered as the most important task of GTO Outdoor tasks. After the GD and PGT, some of the candidates might have assumed the role of a leader and some of the candidates may not have been able to express themselves or put forth their views because of the presence of brilliant candidates in his group. After the PGT and GD, the GTO might have formed an assessment about each candidate and he observes every candidate minutely in HGT to conclude or to change his former assessment.

As the number of candidates is reduced to half, GTO can minutely observe the leadership qualities of every candidate. Also in HGT, every candidate has a wider opportunity to show his various character traits and leadership qualities if in case he failed to do so in PGT. So you must give importance to HGT as this test will mark your leadership qualities. After the HGT, the GTO will form a clear cut assessment about every candidate and he assesses the candidates further in the following tests to confirm his earlier findings.

TIPS TO TACKLE HALF-GROUP TASK

1. Never look at the G.T.O while doing the tasks.
2. Give a good idea to the group if you don't know any idea just helps the idea givers truthfully.
3. Never violate the rules it is the basis of G.T.O tasks, and in case if you violate the rule, just repeat the task.
4. Be an active participant in the team by giving your full cooperation.
5. Be positive in your views i.e. take consideration about other member ideas if it is finer than yours.
6. It is for you to become the leader of the Group .An avenue for leadership is opened to you and you must make use of it. Practical intelligence ,dashing spirit, sociability, dominating nature and of course your personal magnetism will make you the leader.
7. Always have a gentle smile at your face throughout the GTO Tasks which shows that you are confident.
8. Be gentle and polite while behaving with other group members
9. If you have no idea of tackling the obstacle ,be a faithful follower and if your group is caught in an obstacle, make use of the Golden opportunity and explain a constructive plan to negotiate the obstacle. Remember ,never try to impose yourself to the group. Let the group be depended on you.

LECTURETTE

Lecturette is a task from the Group Testing/GTO series. In this a candidate is asked to deliver a short talk on any one of the topic given to him/her out of the four topics. The GTO has as much number of cards as there are candidates in a group. Each card has four topics written on it. Each candidate is expected to pick up one card and give a short talk of about 3 minutes on any one of the given topics.

The first candidate as per numerical sequence will come and pick up one card, go a little away from the group, prepare for a maximum time of 3 minutes or less and when ready can come back and return the card to the GTO and speak for maximum three minutes. As soon as the first candidate is ready the second one can come pick up the card and start preparing.

As soon as two and half minutes are over the GTO will a ring a bell. This indicates that the candidate must wind up soon. After three minutes GTO rings two bells, with this the first candidate sits down and second stands up.

WHAT IS SEEN THROUGH LECTURETTE

- Self Confidence.
- Ability to influence group.
- Power of expression.
- Clarity of thoughts.
- Determination to deliver under stress.

- General Awareness.
- Courage to speak in front of people.
- Command and power in your speaking style.

TIPS FOR LECTURETTE PREPARATION

- Start practicing to speak in English.
- Speak with your friends, family members in English or talk to yourself only!
- Read newspapers and increase your general awareness about the most common things which could be asked also which are of national and international importance.
- Take sample topics like UNO, Indo-Pak relations etc. and give yourself a preparation time of three minutes, then mark with a clock or take anybody's help to monitor three minutes time and give a lecture on your chosen topic.
- If you feel shy in giving lecture in front of any family member, then simply stand in front of the mirror and speak, trust me that help a lot!
- The topics given will be of different levels, like one will be of really high level, the other being slightly lower and so on. So choose your topic wisely.
- Choose only the topic you are well aware and conversant with, choosing a high level topic will not impress anybody if you'll not speak well on it.
- Maintain a good posture while speaking, do not slouch or lean on the podium.
- Do not look unduly worried; remember it is only three minutes it will pass away
- While lecturette the allotted three minutes seem to be the longest three minutes of our life, so speak slowly and clearly.
- Never look at the GTO while speaking.
- Make an eye contact with your friends sitting there; speak as if you are teaching them some topic.
- Divide your content so you'll find easy to speak, keep your mind running all the time you are speaking.
- Do not use your hands while speaking.
- Do not exceed your time and also do not finish very fast.

INDIVIDUAL OBSTACLES

I.O. also known as Individual Obstacles is one of the tasks of the GTO series, generally conducted on the first day of GTO testing. Sometimes it could be conducted on the second day, depending on the weather and mood of the officer. As the name suggests this task is performed by each member of the group, individually.

The purpose of this test is to check ability, physical toughness, stamina level, courage, determination, acrophobia (fear of heights), it also checks how fast you can make choice and execute it. There are total 10 tasks and time bound is 3 min. one can repeat the task if he is able to complete all 10 obstacles before 3 min. all obstacles are marked from 1 to 10, more task a candidate complete more his marks will be. You need to maintain a good stamina level. It is not necessary to start the tasks from 1st, but it is left to the wish of the candidate where does he want to start from. Army and Navy SSB has same IO tasks but there are few differences between I.O. in army and air force selection centres.

Total Marks : 55

Time : 3 mins

Obstacles : 10

These tasks are:-

Army	Air Force
1. Jumping over a slide:- This is the 1 pointer task which is the simplest. You have to run on the slope of an inclined plane and jump across a line which is marked at approximately 4ft from the end of the plane.
2. Long jump:- It consists jump across a 6 ft.* 3ft. drum. For male and for girls the length is slightly less.	2. High jump:- It is a simple 3ft high jump. You can use free style for making the jump. There will be sand on the other side of the bar to avoid injury in case you happen to fall.
3. Zig-Zag Balance:- it include walk over a zig-zag balance and completion of walk and land properly. it is not used in air force. 	3. Walking a wooden log:- Walking on a cylindrical log of length approximately 6ft. The pole will be 4ft above the ground level.
4. High Screen jump:- candidate need to run over a slide and over a screen placed after slide. 	4. Jumping platforms: You have to climb a platform of 12 ft and then take two jumps. The first jump is to the lower platform which will be at 8ft from the ground. The second one is to the ground.
5. Burma bridge: You need to walk between two ropes for a distance of 25 ft. The two ropes will be tied on poles at a height of 10 ft. This obstacle starts shaking as you begin to move so maintain your body balance. it is also most time consuming task.
6. Tarzan swing:-in this candidate climb to a platform near 10-12 ft at height then taking a rope in hand he need to swing like Tarzan and to land after a	6. Climbing the wall: Run up the slope of an inclined plane and climb over a wall of 8 ft. this wall is actually a wooden screen.

mark on the land. Tarzan swing is not in air force.

The best way is to put your one foot on top of the wall and get yourself rolled over to the other side.

7. Jumping platforms: This can be difficult if you are scared of heights but it is easily doable. You have to climb a platform of 12 ft and then take two jumps. The first jump is to the lower platform which will be at 8ft from the ground. The second one is to the ground.

7. Jumping through a tyre: Jump through a big tyre with your feet first. The tyre is hung from a post at a height of 5 ft. There will be a small loop in the rope which can be used to hold and pull yourself up to get into the tyre. This is not in army.

8. Double Ditch:- it have two ditch of 8ft.*3ft. and 4ft.*3ft. candidate need to cross the 1st ditch with the help of a rope and the second one with jump. This is not used in air force.

8. Tiger leap: You have to climb up a platform of 9ft and leap a distance of 4ft to catch a rope and get down by the rope. It is important to catch the rope at chest level so that you don't slide down and get cuts. In air force height of tiger leap is more than that of Army. it is for 10 points in army but here it is for 8 points.

9. Commando walk:-it consist walk from any side up and down from another, maintain balance. Sometimes instructions are given to shout some specific things while standing on the top platform.

9. Monkey crawl: You have to move on a wooden log of 25 ft in length hung from rope suspenders at 3 ft above the ground level. You can choose either to slide on the log or get underneath it and crawl with both your hands and feet. But since it is suspended from ropes, as soon as you climb on it the whole set up starts to swing from side to side. Not used in army.

10. Tiger leap:-walk up a podium, leap and catch hold of a rope, then to climb down.

10. Rope climbing: You have to climb up a vertical rope to touch the post at a height of approximately 4 to 5 metre and then to come back. Not used in army.

COMMAND TASK

Command task is one of the most interesting and important GTO Task. Unlike other Group Task, it is not a leaderless exercise. In this test, you are the commander and you have to accomplish the given task within allotted time. Here, your ability to give command is tested by the GTO.

Depending upon the performance of the candidate, GTO selects a task for every candidate. So if you have performed well in GTO tasks, the task allotted to you in the Command task will be rather challenging. Some simple tasks are allotted to the weak candidates.

Manner of Conduct: The GTO calls the candidates one by one and interacts with them.

He will explain the task allotted to you along with the helping materials. He then tells you to choose your Sub ordinates from your Group. Then you have to finish the job within the allotted time. There may be a load to be carried along with while you are negotiating the obstacles.

TIPS TO TACKLE THE COMMAND TASK

- While the GTO is explaining the task, listen to him carefully and clarify the doubts on the spot as you may not be allowed to ask anything after commencing the task.
- You can spend one or two minutes to form a broad plan. Use your common sense and think of a logical solution for the task.
- Never allow nervousness to overpower you as your intelligence shall not work properly when you are nervous.
- Be judicious in selection of your subordinates. They will be the ones who have to help you to finish the job. As you have spent a few days with your group, you may know the weakness and strength of each Group member.
- Make your subordinates stand in a line and explain the allotted task, your plan and materials at your disposal.
- If you are stuck somewhere while doing the command task, you can ask suggestions of your subordinates, but you may have to lose some marks.
- If you find that your subordinates are not doing the task according to your directions, ask them politely to follow your instructions.
- If you feel that your plan will not work well, you have to change it. Be logical and systematic.
- Do not be harsh and rude to your subordinates. You may encourage those who are cooperating and working well.
- Do not get nervous. Be cheerful and optimistic about your success and have confidence in your planning.
- GTO might increase the level of difficulty by asking you not to consider some structures or changing the colour code. He may ask for multiple solutions.
- When you are a helper, show maximum cooperation and loyalty.

Command task is to assess the common sense of a candidate and his ability of giving commands. He also evaluates the candidate's ability of working under stress by increasing difficulty. This task is used by the GTO to change some of his former assumptions about a candidate and to know each candidate in detail.

What kind of task you have got during Command task, was it hard or simple. Do share your experience in the comment box below.

FINAL GROUP TASK

This task consists of one obstacle similar to Progressive Group Task and the whole group participate in the task. Time limit is 15 minutes.

- Don't shut out others' ideas.

SSBCRACK

DAY 5 – CONFERENCE DAY

CLOSING ADDRESS

The last or the 5th day is spent in the conference. In the continuation of the process of selection, the day begins with the closing address. Closing Address is generally given by Dy President of the board before the Board Conference. During the address officer will highlight the merits of selection system, explain the qualities that we in the Armed Forces are looking for in your personality and provide clarification to any doubts or question that may arise in your mind. This is also interactive forum for you to put forward any problem complaint or any suggestion that you may have experienced during your stay at SSB.

BOARD CONFERENCE

The Board Conference is the final event of the five day testing process, during the board conference which is chaired by president, Dy president and all the assessors that is the GTOs, Psychologists and Interviewing Officers, who have assessed you will be in attendance. Each candidate is discussed in detail by the three assessors, who have examined his demonstrated performance through the specific technique independently to arrive at consensus on acceptability of each candidate. Detailed process of validation and counter validation is undertaken to arrive at final decision about the candidate. Candidates will be asked to appear individually before the board. You will be asked some question during the conference. Your answers during the conference are also important. The board makes final recommendation about the suitability of the candidate as well as final marks to be awarded to each candidate.

DECLARATION OF RESULT

After all the candidates have appeared before the board and the result has been compiled, the Technical Officer of the board will announce the result. The candidates who fail to make the grade are seen off at the railway station. All those who are recommended by the board will stay on for the medical examination which may take one week.

7 TIPS TO HANDLE SSB CONFERENCE

1. Smiling Face – Keep a smile over your face during your conference. Don't get into any kind of stress. All the assessors are there to conduct a short questioning drill. You just have to answer those in a simple and mannered way.
2. Be Clear In What You Are Answering – During the conference, a candidate can be asked questions by any of the assessors. Stay alert and direct the correct answer to the correct person. Don't get confused in the questions. The questions asked are casual.
3. Don't Criticize The SSB – Normally, the candidates are asked for any suggestion for changing the SSB testing criteria. You have to stay away from showing smartness by pointing mistakes or suggesting any change. The SSB testing is framed perfectly by highly experienced and qualified people. You can't point error in testing pattern. Your criticism shows your non-adjustability.
4. Avoid Asking Any Question Or Giving Suggestions – If you want to conclude your conference in a polite and stable manner, then avoid asking any question and suggesting anything. Your suggestion or your question will successively raise more questions and cross questioning can take you down.

5. Maintain Posture – Maintain your posture and keep your body relaxed. But don't lose your posture. Avoid shaking legs or shivering, walk in a gentle way and sit straight on the chair. While leaving the room, wish them "Good Day" and walk out of the door gently.
6. Prepare The Questions That Were Asked in Interview, but not answered by you – Many times, it is observed that the questions that were asked by IO in the interview and not replied by the candidates, were asked again in the conference. It is a general way to check, how you are dedicated toward overcoming your failures.
7. Follow the instructions given by CHM – Before commencement of the conference, CHM instructs all the candidates about where to wait before the conference, where to sit in the conference room, how to enter, how to leave etc... stick to those instructions and follow them.

15 FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS IN SSB CONFERENCE

1. How are you? How were your stay, food and accommodation here in last 5 days?
2. Rate your performance out of 10?
3. How do you rate your performance of three tests?
4. How many friends you made in these last five days?
5. Any changes which you felt in yourself in these 5 days.
6. Why you were not selected in your previous attempts? (For Repeaters).
7. What you will do if you are not selected this time?
8. Rate yourself in you group?
9. What is your next plan?
10. Which test you enjoyed most in SSB?
11. In which test you think you could have done better?
12. Have you been out with friends? What all places you visited of the city in which you Board is Located.
13. Compare your performance with previous ssb attempt?
14. Some SRTs if you are boarder line case?
15. Any suggestion for improvement of SSB?

MEDICAL EXAMINATION

Recommended candidates appear before the medical board for carrying out their medical board after the SSB results. It takes 4 to 5 working days for the concerned Military Hospital to complete the medical board and after that the candidates are dispersed. NDA candidates are examined both for Army and Navy unless otherwise instructed and endorsement of fitness status will be made accordingly. President of the medical board will guide the candidates for Appeal/Review Medical Board procedures. Candidates may seek the advice of President Special Medical Board for review/appeal in case they have been declared unfit.

PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT TIPS FOR SSB

HOW TO BE A HERO OF YOUR SSB INTERVIEW GROUP

1. Stop the “I don’t know anything” pretension: Some of us think that if we try to pretend as if we know nothing about the SSB and how things are done in SSB others will think that we are innocent and take us lightly. Trust me I have seen candidates behaving that way. It casts a negative impression on your mates. Avoid it.
2. Stop the “I know everything” show-off: Everybody knows that if you are in SSB you ought to be intelligent and smart but don’t forget that so are they. Your mates are not fools so stop answering every question that is being asked in your group. If person ‘x’ is asking to person ‘y’ then tell me where do you stand to answer the question? Stop playing the crow in between who tries to catch the ball every time it is thrown.
3. Pulling other person’s leg will make you fall eventually: If you find pulling legs and talking sarcasm cool then surely your group mates will like you to remain aloof and retain your coolness alone. Hence pulling leg of a weak member or talking sarcasm on anybody is not an officer’s material.
4. Sharing is good but only to an extent: Asking for your group mate’s towel, cream, shampoo etc. etc. will certainly make you look like a needy but not an officer.
5. Play polo: Here I don’t mean the horse polo, I simply mean the mint, and it can do wonders! While you are sitting in the bus or waiting for the PPDT you can easily slide or pass a polo to your group mates, trust me it is a good friendship starter! So the next time you go for your SSB keep this wonder mint with you in a good stock.
6. Pamper them: While you go for an outing in the city, pamper them and give a treat to them. A few samosa’s and a bottle of cold drink will cost nothing if you compare it with you pay-band as an officer
7. Be real: Don’t be a fake person, be real show your real self you are unique so don’t try to copy anybody.
8. Lies are a big no-no: If you tell them that you are topper of your college and you lack the basic General knowledge also then its worthless to mention the impression they’ll have of you. Hence please don’t lie about anything, lying only makes you conscious.

6 LIFE LESSONS THAT ONLY SSB CAN TEACH YOU

1. Organization and discipline.

With each day being dedicated to a certain test which is highly time bound and with every assessor and other members of the SSB board being highly detail oriented while briefing the candidates and assessing their performance, it's safe to say that the 5 day long procedure makes the candidates organized and disciplined. They have to show up on time, they have to do things under certain time period and all these things inculcate the quality of being organised and disciplined.

2. Team Work and Cohesiveness.

There are numerous tasks in the SSB that occur in teams and a group to assess how each candidate performs as a team member and who emerges as a leader. Be it the chaos of the Group Discussion or the strategizing in the Group Planning Exercise the art of working as a team and maintaining the decorum while the discussions is something that the SSB teaches to each of its candidates and the ability to be a group member and to think about others first and then oneself and to maintain the cohesiveness of one's group and to emerge with commonly agreed upon solutions and answers.

3. Quick decision making.

In the SSB, the presence of mind and the reasoning ability of the candidate is assessed along with several other qualities and characteristics. With being subjected to different stressful (hypothetical in case of the situation reaction test and other psychological test and real in case of the various GTOs tests), the decision making ability of the candidate needs to be quick as well as sound. Any individual with quick and good decision making ability is always valued in the organizational setup, needless to say this ability is desired in the Officers as well and the SSB makes a candidate realise its importance.

4. Mental toughness.

During the entire SSB procedure, the candidates are being evaluated and assessed on their personality traits and characteristics. To accomplish this task the psychological tests are designed in a way that elicit the true traits and qualities of the candidates. Being subjected to numerous psychological tests and other physical tasks, a candidate learns how to be mentally strong and tough.

5. Motivation and determination.

The drive that the candidates have, to be amongst the fortunate ones to don the coveted Olive Green grows only stronger while having the SSB experience. The SSB process teaches a person to be determined and to be motivated to fulfil their dreams and goals.

6. Nothing is impossible.

When I come across people who have cleared their SSB in 8th attempt and 11th attempt, it really proves that nothing is impossible and if one is truly dedicated and determined then no matter how much unattainable the goal may seem, you can achieve it and the sky is the limit for you!

8 TIPS TO COMBAT SHYNESS AND SOCIAL ANXIETY

If I ask you whether you feel a little jittery while you are about to go on a podium for a speech or a debate, most likely your answer would be a yes. There might have been an incident or two when you must have felt shy to walk up to talk to a person or you must have felt hesitant or anxious to ask someone for professional matters. The feeling of butterflies in the stomach often occurs in such situations due to anxiety and shyness.

It's a very common thing to happen irrespective whether you are an extrovert or an introvert. All of us at some point would have felt shy or socially anxious. It's normal, but when these feelings of anxiety and shyness start taking a toll on a person, it can lead to various psychological disorders. From the SSB point of view, social anxiety and shyness can hamper your chances of success. With self-confidence, social adaptability and initiative being some of the OLQs, you have to mould yourself so that your shyness and anxiety doesn't cause a hindrance to your successful performance.

How you perform in the Lecturette, the Group Discussion, the Command Task, the Group Task, the Interview and other tests, all can get affected if you let your shyness and anxiety control you. Leaving SSB aside, even general life functioning will be affected.

According to Dr. Bernardo J. Carducci, shyness has three components:

Excessive Self-Consciousness – you are overly aware of yourself, particularly in social situations.

Excessive Negative Self-Evaluation – you tend to see yourself negatively.

Excessive Negative Self-Preoccupation – you tend to pay too much attention to all the things you are doing wrong when you are around other people.

One tends to feel shy and socially anxious due to various internal (from within the individual) and external (the outside environment) factors.

Having a low self-esteem and doubting oneself is an example of internal factors, while being labelled as a shy person by other people is an example of external factors.

HOW CAN ONE OVERCOME SHYNESS AND SOCIAL ANXIETY?

1. Engaging with others.

Start with indulging in small talk with people. It could be in a supermarket, metro rides, restaurants, neighbours, etc. The more you engage and get exposure to different individuals, the more confident you will be in dealing with diverse individuals.

2. Understand your anxiety.

Try and figure out what makes you anxious. Try to find out the specific situations that make you act shy in front of people and understand how it affects your life. Having this information will make it simpler for you to combat your shyness and anxiety in social settings.

3. Act confidently.

Confidence can be learned and it comes through practice. There must have been so many things you might have been afraid of in your childhood but I'm sure you've overcome those fears now. Avoiding social gatherings and interaction is the problem and facing this situation with confidence and self-belief is the solution.

4. Develop confident body language.

Make your body language such that people feel and think that you're a positive and an open person. Smile, give warm and affectionate handshakes, make eye contact, walk with your head held high, and speak clearly and effectively.

5. Focus on the moment.

While talking and conversing with others shift your focus from yourself, how you look, how you talk to what's being spoken. Focus on the content, the words, the expressions and the tone.

6. Turn self-consciousness to self-awareness.

With your understanding of what makes you shy, seek within yourself and observe yourself. Self-awareness is the first step towards any change or life improvement.

7. Practice social skills.

Social skills aren't hard to cultivate. Practice them and figure out what you should do and how you should behave in particular situations.

8. Try new things in life.

You get one life to live and there are a number of things to do and goals to achieve. Don't let your social anxiety take control of your life. Join a club, go to a new place, play a new sport, do things that you've never done before even if it makes you anxious. This is the best way you will gain confidence.

8 WAYS TO BUILD A SUITABLE PERSONALITY FOR ARMED FORCES

1. Be honest – Your honesty is your identity card. What you say should be what you do. A bluffer can never be an officer. Honesty in behaviour keeps the things crystal clear and imposes your perfect image on others.
2. Let your action speak louder than your voice – Keep your voice in control and make people to judge you by your actions, rather than your voice or pitch. In SSB your actions, mind and words are analysed to decide your perfectness for the services.
3. Be lively and happy – An officer faces several kinds of situations and circumstances in his life time. Your moral and your liveliness makes the situation calm and this helps the officer to handle the situation.
4. Develop your productive interest and hobby – Your nature of working depends over your hobbies and interests. Your hobbies and interests should be productive rather than casual and time wasting like watching TV or chatting on FB, Whatsapp. If you are watching TV then watch some knowledge full shows. Productive hobbies and interest can be repairing basic machines, gathering technical knowledge, tracking, cycling, etc.
5. Confidence is all you need – Your confidence is checked in all SSB tests. Officer means responsibility, and confidence is the factor that drives responsibility. Your mind should always keep a motto on top that nothing is impossible for you. Then you can easily track new ways to reach your destination.
6. Control your temper – An officer is the one who controls his mind and temper in all situations. Loosing temper can add problems. Your coordination with your team should be in a humble, coordinated and calm state. Try to solve problems in casual life without losing temper.

7. Curiosity makes – Questioning and inquiring is a good habit and this enhances the experience and widens our mind's reach. The Armed Forces need a candidate who can complete a given work/ task with the given resources. It is not always that officers get all resources they need. They have to manage the task keeping the given resources in mind. And this can be achieved with the help of prior experience. Your risk, responsibility, stamina and determination to complete the work is all that expands our experience.

8. Do and make the task done – Your ultimate aim in Armed Forces will be to accept and make the task done on the orders of seniors. No matter how and why, your eye should be at the end of the task. Be a leader, operate your men, and make them to do the task as per your plan and stay involved in the task.

7 WAYS TO REMAIN FOCUSSED ON YOUR GOALS

1. Make SMART goals.

SMART here is an acronym where

S- specific

M- measurable

A- attainable

R- relevant

T- time bound

Make sure that the goals that you've set for yourself are specific. It'll be easier for you to focus better and to work towards it with clarity. Next, your goal should be measurable; you should be able to tell when you have achieved your goal. Attainability of a goal means that you can do and is within your capability. Having a relevant goal means that the goal should have some value for you and it shouldn't be something that doesn't excite you. Lastly, having a time bound goal will make sure that there exists a deadline and that the goal becomes a reality and doesn't just remain a dream.

2. Write down your goals.

"I hear and I forget; I see and I remember; I write and I understand." – Chinese Proverb. Thinking about a goal may only keep you aware of it and motivated to some extent but writing it down makes a huge difference, it's your own way to tell and remind yourself that this is what you want in life and by doing this; it'll be etched on your consciousness.

3. Have strong reasons.

When you decide upon your aim and goal in life you must do so with reasons which are strong and powerful enough to not only get you excited but also motivated. Reason and belief together make a great motivator to work hard and to put in efforts towards the goals set. Your goal should excite you and then you need to be determined to work for it.

4. Make a plan and follow it.

Just dreaming and reminding yourself of what your dreams and ambitions aren't will not get you anywhere. You need to make a well thought and well-organised action plan which ensures your progress towards the attainment of your goals. Make a realistic plan that you can follow and keep a check of how much you efforts you are making.

5. Tell others about your goals.

While I read somewhere that one shouldn't reveal their goals, I on the other hand feel that one MUST tell their near and dear ones about their dreams and goals. Once you've told your goal to someone, they can check on you regarding your progress, which is a great motivator. Having someone (other than yourself) to be answerable to will make sure that you don't get sluggish. Also remember that responsibility is a result of accountability.

6. Take action every single day.

Do something every day which is shortening the distance between you and your goal. No goal can be achieved in a day; it requires constant effort, patience and determination. Therefore, you must do constrictive things daily that are benefiting you and allowing you to come closer to your goal. Break it down into smaller parts and then work on them individually.

7. Believe in it and act as if it's already your reality.

"The mind is everything, what you think you become" - Buddha. Indeed this holds true. Believing in yourself, your capability gets you motivated and you tend to remain determined to achieve what you want. Also, acting as if the goal is already your reality is another great motivator. If you think in a particular manner, you will end up believing in that thought which has a direct implication on your behaviour. Therefore, believe in yourself and use the power of your mind.
