I wish I was BORN

Glamour: My dear it has happened again O
Sistus: What?
Glamour: I'm pregnant
Sistus: Pregnant??? How?
Glamour: What do you mean by how?
Sistus: You said you are pregnant. We are both in our 2nd year in school. I don't understand!
Glamour: At least you understand the night wrestling you enjoyed, so what do we do?
Sistus: There is only one way out "ABORTION"
Glamour: In fact, I already thought of it, I was just waiting for you to move the motion. We will need about #50,000
Sistus: I'll get the money across to you before tomorrow morning, Get that 'thing' out of you once the money gets to you please.
An unknown voice: Noooooooooo

"I want to be born". I have a destiny and a future, a dream and a purpose to fulfil on earth. Kindly, give me a chance to live and please don't arrange for my untimely death. I was happy you are the only human have known on earth even when not born. I was hoping we will be communicating, only to hear the conversion that am not accepted and welcomed. I would only return to heaven uncelebrated, unknown, unfulfilled and unborn. I would return as if I did not come and never to come again.

Definitely I want to be born. I have my own life, my own purpose and talents that the world is supposed to celebrate but you want to terminate my life for no just cause. Is it because of the shame and rejection you will feel for a while, or because he rejected us? I also feel the pain because I heard everything he said to you, I was there. I promise he will come back to beg for your forgiveness and my acceptance, don't just accept the idea of killing me. I promise to wipe your tears away, to bring you comfort and make you a proud mom but all my dreams and wishes are never heard because it seems your mind is made up and you are ready to kill me.

I would have lived `I WISH I WAS BORN'. Every time I imagine from heaven what I would have become here on earth and each time I see problems I would have solved.

Unfortunately the unknown child is never known and the unknown voice is never heard, up till today people decide the earth penalty of the unborn child without ever paying any attention to his/her or their(twins or triplet) opinion. That foetus has a soul, spirit, and body that comes along with personal desires, expression and a will like everyone of us. This is what makes it possible for a baby to struggle in the womb. Every baby in the womb has a desire to live out their life and that desire only start from "I WISH I WAS BORN". Even while still forming that baby already wishes he/she was born. According to science during ejaculation more than 200 millions sperms are release and all the sperms thrive (I mean race) to hatch the egg in the fallopian tube. Only one sperm is needed to fertilize this egg, along the line some will die, others will miss target and as the saying 'survival of the fittest' and finally the chosen and deliberate sperm hatch the egg and it becomes a baby. You called it a mistake, no dear I call it a miracle! So you can imagine what happens to the baby after running such marathon against millions to win and eventually another human decides to end that desire(effort) in "COLD BLOOD" because of some selfish reasons. HAS YOUR HOPES EVER BEEN DASHED?

Only God knows the magnitude of children crying "I wish I was born" in heaven right now against millions of us. They will never keep silent, just imagine yourself as an aborted baby in heaven looking at the glorious life you didn't get to live all because of one lady who would rather have you killed at the 3rd hour (3months) or 4th hour (4months) of your journey rather than inconvenience herself, would you be silent in heaven? Or would you cry against her? For every unborn child, a generation, a family, a society, a nation and even the entire world has lost a precious gift. The arithmetic is open to all, then you will know how many gems we have lost in this planet earth. Each of them just like you and I have a purpose and an assignment to fulfil on the earth. They didn't just develop in your tummy. They were sent and kept there deliberately by God.

I seem to be hearing the voice of an unborn prince and princess about to be slaughtered in someone's womb right now screaming "I WISH I WAS BORN". To a mother who seems to have fixed her execution appointment in a few days time, please hear her voice she's crying in your womb only in an inaudible voice you cannot hear or understand.

Hear her pleading "HOW I WISH I WAS BORN". He or She is pleading with the medical practitioners in the world to discourage the mom from committing abortion. This include the pharmacist to discourage the use of drugs to terminate her/him

Don't kill that baby! She has a future, a purpose, a destiny and a God given mandate. All she needs from you is a chance to live. Just a chance!!! She came from God and still belongs to God. Let her live! She may even end up being the child that will bring you great fame in your old age. That child is definitely someone's answer to a problem, that child is a solution. Even if she has to be raised in an orphanage, let her live!!! Even if she has to pass through some suffering she still prefers to be born and face them than been aborted (killed) (murdered). All you need to do is give him/her a "CHANCE".
