The telephone (in general and the mobile phone in particular) is something of a scientific miracle. Pressing the right buttons can put you in touch with nearly anyone in the world. However, this scientific miracle has quickened the rhythm of life and produced a new type of manners and societies.

The fast high tech lives of Americans had a big effect on American society Bad manners and behaviors have typical in our hurried world, from angry drivers to loud mobile phone conversations in public.

Many Americans believe that manners have got worse and official figures confirm this. In a recent survey, nearly 70% said that people are ruder than they were 20 or 30 year ago. This is true of both large and small towns, although 74% of those living in cities said that people have become ruder, compared with 67% in rural areas. However, few people believe that they have bad manners themselves for example only 80% in the questionnaire admit they have ever used their mobiles in public in a loud or annoying way.
