FACTS

Almost everything you think you know is a lie. Israel is not in the middle east. The true location of the land Israel in the Bible is irrefutably along the Nile River in Africa, and I am going to prove it WITH the Bible, science, and geography.

INTRODUCTION

The Bible is the history and law book of the Hebrews and Israelites. When we read scriptures about slavery and curses in the past, present, and future, it is easy to determine who the physical Israelites are in the world today.

Even the most active churchgoer does not know a lot about what the Bible says. That is a fact. They know scriptures their pastors teach them week after week, but these scriptures are tailored to match their pastor's doctrinal beliefs.

While it is great to be able to quote random scriptures to match a person's doctrinal beliefs, pastors should teach their members the entire Bible.

When someone discovers they are an Israelite, the first thing they learn is how to study everything for themselves and how to actually read the Bible. That alone let us know we were heading in the right direction.

You should never again trust someone to "tell" you what the Bible says. You should know what the Bible says for yourself. It is time we unlearn the lies and never ever believe what someone tells you without verifying the information or yourself.

MISSION STATEMENT

Jeremiah and Jael do not take part in any organized religion, whether Christian or Israelite. We call ourselves Hebrews, and we are the Israelite descendants of Abraham the Hebrew. The Holy Bible, scientific, and historical records; give us evidence of who and where the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob are in the world today. Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob are our forefathers.

We believe in salvation through Christ. We believe Christ, the Son of God, is our savior and that he died for us to show us the way. We believe in following the laws, statutes, and commandments of the Bible.

Not all the laws, the ones that the Most High tells us we are still supposed to follow today. We believe in honoring the Sabbath, eating clean foods, and not partaking in any of satan's holidays.

We believe in baptism by full water submersion.

We do not believe in speaking in tongues, not as the Christian church teaches.

We do not believe in taking drugs of any kind recreationally. We do not drink, but we believe the Bible says it is okay to drink alcohol in moderation. We believe a man should be upright and follow the laws of the Most High God. A man should work and provide for his family. We believe a woman should be submissive to a "GOD-FEARING HONORABLE LAW-ABIDING" man. We believe a woman should dress modestly and be a helpmeet to her husband. We believe in a monogamous marriage between one man and one woman; we do not believe in multiple wives. We do not teach hate against any group or groups of people in this world. While we believe homosexuality is a sin, according to the Bible, we do not believe in mistreating homosexuals or any other person on this earth. We believe anyone that repents is under God's laws has a chance to make it to Heaven.

We believe anyone who follows God's laws, statutes, and commandments has a chance to make it.

We write our books to inform our people about their history; however, that does not constitute hate for any people on this earth. We are a peaceful Israelite group. Although we teach our people the truth according to God's Word, we do not set out to teach hate against any group of people or individuals.

Our objective is to educate our people, and that is our primary goal and only motive.

We believe that the Israelites are scattered around the earth. We do NOT believe God's chosen lineage of people are done away with and no longer exist, nor do we believe that they have been "ASSIMILATED" or "ABSORBED" into the population. There are STILL Biblical Israelites that "PHYSICALLY" exist in this world today. We do NOT believe in "SPIRITUAL" Israelites. Physical Israelites exist in the world, and their numbers are in the millions. Our mission is to reunite them with Christ, our savior.

Chapter One

Who are You?

When one first discovers they have been lied to their entire lives and that they are indeed bloodline Israelites, it is a process.

Many people become overwhelmed and decide it is all too complicated, so they become Egyptologists, atheists, or Pan-Africanists; and some give up on the Bible altogether.

For some reason, we, as a people, in general, have such low self-value that it is unthinkable for us to believe we could be one of God's chosen people. The brainwashing and the lies are deep!

We know their history is not our history, and we know we have been lied to our entire lives. We know our history did not begin with slavery, yet, we still cannot fathom the idea that we are Israelites.

Even though we may find it challenging to accept that we are Israelites, we know the church system as a whole is not right. The biggest question we should ask ourselves, is why can't we believe we are one of God's chosen people?

Other people around the world do not have any problem claiming it AT ALL! However, we… WE are a part of God's chosen people, and we cannot accept it or even grasp it! WHY? Why is that?

For those of you that can accept it, it is crucial for you; once you determine that you are an Israelite to stop and slow down. You must relax and take things slowly, or you will end up in more of a mess.

All of our lives, we have heard a story of a people and their history. However, the people in that version of history do not seem like us. Most of us can freely admit that something does not seem right about the past we have been taught.

Europeans are the highlight and focus of almost every single history lesson we know. As a people, we have always known something was missing from our story.

The version of history we have been forced to acknowledge our entire lives; seems to leave us with more questions than answers. It leaves us with questions like, where do we belong? Who are we? What happened to us BEFORE slavery? Where is our true land, and what is our true history?

When my husband Jeremiah and I started studying with the knowledge God blessed us with, it all started making sense.

It became evident, the history we had been taught our entire lives was THEIR history. The Bible is OUR history book. You might not know anything about Jeremiah and I, but trust me, when you look at the Bible as the history book of Black Americans, and other ethnic peoples across the earth, it ALL makes perfect sense.

Christopher Columbus and Einstein and all of those other people are their people and THEIR history. They are not our people; that is not our history. It really is a fantastic discovery!

We were taught in church and by the Christian world in general that God and Jesus are the same, that they are one person or one unit. We are also taught that God's laws are done away with, and they do not exist, and no longer matter.

We are taught that God's people do not exist anymore, and they are no longer relevant. We are taught that gentiles (Christians) are God's new set of people, and Christ came to die not only for them but for every soul on the earth.

Let me explain something as apparent as humanly possible. It is all a lie. Let me be clear, neither Jeremiah nor Jael are anti-Semitic. We believe that whoever follows God's laws, those are God's people. I do not care if it is a Jew over in the land they call Israel, a Christian, a Black Hebrew Israelite, or a Catholic.

What God wants now and what God has always wanted is for his people to follow his rules, laws, and statutes, not all of them, but some of them. Those are not my ideas; those are Biblical facts.

We had heard of not eating swine before. I had heard people making fun of Muslims for saying, "Do not eat the SWINE"… and going on and on about it. Muslims have even been mocked about "not eating the swine" in movies and on TV shows.

I always thought the "swine thing" was some Muslim thing, so I never paid any attention to it. Whenever I asked my pastor about it, he would tell me it was a thing of the past.

I personally do not have anything against Muslims, it is just not my thing, and I never wanted any association with them, not as a people but as far as their religious beliefs go.

Every church I ever attended, and I've been to a lot of them, the pastors explained most of the things in the Bible away, by saying they are a thing of the past. If members had questions, they would say, "that it is the old testament, and we don't live in the old testament anymore."

When I started researching the Bible and Hebrewism, I discovered that we are still supposed to be eating clean foods. We are also still under some laws stated in the Bible.

The church would like to have you believe the following by saying things like... "Yes, yes, we know that God said certain foods are an abomination to eat, but when Jesus died, he said, forget what God said everything is now good to eat! Just pray over it, and you are good to go!"

What people do not understand is the definition of food.

> Food definition: contains the nutrition that people and animals need to be healthy.

God created individual animals to clean the filth off the earth. He created pigs to clean the dirt off the earth, and he created fish like catfish to clean the rivers. He created shrimp, crab, and lobsters to clean the filth out of the oceans. Read our book The Law Vs. Grace, for more about that.

That really does not make any sense. If God tells us that eating Giraffes, lions, dogs, and monkeys is an abomination, would you eat any of them?

We do not have any problem with that, however, something as delicious as shrimp and pork ribs? Oh, no, that is going too far; we cannot give those pork ribs and bacon up.

Heck, I use to love eating bacon, BLTS, pork ribs, pepperoni, and pulled pork. Jeremiah loved pork tenderloins, sausage pizza, pork ribs, and sausage biscuits and gravy.

Now pastors teach their members to eat anything they want; all they have to do is pray over it. Don't you know God has a plan set in place to protect us? There is a reason we are not supposed to eat those animals. It is because they were designed to clean up the sewage and filth off the earth.

Guess what, when we put things that are designed to clean sewage and filth off the earth and waters into our bodies, it makes our bodies sewage and filth.

That is why Black people have more diseases than any other race on earth. We eat things God never created for us to eat. You are what you eat!

When the church tells us it is okay, just pray over it. Those pastors are going to be responsible for leading everyone down the wrong path and into sin.

The Bible says eating these foods is an abomination; of course, something that is an abomination is a sin. What would Jesus dying on the cross have anything to do with being able to eat sewage and filth?

Just think about it, your pastor is telling you and causing you to foolishly believe that Jesus died and everything God said is an abomination is now perfectly fine. Why would pastors teach us these things?

Before I found out I was an Israelite, I attended many Baptist churches and a major Apostolic church. For some reason in my mind, I believed my pastor had been given a divine revelation that no other pastor had received.

Why? Because he made his members believe that. That is what all pastors do. These are facts. Think about your pastor right now, you know I am telling the truth. When I started actually studying the Bible, I was blown away.

All these pastors teach their members the same core doctrine. I could not believe it. All my life I thought these churches were totally different, but they are not. I don't care if it is a Catholic, Baptist, Methodist, Apostolic, or any other church, except for Jehovah's Witnesses and Jews; they all teach Jesus is God.

It does not matter if they do it via the Trinity doctrine or through the Jesus only doctrine; all roads lead to the same place, Jesus is God, or all three are one unit; it is the same doctrine in a different package.

It is simple; our pastors were trained to teach us that. Although our pastors like to make us believe they receive first-hand messages from God himself, they all teach the same essential doctrine.

God did not personally come to their bedside and tell them to teach us these things. These are all Roman Christian Church teachings, and they have been around for ages.

The Bible does not tell us Jesus died, so now it is okay for us to eat, catfish, pork, shrimp, crab, and lobster. What about the Bible scriptures that tell us to take care of our bodies? We all know pork is bad for us, we know that. It does not take a rocket scientist to tell us chitlins are terrible for us.

Look at all the thick grease that comes off pepperoni or sausage on a pizza. Look at all the scum that comes to the top of the water when you are boiling pork ribs or the like.

What about the Sabbath? One of my family members posted something from a very popular church about the Sabbath. The pastor told his members and everyone else online that if they honor the Sabbath, they are cursed. What kind of satanist says something like that?

The Sabbath is one of the Ten Commandments! Do you not know that God created the Sabbath for us, for our benefit? One of the reasons it was created was to force hard-working people to take a break.

The Sabbath is not a burden; God created it for man to give our bodies and minds a break, a rest. God created the Sabbath to help us, not to hurt us.

Some people work themselves in the ground around the clock. However, the Bible and God mandate we rest on the Sabbath; just like fasting, it is beneficial and crucial to our health. Anyone that tells you the Sabbath is a curse or not to honor it is a child of satan.

When we found out we were Israelites, just like we did in the Apostolic church, we gave up everything that the Bible said we should not be doing.

We started eating clean foods, 100% no cheating, anything we knew was listed in the Bible as unclean, we quit eating. We began that November 2015. They try to tell you nobody can do all of that. That is a flat out lie! We have been doing it for years, and it is not a big deal.

Now, I am going to prove to you that you are an Israelite for those of you who still do not believe. I am also going to prove where the biblical land of the Israelites is located.

Chapter Two

What is an Israelite?

Who are you? Do you know? What happened to your history? Did it disappear into thin air? Why can Europeans, Asians, Indians, and Africans trace their history back thousands of years?

Do you believe every nation of people on this earth descended from kings and queens except you? Why does your history BEGIN with slavery? Have you ever thought about that?

Have you ever wondered what your ancestors were like? There is a reason why your history has been hidden from you. There is a reason your people are hated by almost every nation on the face of this earth.

The truth that has been hidden from you all your life is that you are the chosen people of God. You are the Israelites. You are the people of the Bible. You are the descendants of KINGS and QUEENS.

The following excerpt from the book titled "From Babylon to Timbuktu" really gives us a glimpse of what our people used to be like and how they used to live.

From Babylon to Timbuktu

(I Jael, put the definition of hegemony and autochthonous in parentheses for clarity. I also highlighted and bolded words for emphasis)

From Babylon to Timbuktu excerpt-"By what factors can we explain the emergence of Black Hebrew hegemony (dominance) and leadership over the indigenous tribes? The answer is simple: The Jews came into the western Sudan from northern and eastern Africa as a result of a chain of commercial and persecutory migrations. The Jews had settled among the most civilized people throughout the ages. They adopted new methods from other people and left their material, educational, and moral imprint among the people with whom they resided. For many centuries the Hebrews had to employ great physical and psychological initiative. They could not afford to be complacent or apathetic; they were hated, so apathy could mean cultural stagnation or death. The Jews imported into the western part of Africa a superior material, educational, and moral culture soon after 300 A.D. and this cultural advancement was not duplicated or exceeded until the ascendancy of the Mohammedan leader Mansa Kankan Musa of Mali in 1312 A.D. In the third and fourth centuries A.D., the Africans on the west coast did not possess the cultural superiority of the Africans on > the north and east coasts. The Black Jews had an advantage over the African Tribes they carried their culture, history, laws, and written records with them; this assured them a constant precedent for the development of a higher social organization*. Because of the stability of the Black Jewish culture, the Jews were not absorbed into the autochthonous (indigenous) population. In fact, the Jews absorbed some of the native tribes. The Jews made use of every opportunity; they were industrious and skillful people: In the Jewish Ghanaian states were found* kings, princes, governors, generals, secretaries, treasuries, treasurers, revenue agents, judges, architects, engineers, doctors, historians, language interpreters, mathematicians, jewelers, sculptors, masons, carpenters, painters of art, goldsmiths, leather-workers, potters, armorers, saddlers, Blacksmiths, agriculturists*, etcetera.* (Windsor, 1988)

Your ancestors were not dirty-barefooted-African-peasants running around in grass huts in Africa. Your ancestors were not stupid bumbling ape-like idiots, so incompetent that they could not read or write.

Black Jews were engineers, language interpreters, masons, doctors, lawyers, carpenters, jewelers, potters, and agriculturalists. They needed our people to teach them not the other way around.

Your ancestors were not stupid, illiterate idiots. There is a reason why our ancestors could not read or write when they were stolen from Africa and brought to the USA, Brazil, and the Caribbean islands.

It was not that they could not read or write at all; it was that they could not read or write ENGLISH. Your ancestor's original language was Hebrew.

> "Nationally, Black males who make it to the 12th grade are performing at least four years behind White males in reading and math." (Robinson, 2013)

Current research says that it is a myth that people with dyslexia have a problem with reversing letters or words. However, 70 percent of educators, including university faculty, special education teachers, and speech therapists, disagree.

> "Two types of reversals are commonly associated in the public mind with dyslexia: (1) reversing letters themselves, like writing or seeing "b" instead of "d," and (2) reversing the order of letters within words, like writing "tar" instead of "rat." Even among educators--including university faculty, special education teachers, and speech therapists—70 percent believe that reversing the order of letters is a defining feature of dyslexia." (Behavior, 2010)

Did you know that our original language, Hebrew, is read "backward"? It is not really read "backward" Hebrew was the original language on the earth, so it is read the correct way. In reality, English is read backward.

Therefore, it makes perfect sense why many of our people would have a difficult time reading and writing English. The English language oral and written is literally in complete reverse of our ancestral language Hebrew.

Dictionary.com

My Jewish Learning

> Unlike English, Hebrew is read and written from right to left. There are numerous types of Hebrew script. The most familiar is the block letters used in Torah scrolls and most printed texts.-MyJewishLearning.com

It puzzled me when I used to watch slave movies. I was always caused to understand that Black slaves were stupid bumbling idiots that could barely say their own names. However, the puzzling thing was if they were so dumb and slow, why were they banned from reading.

Those two things are a contradiction. If a slave was supposed to be so stupid that they could not read or write, why were they banned from writing or reading or having a book?

The truth is that slaves could read Hebrew and not English. The slavemasters knew that the Hebrews were super-intelligent people. The slaves would figure things out really quickly if they got a hold of books, and they had to stop that at all costs.

Our people are not stupid or dumb; they are simply confused because they do not know their real history. The Israelites had a long history of slavery, dating back before Egyptian captivity.

However, what happened to our ancestors, how did we end up in America, losing our history and identity before slavery? It is both complicated and straightforward. The simple answer is, we were punished for disobeying God.

Our ancestors, just like us today, refused to follow God's laws, statutes, and commandments. They refused to stop worshipping other gods. Therefore, God allowed us and our ancestors to be punished.

The only thing that will end that punishment is to wake up and come back to God. I am not talking about turning to Christianity; that is a part of the pagan religious system, just like the religions that got our ancestors sent into exile.

That may sound weird to Christians who think they are currently serving God with all rigor and passion. Now, please finish reading all this book, before you get your tailfeathers in a ruffle.

I know it goes against everything we have been led to believe. Both Jeremiah and I had been die-hard Christians for a good 95% of our lives.

However, if God led you here to read this, it is for a reason, do not go against that. Please read all this book and then make your decision.

We, as a people, must do more studying; we cannot continue to be led astray like blind sheep anymore. How do you know if you are a blind sheep or not? Answer these two small questions (without Googling or Yahooing them or asking Alexa or Siri).

What are the names of Noah's three sons? Who were Noah, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob-all of them? If you do not know the answers to those two questions, especially if you have been in church your entire life, you are in trouble.

You definitely need to read, not just this book, but all of our books and every other piece of information you can find on the subject. You must study!

I mean you really need to know who those people are and not just their names. Knowing who those seven people are, is the key to understanding everything you need to know about your history as an Israelite or Black Hebrew.

This quote is from the satanic Bible; this should tell us everything we need to know about Christianity. "Satan has been the best friend the Church has ever had, as He has kept it in business all these years!"

Anyone who studies any history, either Biblical or secular, knows that the first thing a conquering nation does is force their religion and way of life on the people that they have conquered.

We use the word "Black" for the sake of clarity; however, we know full well that Black is not a race, ethnicity, or nation, but we will use that term for now.

Now, let us talk about how we ended up in the situation we are currently in today. Throughout history, the Israelites could not get it right. They loved and obeyed God, and then they went astray; this behavior has literally repeated itself up until the current day.

When we first woke up, we were angry at our ancestors for getting us in the mess we are in today. Then, we realized, we are doing the same thing today they were doing back then.

To figure everything out, we have to understand who and how the Israelites came about. The people in the world were corrupt and had gone astray before the flood in Noah's time.

Therefore, God flooded the world and killed all the people except for Noah, his wife, their three sons, and their wives. With these eight people, God repopulated the earth.

Noah's three sons Shem, Ham, and Japheth, also had children. However, the majority of their children became corrupt again. They built the Tower of Babel to try to take over God and Heaven; it was terrible.

Out of all these descendants, only one was righteous, Noah's son Shem. Shem's descendant was Terah, he was an idolater, and that was Abraham's father. Abraham was one of the few men in his time outside of Shem that obeyed all of God's laws, statutes, and commandments.

> Genesis 26:5-(KJV) Because that Abraham obeyed my voice, and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws.

In return for Abraham's faithfulness, God promised Abraham that he would save his descendants, and they would become his promised children.

> Abram Named Abraham
> Genesis 17:1-7-(KJV) And when Abram was ninety years old and nine, the LORD appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me, and be thou perfect.2And I will make my covenant between me and thee, and will multiply thee exceedingly.3And Abram fell on his face: and God talked with him, saying,4As for me, behold, my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of many nations.5Neither shall thy name any more be called Abram, but thy name shall be Abraham; for a father of many nations have I made thee.6And I will make thee exceeding fruitful, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee. 7And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee.

However, not all his descendants, only his children through his son Isaac. Abraham had at least nine sons, but only one of them counted in God's eyes, Isaac. At this time, Abraham had a son named Ishmael that he loved, but God called Isaac his only son.

> Genesis 22:2-(KJV) And he said, Take now thy son, thine only son Isaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land of Moriah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.
> *Romans 9:7-(NKJV) nor are they all children because they are the seed of Abraham; but, "In Isaac your seed shall be called."

Isaac had twins Esau and Jacob, but Esau was a murderer, and God hated Esau. God only loved Jacob, so he chose for his chosen people to come through Jacob's lineage.

> *Romans 9:13-(KJV) As it is written, Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.

Jacob had 12 sons; they are the Patriarchs of the 12 Tribes of Israel. Their names are:

- Reuben
- Simeon

- Levi
- Judah
- Issachar
- Zebulun
- Dan
- Naphtali
- Gad
- Asher
- Joseph (later split into the "half-tribes" of Ephraim and Manasseh)
- Benjamin

There was another reason this physical bloodline/lineage was so important. Jesus would be born into the tribe of Judah. That is why he is called the lion of the Tribe of Judah in the Bible.

> Revelation 5:5-(KJV) And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the Root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.

This physical lineage of people, the Twelve Tribes are whom the majority of the Bible is written about. They rebelled against God at different times throughout the Bible.

King David and King Solomon were from the tribe of Judah. It was due to King Solomon's sin that the 12 tribes, who used to be one group and one kingdom, were divided.

The 12 tribes were divided into two groups or kingdoms. One group was called the southern kingdom, which consisted of Judah, Benjamin, and Levi at some point.

Then the northern kingdom was comprised of the rest of the tribes, Reuben, Simeon, Issachar, Zebulun, Dan, Naphtali, Gad, Asher, Joseph (later shared by Joseph's sons, Ephraim and Manasseh)

Sometimes the Bible refers to both kingdoms as Israel or both kingdoms as Judah. It uses these names interchangeably for both kingdoms. Sometimes Judah is referred to as Jews, and sometimes, Israel is also referred to as Jews.

The northern kingdom became so filthy and idolatrous that God actually divorced them and said they were no longer his people. God did not divorce the Southern kingdom because that is the kingdom from which Jesus descended.

Jeremiah 3:8-(NIV) I gave faithless Israel her certificate of divorce and sent her away because of all her adulteries. Yet I saw that her unfaithful sister Judah had no fear; she also went out and committed adultery.

Hosea 1:6-9-(KJV) And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And God said unto him, Call her name Loruhamah: for I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel; but I will utterly take them away. 7But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen.8Now when she had weaned Loruhamah, she conceived, and bare a son. 9Then said God, Call his name Loammi: FOR YE ARE NOT MY PEOPLE, and I will not be your God.

(Remember these words, FOR YE ARE NOT MY PEOPLE.)

That is also how we got the parables about the two olive trees in the Bible. The northern kingdom (Israel) was represented by one olive tree, and another olive tree represented the southern kingdom (Judah).

Revelation 11:3-(KJV) And I will give power unto my two witnesses*, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth.*

Revelation 11:4-(KJV)These are the two olive trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth.

Romans 11:17-(KJV) And if some of the branches be broken off, and thou, being a wild olive tree, wert graffed in among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive tree;

Romans 11:24-(KJV) For if thou wert cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wert graffed contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be graffed into their own olive tree?

Romans 11 is referring to the two Israelite kingdoms, one tree being the northern kingdom (Israel) and one tree being the southern kingdom (Judah).

Even though God divorced the northern kingdom, both kingdoms were practicing idolatry. We must understand that back then, the book of the law or the Bible would be read to the people every Sabbath service. All the laws and the prophecies would be taught to them.

There were not thousands of copies of the Bible lying around. So, when God divorced these people and stopped dealing with them, they also forgot the ways and customs of their ancestors.

Hundreds of years had passed. That is also why we had no idea who we were. That is why Jesus sent his disciples to preach and wake these Israelites up to tell them who they were. They were no different from us today who have forgotten who we are and who we were.

> Hosea 2:11-(KJV) I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast days, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts*.*

> Hosea 2:11-(NIV) I will stop all her celebrations: her yearly festivals, her New Moons, her Sabbath days--all her appointed festivals.

When Paul was teaching the Israelites, he was speaking to the gentiles, the northern kingdom God divorced as well as the southern kingdom, who basically strayed away themselves. These people were living in Greek, Roman, and Egyptian lands.

Since they were living amongst the gentiles, they were referred to as gentiles in the Bible. These Israelites were no different from we Israelites today. They had taken on all the pagan ways of the heathen.

They were going to Christian churches on Sunday instead of Hebrew churches on the Sabbath. They were putting up Christmas trees and celebrating Halloween and Easter.

They were doing all the things God says we are not supposed to do in the Bible. Jeremiah, the prophet, actually told the Israelites to stop what they were doing, and they told him, "no!".

They told Jeremiah that since we have been burning incense to the Queen of Heaven (Mary) Catholics, we have been more blessed than serving your God.

They were worshipping Mary as the Queen of Heaven. Everyone knows a Catholic person that burns candles around a picture of Mary.

> Jeremiah 44:15-18-(NIV) Then all the men who knew that their wives were burning incense to other gods, along with all the women who were present—a large assembly—and all the people living in Lower and Upper Egypt, said to

Jeremiah, 16"We will not listen to the message you have spoken to us in the name of the Lord! 17We will certainly do everything we said we would: We will burn incense to the Queen of Heaven and will pour out drink offerings to her just as we and our ancestors, our kings and our officials did in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem. At that time we had plenty of food and were well off and suffered no harm. 18But ever since we stopped burning incense to the Queen of Heaven and pouring out drink offerings to her, we have had nothing and have been perishing by sword and famine."

Our people were downright rotten and disobedient. Now, I am not saying only Israelites can make it to Heaven. Paul, the apostles, and the disciples could have been teaching non-Israelite gentiles.

However, their primary purpose was to realign the two kingdoms of Israel that had been split, back into one kingdom. They were trying to reunite the Israelites with the only living God and His Son Jesus.

Read our book titled, "Who are the Gentiles?" for more info on that. I do not want to repeat all the information in our other books in this one; it would be 1000 pages if I did that.

When Jesus was born on this earth, his primary purpose was to reunite the two kingdoms, which had been divided due to Solomon's sin.

Jesus would begin the process of bringing these two kingdoms back together. In the end, these two kingdoms will reunite with Jesus, and he will be their shepherd.

> John 10:16-(KJV) And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold*, and one shepherd.*
>
> Ephesians 2:14-(NIV) For he himself is our peace, who has made the two groups one and has destroyed the barrier, the dividing wall of hostility,
>
> Matthew 15:24-(KJV)- But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.
> Matthew 10:5-6-(KJV) 5These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: 6But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

The Bible clearly tells us that when Jesus returns, it will be HE (himself), along with his angels, that gather his scattered people from the four corners of the earth to return them to the true land of Israel.

> Ezekiel 34:12-(KJV) As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day.

> Mark 13:26-27-(KJV) And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory. 27And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.

> Ezekiel 20:33-35 (KJV) As I live, saith the Lord GOD*, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you: 34And* I will bring you out from the people*, and will* gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered*, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out. 35And* I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

Even the Pharisees knew that Jesus was coming to gather the lost sheep, the Israelites. They were saying in the above scriptures that Jesus not only came to die for that nation (Jews) but for the children of God scattered abroad.

> John 11:45-46-(KJV) Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him. 46But some of them went their ways to the Pharisees*, and told them what things Jesus had done.*
> John 11:51-52-(KJV) And this spake he not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation; 52And not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad.
> James 1:1-(KJV) James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.

Many of the Israelites were still not familiar with Christ and his purpose on earth. The Pharisees were still teaching people to follow all the laws they set in place.

That included God's laws like the Ten Commandments, eating clean foods, honoring the Sabbath, and so forth.

However, it also included tons of human-made laws that the Pharisees and the Romans that controlled them, had created on their own. The Bible refers to these laws as the "traditions of men," "traditions of the elders," and the traditions of the fathers."

Those laws were crazy, things like you cannot turn a light switch on during the Sabbath, and you can take only so many steps on the Sabbath. They were also still enforcing the priesthood.

When Jesus came and died, he did not do away with all of his father's laws; he did not nail them all to the cross. What Christ did was change the law; he did not abolish it. Hebrews, the 7th chapter tells us that.

> *Hebrews 7:12-(KJV) For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law.

Most Christians are familiar with the law being written in or on our hearts. What those scriptures mean is that we, in general, will no longer be killed for breaking the law. At least not immediately by God.

Because Jesus died on the cross, that gave us grace. That means that when we sin, we do not die immediately, we have time to repent for our sins.

Remember, a man got stoned to death for picking sticks upon the Sabbath. Stephen got stoned to death for preaching about Jesus. These were Pharisees and Jews that killed these people.

When Jesus came and died, he became the atonement for our sins. That does NOT mean there is no punishment for sinning. It means, if you sin, in some cases, if you are truly repentful, you are given grace, a period of time to get yourself together and get right.

Chapter Three

How are we Israelites, though?

How did Black people in America end up being what we call Israelites, and how could they possibly know that?

One of the primary questions people have is, Isn't our bloodline so mixed up now that it would be impossible to tell who is and who is not an Israelite?

We will fully answer that question in a minute. It is not just your bloodline that lets you know you are an Israelite. It is both secular history and Biblical history that makes us understand that beyond any doubt.

The Bible is one consistent story about the Israelites and slavery, imprisonment, punishment, and disobedience. That alone should let you know that you are an Israelite.

There have been no other people in the history of time that has been through as much slavery, punishment, and imprisonment as Black people have.

Now, keep in mind "Black people" are from the southern kingdom of Israel. There are still many other people across the world that are from the northern kingdom. We are Black, so we are writing about our people.

I am making a point to focus on how Black Americans can prove they are Israelites. We are talking about thousands of years of slavery, punishment, and imprisonment to hundreds of millions of Black victims.

Here is another serious issue I need to address. "Wakanda Forever!" Now that Black people are waking up in mass quantities around the globe to discover they are Israelites, they needed a diversion.

What would be a good diversion? Here is one…

"I know what we can do; since they have no idea what or who they were before slavery, let's tell them they were African (lineage of Ham) kings and queens."

And BOOM! In comes, "Wakanda Forever!"

You should ask yourself why a top film company is making a movie about the power of Black people; I mean Africans. They are hiring more African film actresses and actors than ever in Hollywood, while Black American actors are taking a back seat, but why?

Think hard, I mean really hard about this. Actually, you do not have to think hard at all? What were you before slavery? What was your family's lineage before slavery? What is your family's pedigree?

Most of our people do not know, do you*?

Now, if you are an African-African, I am talking about from the line of Ham, you may know a lot about your family's history. Many Asians, India-I*ndians*, and Europeans can go back really far in their history.

Many of them have ancient pictures of their ancestors. Many Black Americans barely even know their grandfather's, let alone their great-grandfather's name.

If you do not even know your great-grandfather's name, you surely do not know anything about your family's history before slavery.

Jeremiah has no idea what his grandfathers' names are on either side of his family. He barely knew his father's real name. It is an epidemic in the Black family.

The only reason I know my great-grandfather's name on my dad's side is through ancestry records. That brings us closer to how we discovered we are Israelites.

I heavily researched census records and DNA ancestry to determine that my forefather on my dad's side was a slave and came on a ship from a port near Nigeria in Africa.

This is my ancestral lineage. I got this from my family's oral history and through multiple DNA ancestry tests and ancestry research. My dad's mom is European and Native American; his dad is Native American and Black. My mom's dad is Native American and Black, and my mom's mom is Scottish, Mexican, and Black.

Jeremiah's ancestry shows that he has 90 something percent Nigerian ancestry. What that means is we both can trace our descent to the Nigerian coast of Africa. So, why doesn't that make us Africans?

Now, the majority of Black Americans I know have never believed that they were Africans. I am talking about someone like a Sudanese African, for example. We know we are different.

If you do not know what a Sudanese is, please stop and Google it now so you can see. You can clearly see, physically, that Black Americans, in general, do not look like that.

Black Americans are from the lineage of Noah's son Shem, and I will prove that a little later. Africa-Africans (for lack of a better term) are from the lineage of Noah's son Ham.

There is scientific proof that African-Americans and Africa-Africans are not the same. They do not share the same DNA. The Bible tells us these two groups of people have different lineages, and so does science.

Scientific American

> A second problem is that many African-Americans have a particular type of mtDNA that is clearly African in origin, but has not yet been observed among the African mtDNAs that have been analyzed.-Scientific American

The Bible tells us that many Europeans are from the line of Japheth. If you Google any of the names in the scripture below, a map will come up and show you that these are European countries. You can see below that Ashkenaz is the grandson of Japheth.

Jewish Encyclopedia.com

> *The words "yaft elohim le-Yefet" (Gen. ix. 27) are interpreted as alluding to the construction of the Second Temple by Cyrus, who was descended from Japheth (Yoma 10a). Bar Ḳappara interpreted the passage as meaning that the Law will be explained in the language of Japheth (Gen. R. xxxvi.; Deut. R. i.); R. Ḥiyya b. Abba, interpreting "yaft" as derived from the root , meaning "beauty" (see Japheth, Biblical Data), explains it more clearly thus: "The Law will be explained in the beautiful language of the Greeks, descendants of Japheth" (Meg. 9b). According to the Targum pseudo-Jonathan (ad loc.), the passage means that the descendants of Japheth will become proselytes and will study the Law in the schools of Shem.

Genesis 10:2-5 (KJV) The sons of Japheth*; Gomer, and Magog, and Madai, and Javan, and Tubal, and Meshech, and Tiras. 3And the sons of Gomer;* Ashkenaz*, and Riphath, and Togarmah. 4And the sons of Javan; Elishah, and Tarshish, Kittim, and Dodanim. 5By* these were the isles of the Gentiles divided in their lands; every one after his tongue, after their families, in their nations.

According to the website CIJA
(Canadian.Jewish.Advocacy)

"The majority of the world's Jewish population are Ashkenazim, tracing their ancestry to Europe."
https://cija.ca/resource/israel-the-basics/demographics-of-israel/

Ashkenazi Jews, in general, are from the line of Japheth. A common practice in Israel is for citizenship to be determined through a person's mother's lineage. That means a person had to, at one point in history, have been born to a Jewish mother to be considered a Jew and live in Israel.

The King James Bible determines a person's lineage through the father. Even if that is not the case, I do not care. I do not care if the Jewish people in the land they call Israel all claim to go through their fathers and say they are the only chosen people.

Who cares? It still does not matter to me. We focus on such stupid and insignificant things sometimes. I am pretty sure none of us are living so holy that we are going to be standing at the gates of heaven, determining who gets in and who stays out.

The only thing that matters is living a good and clean life. European Jews think they are the chosen ones; Black Hebrew Israelites think they are among the chosen ones, so what. By the way, most Black Israelites do not believe they are the only chosen children of God.

There are Twelve Tribes scattered all around the world, and there are many different ethnicities that are not Black that are Israelites. Let us look at the legal definition of a Jew according to "The Law of Return" in the land called Israel.

Legal definition of Jew
Main article: Who is a Jew?

While the Law of Return allowed every Jew to immigrate to Israel, it did not define who is a Jew, which brought on some legal issues such as the case of Rufeisen v Minister of the Interior in 1962. Oswald Rufeisen was a Polish Jew who had converted to Catholicism and sought to immigrate to Israel. The Supreme Court ruled that by converting to another religion he had forfeited his right to return. This decision of the court would make its way into the second amendment of the Law of Return in 1970 in which "Jew" was defined:

In 1970, the right of entry and settlement was extended to people with one Jewish grandparent and a person who is married to a Jew, whether or not he or she is considered Jewish under Orthodox interpretations of Halakha.

4A. (a) The rights of a Jew under this Law and the rights of an oleh under the Nationality Law, 5712-1952, as well as the rights of an oleh under any other enactment, are also vested in a child and a grandchild of a Jew, the spouse of a Jew, the spouse of a child of a Jew and the spouse of a grandchild of a Jew, except for a person who has been a Jew and has voluntarily changed his religion.

(b) It shall be immaterial whether or not a Jew by whose right a right under subsection (a) is claimed is still alive and whether or not he has immigrated to Israel.

4B. For the purposes of this Law, "Jew" means a person who was born of a Jewish mother or has become converted to Judaism and who is not a member of another religion.

All of this has nothing to do with being anti-Semitic; these are just facts. We do not have any problem with the Jewish people around the world and how they choose to live their lives.

It makes no difference to us; we wish all the Jewish people in the world well. We hope they are God's chosen people; we hope everyone earns that title. How they live their lives has no bearing or impact on how we live our lives.

I must say something here, one of the reasons we are writing this book is because of the recent shootings of some Jewish people. I want to make this crystal clear.

DO NOT BELIEVE ANYONE EVER!!! If they tell you Jeremiah or Jael are anti-Semitic or terrorists, Do not believe them if they tell you we are stockpiling weapons or bombs.

Do not believe them if they say we killed up a bunch of people or that we are tied to some hate group. We are not against the police, the government, or anyone else. If they tell you that just because we wrote this book, IT WILL BE A LIE!!!

Yes, we do watch some Israelite teachings on YouTube, but I study almost every part of history that ever existed, and I watch videos on every race and religion on this earth.

Do not fall into that trap and believe any false stories about us. We are very peaceful people, and we like to mind our own business. We are not interested in hurting ANYONE NOT EVER!

We are not interested in being famous, and we are not interested in hating anyone or any group of people.

We are not interested in causing any trouble at all. What we are interested in is telling our people the truth about their history. We believe in witnessing calmly and peacefully.

The Bible tells us that the Israelites' genealogy is recognized through their father's bloodline; that is what we go by to determine OUR lineage. If the Jewish people in Israel want to go through their father or mother, it makes no difference to us.

Here are the scriptures Black Hebrew Israelites use to determine that their lineage should be traced through their father's bloodline.

Numbers 1:18-(KJV)And they assembled all the congregation together on the first day of the second month, and they declared their pedigrees after their families, by the house of their fathers*, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, by their polls.*

Number 1:2-(KJV) Take ye the sum of all the congregation of the children of Israel, after their families, by the house of their fathers

Nehemiah 7:61-(KJV) And these were they which went up also from Telmelah, Telharesha, Cherub, Addon, and Immer: but they could not shew their father's house, nor their seed, whether they were of Israel.
(Seed means sperm)

1 Chronicles 9:1-(NIV) All Israel was listed in the genealogies recorded in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah. (Male king's bloodline)

Matthew 1:1-(KJV) The book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham. (Jesus' male bloodline)

There appears to be some discrepancy regarding the genealogy in Matthew and Luke.

However, it does not really matter. In both books, the genealogy is through the father and not the mother.

There are all-male names listed in both books for a reason; a person's lineage is traced through their father's bloodline. With those scriptures, we can clearly see that the Israelites were both determined, recognized, and recorded through their father's bloodline.

There is controversy amongst all the religions of the world; that also applies to Israelite groups. The different Black Israelite groups in the world have very different beliefs.

Many of the more controversial Israelite preachers confront people on the street and tell them they are not God's chosen people. They say only Black people are.

Here is why that is dangerous. No human being can do that. They cannot tell by looking at a person who God's chosen people are and are not. They certainly cannot tell who is an Israelite is or not.

I will give you some examples of that with celebrities. We know that Biblically and scientifically, you have your father's blood in your veins.

All these people are not Black, according to the Bible. I will list quite a few of them just in case someone is not familiar with the names.

Let us look at singer Lenny Kravitz, is he considered white or Black according to the Bible*?*

His dad is Ashkenazi Jewish, so he is not "Black," according to the Bible. I am not going to dive into the technical name for our people. We have been called so many different names.

We have been called Negroes, Blacks, African-Americans, and Colored, just to name a few. I am going to use the term Black in this book.

It will not matter what name I choose to use to describe our people; someone will complain about it; you cannot please everyone.

I am not getting deep into that right now. I will say I have found some evidence that the word “BLACK” means brilliant, shiny, and glossy. Just like everything else, we have been lied to about that word also.

I am also going to use the term white; I know that is not an actual description of the ethnicity of a person. Work with me here.

What about singer Bob Marley? Is he considered Black or white? His dad was British and possibly Syrian Jewish, so he is not “Black,” according to the Bible.

What about rapper Charli Baltimore? Her dad is German and Irish, so she is not “Black,” according to the Bible.

What about the royal Meghan Markle? Her dad is Dutch and Irish, so she is not “Black,” according to the Bible.

What about actressesTia and Tamera Mowry? Their dad is Caucasian English, so they are not “Black,” according to the Bible.

What about actress Thandie Newton? Her dad is a Caucasian British, so she is not "Black," according to the Bible.

What about Tv host Trevor Noah? His dad is a Caucasian of Swiss-German ancestry, so he is not "Black," according to the Bible.

What about actress Lauren London? Her dad is Jewish, so she is not "Black," according to the Bible.

What about actress Rae Dawn Chong? Her dad is Chinese, Scots-Irish, and French, so she is not "Black," according to the Bible.

What about singer Faith Evans? Her dad is Italian, so she is not "Black," according to the Bible.

What about actress Rosario Dawson? Her dad is Irish, so she is not "Black," according to the Bible.

What about El Debarge? His dad is French and English, so he is not "Black," according to the Bible.

What about Salli Richardson? Her father is Irish and Italian, so she is not "Black," according to the Bible.

What about Amber Rose? Her dad is Italian and Irish, and her mom is Cape Verde African, so she is not "Black," according to the Bible.

What about Yara Shahidi (daughter on Blackish) Her dad is Iranian, so she is not "Black," according to the Bible.

What about Jussie Smollett? His father is a Russian and Polish Jew, so he is not "Black," according to the Bible.

What about Eartha Kitt? Her father was of German descent, so she is not "Black," according to the Bible.

What about Tracee Ellis Ross? Her dad is Caucasian Jewish, so she is not "Black," according to the Bible.

I apologize if I mixed up anyone's ancestry, I pulled them from lots of different sources. This list of people is exactly why you cannot judge someone by their PHYSICAL appearance. The answer to anyone facing that dilemma is DON'T DO IT!

There is no need to do it. Is it okay to educate our people on the history of the Israelites and Jews? Of course, but we do not have any rights to put people in Heaven or Hell or condemn them. You have no idea whom you are speaking with or addressing.

It does not really matter what any particular group believes, whether white, Black, Asian, or anything else. I cannot understand why we cannot just live our lives and let other people live theirs.

If we all worship the only living God and follow his commandments, we cannot go wrong. We need to focus on how we are living and leave everyone else alone.

Most Bible scholars agree that Africa-Africans are from the lineage of Ham, and that is not debatable. However, what is questionable is who exactly is from the lineage of Shem.

We can solve that mystery quickly. We know that Abraham came from Noah's son Shem's lineage. Abraham's son, Isaac, was the chosen child out of all his sons. Then Jacob was the chosen one of Isaac's sons. Jacob's sons are the Twelve Tribes of Israel.

We know the 12 Tribes of Israel are God's chosen people, and they were enslaved by their enemies repeatedly for hundreds and hundreds of years for their disobedience to God.

We have the Bible, which mostly ends with Paul, the disciples, and the apostles ministering and waking up the children of Israel. It also tells a little bit about Jesus coming back. However, then the story just ends???

No, it does not.

Does the Bible tell you that the Israelites got it together and became obedient to God and never sinned again? No, it does not.

Now, Christians would have us believe that the Israelites ceased to exist once Christ died, and the entire world simply became Christians. That is a lie.

Let me tell you something that is going to be difficult to understand or believe. It does not have anything to do with hating Europeans or being against them or considering them as our enemy. We DON'T!

Here we are just stating the facts. Whenever Europeans conquered any land in the world, they forced, by sword and death, Christianity on the people of the land.

However, what was the religion of Black people before Christianity was forced on them during slavery? Christianity was not our natural-born religion; otherwise, it would not have had to been forced on us.

Here is something that is going to be shocking, especially to Christians. Christianity is not the religion of God's people, the Israelites. Why?

God's people do not have a religion. They have a birthright. Just like the king and queen of the United Kingdom, there are specific responsibilities you have to accept to maintain your position in that birthright.

God's people, the Israelites, lost their birthright temporarily (so to speak) by repeatedly sinning and worshipping other gods. Whenever I used to hear people say that Christianity is not the religion of God's people, I thought they were heretical maniacs.

It does not have anything to do with being a devil worshipper or going against God. It is quite the opposite, and that may be hard to accept right now, but it is true. Let me explain.

The word Christian is only in the Bible three times, and every time it applies to Jews. It never refers to non-Israelite gentiles; Rome hijacked the term.

People like Ignatius Loyola and Constantine advanced the religion and doctrine of Christianity. I want you to think very hard and clear about what you are about to read. The primary tenants of Christianity are:

- Proclaiming Jesus is God and denouncing Jesus as the son of Joseph.
- You must affirm that Mary is the Queen Virgin that gave birth to God.
- You must denounce the Sabbath.
- You must denounce eating clean foods, in return, you must proclaim eating blood, and all unclean foods is perfectly acceptable to God.

- To be a Christian, you must denounce all God's laws, saying Jesus' (who is also God, according to Christianity) his blood covered all that at the cross.

- To be a Christian, you must denounce all God's chosen people, the Israelites and proclaim that gentiles (Christians) are now God's chosen people.

- To be a Christian, you must proclaim all people are going to Heaven if they just scream "Jesus" at some time in their lives or even on their deathbed. All your life you could have been a satan worshipper; it does not matter because God's rules and laws no longer apply.

- To be a Christian, you do not really need to get baptized. Why? Because people are living clear out in the desert somewhere in this world that do not have access to water. Besides, what about the thief on the cross?

Think hard about what I am about to say, do you really think that makes any perfect common sense? Go back and read that again. Does it really make sense to you?

Let me tell you what God and the BIBLE clearly say about what God demands of his people.

1. We must believe that God is the only God.
2. We must believe that Jesus is the Son of God.
3. We must believe that Jesus is our Savior.
4. We must honor the Sabbath.
5. We must follow God's Laws.
6. We must honor God's chosen people.
7. We must be baptized by full submersion.
8. We must live a holy and sanctified life.
9. We must not drink to get drunk.
10. We must eat clean foods.
11. We must obey all the Ten Commandments.
12. We must READ, READ, READ, AND STUDY, STUDY, STUDY, so we never get ourselves in this predicament again.

Do not anyone ever lie to you again. What we are teaching is not some freaked out satanic doctrine; we are simply teaching you to follow what God says in the Bible. These are not things Jeremiah and Jael created.

These are things you can research and read with your own eyes. That alone should show you the truth. To understand how we were tricked into not following God's laws, read our book titled, The Law Vs. Grace.

There is so much information to share with you. It would take me about 2000 pages to fully share it all. I am trying to condense it all in a way that makes sense; please bear with me because I have to cut certain parts out to make this a more readable length.

Okay, let me recap some of what I wrote earlier briefly, Noah had three sons, Shem, Ham, and Japheth. Shem was the only worthy person to carry on God's commands.

Nimrod was Ham's grandson son, and he commissioned the building of the Tower of Babel. All the other people on the earth joined them except for Shem and his descendant Abraham and a few of their followers.

Shem is also Melchizedek in the Genesis story, all that is discussed in detail in our "Who are the Gentiles?" book. Shem passed the blessing to Abraham. Abraham passed this blessing onto his son Isaac, and then Isaac to his son Jacob.

Then, Jacob to his sons, the Patriarchs of the 12 Tribes of Israel. The twelve tribes rebelled continuously in the Bible, so they were punished and sent into Egyptian slavery.

They were saved by Moses, who attempted to lead them in the right direction. Moses set up a system of laws for the Israelites to follow to give them clear guidance on how to live right.

The Israelites refused to listen. They were living amongst the unholy children of Shem, Ham, and the children of Japheth, who were worshipping a plethora of gods. The children of Israel were like, Hey, that looks cool; I want to worship other gods as they do.

Where did all these different gods come from for the people to worship? They came from the Tower of Babel, that is what the Book of Jasher tells us.

The Bible tells us there is a Book of Jasher to refer to, and it is full of valuable information that fills in missing data from Bible stories.

> 2 Samuel 1:18-(KJV) (Also he bade them teach the children of Judah the use of the bow: behold, it is written in the book of Jasher.)

> *Joshua 10:13-(KJV) And the sun stood still, and the moon stayed, until the people had avenged themselves upon their enemies. Is not this written in the book of Jasher?

Somebody told me the Book of Jasher was not a legitimate book because a few of the stories sound like they are copying stories from the Bible. The Bible itself has stories that looked like they are copied. The Bible tells us there is nothing new under the sun.

> *Ecclesiastes 1:9-(NIV) What has been will be again, what has been done will be done again; there is nothing new under the sun.

There will always be stories and situations that repeat themselves throughout history. For example, Abraham had to hide Sara and Isaac had to hide Rebecca when they came into Egypt. It is the same story but a different time.

The Book of Jasher tells us at the Tower of Babel that 70 angels came down and confused the people's language.

> Jasher 9:32 And God said to the seventy angels who stood foremost before him, to those who were near to him, saying, Come let us descend and confuse their tongues, that one man shall not understand the language of his neighbor, and they did so unto them.

At that time, the people were divided into 70 nations. Each of those nations decided to worship those angels as their gods. That is why the Bible speaks of worshipping angels.

> Colossians 2:18-(NIV) Do not let anyone who delights in false humility and the worship of angels disqualify you. Such a person also goes into great detail about what they have seen; they are puffed up with idle notions by their unspiritual mind.

The children of Israel were like, Hey we want to worship these angels too. It looks like the heathen pagans have so much more than we do.

Remember, satan has the power to perform miracles as well. He can trick people into thinking money, power and fame are all excellent blessings from God. We can see that with celebrities like rappers and actors today.

They will be living 100% satanic lifestyles and say God blessed them because they have wealth. If they had to sin to get what they got, it was not a blessing from God. It was a blessing from satan.

If you had to sin to get it, it is not a blessing from God, remember that. The Israelites were enamored by the things the pagans had back in their time, and they wanted it.

They wanted to be homosexuals; they wanted to be lawless sexually and have sex with their mother-in-law or father-in-law, their sister's husband, or their brother's wife. They found all of these things enticing.

It is no different from our people today. They want to live utterly lawless because our Christian pastors fully support that. They tell their members, Do not sin, but if you do, it is fine, it is all good; God accepts anything you do.

Throughout the Bible, the Israelites were taken into slavery repeatedly by the Greeks, the Romans, the Persians, Babylonians, and more. God allowed that to happen as a punishment for disobedience.

The Curses of Deuteronomy are timeless. People like to say they were a thing of the past, but the Bible tells us history WILL REPEAT itself, and there is nothing new under the sun.

God has always told his people if you worship ONLY ME and follow my laws, statutes, and commandments, I will bless you above all the people on the earth.

However, if you disobey me and worship other gods and follow after the pagans/heathens, I will punish you severely with slavery. Here is what the Bible says.

Here are the curses and blessings of Deuteronomy.

The Blessings of Obedience

Deuteronomy 28:1-5-(KJV) And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the LORD thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth: 2And all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee, if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God. 3Blessed shalt thou be in the city, and blessed shalt thou be in the field.4Blessed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattle, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep. 5Blessed shall be thy basket and thy store.

That means if you are obedient my fellow Israelites, God will bless you in whatever you do. You want to have a business and live in a high rise in the city?

No problem, God will bless you! Do you want to start a farm and grow your own food in the field? No problem God will bless you.

Deuteronomy 28:6-8-(KJV) Blessed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and blessed shalt thou *be when thou goest out.*7The LORD shall cause thine enemies that rise up against thee to be smitten before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and flee before thee seven ways. 8The LORD shall command the blessing upon thee in thy storehouses, and in all that thou settest thine hand unto; and he shall bless thee in the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee.

Your enemies will have no power over you; they will not be able to imprison you and kill you through violence. Your food will be plentiful, and you will have enough to share with those less fortunate.

You will get all these things when you obey God's laws, statutes, and commandments; when you are obedient to God.

> Deuteronomy 28:9-11 (KJV) 9The LORD shall establish thee an holy people unto himself*, as he hath sworn unto thee,* if thou shalt keep the commandments of the LORD thy God, and walk in his ways. 10And all people of the earth shall see that thou art called by the name of the LORD; and they shall be afraid of thee. 11And the LORD shall make thee plenteous in goods, in the fruit of thy body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy ground, in the land which the LORD sware unto thy fathers to give thee.

The blessings of obedience are tremendous. All the people of the world will respect you. God will allow just the right amount of rain and sun to bless your crops so you will have an abundance of all things.

> Deuteronomy 28:12-14-(KJV) The LORD shall open unto thee his good treasure, the heaven to give the rain unto thy land in his season, and to bless all the work of thine hand: and thou shalt lend unto many nations, and thou shalt not borrow. 13And the LORD shall make thee the head, and not the tail; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath; if that thou hearken unto the commandments of the LORD thy God, which I command thee this day, to observe and to do them: 14And thou shalt not go aside from any of the words which I command thee this day, to the right hand, or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them.

Do all that, and you will not have to worry about anything! You will own businesses and your own banks, and you will be the kings and queens of the world! There will be nobody higher than you because you serve your God.

HOWEVER…….If you DO NOT obey your God…this will happen to you.

The Curses of Disobedience
Deuteronomy 28:15-18-(KJV) But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee: 16Cursed shalt thou be in the city, and cursed shalt thou be in the field.
17Cursed shall be thy basket and thy store.
18Cursed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy land, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep.

If you do not obey God's laws, statutes, and commandments, it will not matter if you get an apartment in New York City, you will still be cursed. It will not matter if you get 40 acres and a mule you will be cursed. You will not be able to grow a darn thing on those 40 acres if you disobey God.

> *Deuteronomy 28:19-20-(KJV)* Cursed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and cursed shalt thou be when thou goest out*.20The LORD shall send upon thee cursing, vexation, and rebuke, in all that thou settest thine hand unto for to do, until thou be destroyed, and until thou perish quickly; because of the wickedness of thy doings, whereby thou hast forsaken me.*

You will finally think you are getting ahead, and disaster will fall upon you. It may be something like getting fired from your job or going through a divorce, or it may be the loss of a child, or your parents. You will not be able to gain adequate ground if you do not obey God's laws, statutes, and commandments.

> Deuteronomy 28:21-22-(KJV) The LORD shall make the pestilence cleave unto thee, until he have consumed thee from off the land, whither thou goest to possess it. 22The LORD shall smite thee with a consumption, and with a fever, and with an inflammation, and with an extreme burning, and with the sword, and with blasting, and with mildew; and they shall pursue thee until thou perish.

Remember the movie Miss Evers' Boys. For those who do not know or have not heard of it. WATCH IT! It is the true story of the U.S. Government's 1932 Tuskegee Syphilis Experiment, in which a group of Black test subjects was allowed to die.

Syphilis is a chronic bacterial disease. Our people are inflicted with chronic "Inflammation" that causes autoimmune diseases like Sickle Cell, Lupus, and Rheumatoid Arthritis. "Blasting and Mildew" is Leprosy or Vitiligo.

The powers that be have changed the definition of "Leprosy." The Bible tells us precisely what Leprosy is. Leprosy is a disease where a Black person's skin turns white. Sometimes, some sores appear with that white skin change, and sometimes they do not.

I have Peer-Reviewed scientific papers that show Leprosy is when the skin turns white. We do not even need that, though, because the Bible tells us what it is. Now, in recent times, if you search the internet, they have changed the definition of Leprosy to mean "sores."

Look at this WebMD article definition and notice how they left out the entire thing about the skin turning white. You do not see white skin anywhere in here.

> Leprosy definition*-Leprosy is an infectious disease that causes severe, disfiguring* skin sores and nerve damage in the arms, legs, and skin areas around the body.-WebMD

Then, it appears that they created the name "Vitiligo" and attached that to a person's skin turning white to distance it from the true definition of Leprosy.

> Vitiligo definition-Vitiligo is a condition in which white patches develop on the skin*. Any location on the body can be affected, and most people with vitiligo have* white patches on many areas*.-WebMD*

> 2 Kings 5:1;6-(KJV) 1Now Naaman, captain of the host of the king of Syria, was a great man with his *master, and honourable, because by him the LORD had given deliverance unto Syria: he was also a mighty man in valour, but he was a leper.

*6And he brought the letter to the king of Israel, saying, Now when this letter is come unto thee, behold, I have therewith sent Naaman my servant to thee, that thou mayest recover him of his leprosy.

Now, how do we know that the Leprosy Naaman had in this story was white skin? Verse 27 gives us the answer.

*2 Kings 5:27-(KJV) The leprosy therefore of Naaman shall cleave unto thee, and unto thy seed for ever. And he went out from his presence a leper as white as snow.

We have shown you that God's people in the Bible were Hebrews and Israelites and that those people were Black or ethnic. Paul was Black, that is why they mistook him for an Egyptian.

Acts 21:38-(KJV) Art not thou that Egyptian, which before these days madest an uproar, and leddest out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers?

Job from the book of Job was Black; he tells you his skin is Black upon him. People have said, No

Job was really white but he was in the sun; that is why he is saying his skin is Black.

There is not a white person in this world, while still living, who has sat out in the sun and their skin has turned Black. None that I know of or have heard of; it may turn red and then brown and then peel, but it does not turn Black.

On the other hand, Job, who was already dark brown-skinned, was sitting out in the sun, starving with worms crawling out of his skin.

His skin was full of boils and sores, so yes, his dark brown skin was turning Black. His skin also may have been literally falling off the bones. Most of us have heard of flesh-eating diseases. I saw that happening with my own eyes in Trinidad.

> Job 30:30-(KJV) My skin is Black upon me*, and my bones are burned with heat.*
> Job 6:6-7-(NLT)-Don't people complain about unsalted food? Does anyone want the tasteless white of an egg? My appetite disappears when I look at it; I gag at the thought of eating it!

Job 7:5-(KJV) My flesh is clothed with worms and clods of dust; my skin is broken, and become loathsome.

Christ was in Egypt, and God says that His Son will be called out of Egypt. Christ, his mother Mary, and his father Joseph, were Black. That is why and how they could blend in with Egyptians. Egypt is a place significant to God. His people were called out of Egypt and so was His Son.

*Hosea 11:1-(KJV) When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt.

*Matthew 2:13-15-(KJV) And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. 14When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt: 15And was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my son.

How could Christ and his parents blend in and hide in Egypt if they were not Black? The original Egyptians were Black. The current primary population of Egypt is also ethnic and Black looking people. Google Black Jesus and Mary.

You will see that people in Russia, India, and all over Europe in ancient times principally depicted Jesus, Mary, God, and all the apostles as Black people in their paintings and artwork.

Moses was Black; that is why he could blend in with Black Egyptians. We see an example of that when the Egyptian Pharaoh's daughter raised Moses as her own son.

> Exodus 2:5-6;9-10 (KJV) And the daughter of Pharaoh came down to wash herself at the river; and her maidens walked along by the river's side; and when she saw the ark among the flags, she sent her maid to fetch it. 6And when she had opened it, she saw the child: and, behold, the babe wept. And she had compassion on him, and said, This is one of the Hebrews' children*. 9And Pharaoh's daughter said unto her, Take this child away, and nurse it for me, and I will give thee thy wages. And the woman took the child, and nursed it.* 10And the child grew, and she brought him unto Pharaoh's daughter, and he became her son*. And she called his name Moses: and she said, Because I drew him out of the water.*

Another example is when Moses stuck his dark brown hand into his cloak and pulled it out. When he pulled it out, his hand was leprous as white as snow.

> Exodus 4:6-(KJV) And the LORD said furthermore unto him, Put now thine hand into thy bosom. And he put his hand into his bosom*: and when he took it out, behold,* his hand was leprous as snow.

When Moses met his future wife at the well, she and her sisters told their father that an Egyptian met them at the well. They thought Moses looked like an Egyptian.

> Exodus 2:16-19-(KJV) Now the priest of Midian had seven daughters: and they came and drew water, and filled the troughs to water their father's flock. 17And the shepherds came and drove them away: but Moses stood up and helped them, and watered their flock. 18And when they came to Reuel their father, he said, How is it that ye are come so soon to day? 19And they said, An Egyptian delivered us out of the hand of the shepherds, and also drew water enough for us, and watered the flock.

These are all examples where we can see that Hebrews and Egyptians had the same colored skin because people could not tell them apart.

Search for almost any Bible movie ever created, and you will see there are European actors dressed up as Black Egyptians and Hebrews.

The actors are wearing braided wigs, and they have VERY VERY TANNED SKIN. In some movies, they actually paint their skin brown. You can see what looks like a lousy tan that occurs when a person puts tinted tanning lotion on their skin.

Never again trust any one's word for these things. Everything I am writing in this book, you can go look it up for yourself. I am not creating things from the thin blue sky. Always research everything, the Bible says to prove all things.

Moses' sister Miriam was also Black; that is why her Black skin turned white with Leprosy as a curse.

> *Numbers 12:10-(KJV) And the cloud departed from off the tabernacle; and, behold, Miriam became leprous, white as snow: and Aaron looked upon Miriam, and, behold, she was leprous.

What that tells us is; whenever a Black person's skin turned white in the Bible, it was a curse, and they were considered cursed. What it also tells us is ALL these people were Black or ethnic looking people.

Back to the other Curses of Deuteronomy.

> Deuteronomy 28:23-25-(KJV) And thy heaven that is over thy head shall be brass, and the earth that is under thee shall be iron. 24The LORD shall make the rain of thy land powder and dust: from heaven shall it come down upon thee, until thou be destroyed. 25The LORD shall cause thee to be smitten before thine enemies: thou shalt go out one way against them, and flee seven ways before them: and shalt be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.

Verses 23-25 speaks of our ancestors being captured, sold into slavery, and then taken into slave ships. Iron ballasts were at the bottom of many slave ships. Our enemies would capture our ancestors, and they would not be able to escape.

They could run every which way but loose, and then they would be carried into all the other kingdoms of the earth. They would be taken to America, Europe, Brazil, and the islands of the Caribbean.

> Deuteronomy 28:26-(KJV) And thy carcase shall be meat unto all fowls of the air, and unto the beasts of the earth, and no man shall fray them away.

Our ancestors' carcasses would be meat unto all the fowls of the air and to beasts of the earth, and nobody could stop it or tear them down.

Remember how they used to hang Black children, women, and men from trees? Birds would come and pick their skin off their bones. Then the wolves and dogs would eat the rest of their flesh and their bones.

> Deuteronomy 28:28-29 (KJV) The LORD shall smite thee with madness, and blindness, and astonishment of heart: 29And thou shalt grope at noonday, as the blind gropeth in darkness, and thou shalt not prosper in thy ways: and thou shalt be only oppressed and spoiled evermore, and no man shall save thee.

We would suffer from mental illnesses as a people, not knowing which way is up or which way is down. We would be blind to our real history.

Also, it would not matter how successful we become; our hearts will never be content or filled with true happiness. No man can save us from this; the only thing that will truly fulfill us is returning to God.

> Deuteronomy 28:30-(KJV)Thou shalt betroth a wife, and another man shall lie with her: thou shalt build an house, and thou shalt not dwell therein:

We all know that Black women were raped during slavery by their slave masters. We all know we built houses and other buildings and do not live in them. As a people in general, Black people rent more and own fewer houses than many people of other nations.

> *Deuteronomy 28:32-(KJV)* Thy sons and thy daughters shall be given unto another people, and thine eyes shall look, and fail with longing for them all the day long*: and there shall be no might in thine hand.*

We also know that Black slave babies were ripped from their parents' arms and sold as slaves to other people.

> Deuteronomy 28:36-37(KJV) The LORD shall bring thee, and thy king which thou shalt set over thee, unto a nation which neither thou nor thy fathers have known; and there shalt thou serve other gods, wood and stone. 37And thou shalt become an astonishment, a proverb, and a byword, among all nations whither the LORD shall lead thee.

As a punishment, God would allow some of his people to be enslaved and taken to lands they had never been to before. That almost exclusively applied to the southern kingdom of Israel at that time.

Tribes like Gad, the Native Americans were already in America. They would face the same cruelty, but they would be enslaved in a land where they were already living.

Then, there was Reuben; they were already living in Australia before the Southern kingdom was taken by slave ships. However, the same fate would befall them.

Many of us know that both Aboriginal Australians and Native Americans worship other gods. That is why they were also punished and still are being punished, along with their brothers and sisters.

All these tribes would have other religions forced on them. With Christianity, they would worship wood. They would stand and kneel in front of a wooden cross in Christian churches.

Christianity was forced on Black slaves, it was forced on Aboriginal Australians, and it was forced on Native Americans. These are just a few examples; these examples are not all-inclusive.

I want to be crystal clear here. When I mention Christianity, I am talking about a religion that has taught God's people that God's laws do not exist anymore.

I am talking about a religion that teaches that Jesus and God are the same person. I am talking about a religion that teaches we do not have to honor the Sabbath anymore. A religion that tells us we can eat foods that are an abomination, and we can do all things that are an abomination to God.

God teaches us in the Bible that he sent HIS SON, not himself. We wholeheartedly believe in worshipping God and that Jesus Christ is our Messiah and our Savior.

We believe that Jesus died on the cross for us so that our sins could be forgiven. We also believe that Jesus is the Son of God, and his Spirit was sent down from Heaven.

Our ancestors were forced into other religions by sword and death. Just like Christianity, these other religions, like Islam, became a "normal" way of life for our people.

Our people started worshipping other gods like Allah. In Mecca, Muslims, stand in front of a stone, the Kaaba Stone and pray and chant. That is the highest level of idolatry, and God forbids it in the Bible.

> Deuteronomy 28:37(KJV) and there shalt thou serve other gods, wood and stone.

That is why it says you will worship other gods of wood and stone. The Bible forbids any worshipping of any objects like that. There are also stone statues all around Catholic churches.

Our people, both Blacks and Mexicans, stand in front of those stone and wood idols in the Catholic church and worship them. That is the highest level of idolatry, and God forbids it in the Bible.

> Deuteronomy 28:48-(KJV) Therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies which the LORD shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things: and he shall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee.

We know that Black American slaves were physically naked, hungry and thirsty. We know that yokes of iron were placed on slaves' necks. It was not figuratively or spiritually; it was literal; it was physical, and it happened.

Visit our website at www.fibibooks.com or www.forisraelitesbyisraelites.com for pictures and more info.

> Deuteronomy 28:49-50 -(KJV) The LORD shall bring a nation against thee from far, from the end of the earth, as swift as the eagle flieth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand; 50A nation of fierce countenance, which shall not regard the person of the old, nor shew favour to the young:

You will not understand the language of the nation that enslaves you. They will speak English, and you will speak Hebrew. Therefore, you will not be able to understand their speech or writings. They will physically and sexually abuse your babies and the elderly among you. They will not have any regard for either.

I removed some of the verses from chapter 28 of Deuteronomy because they were repetitive in nature. Here is an example of a subject that we already covered, so I removed the others like this one.

> Deuteronomy 28:59-60-(KJV) Then the LORD will make thy plagues wonderful, and the plagues of thy seed, even great plagues, and of long continuance, and sore sicknesses, and of long continuance. 60Moreover he will bring upon thee all the diseases of Egypt, which thou wast afraid of; and they shall cleave unto thee.

Deuteronomy 28:68-(KJV) And the LORD shall bring thee into Egypt again with ships, by the way whereof I spake unto thee, Thou shalt see it no more again: and there ye shall be sold unto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shall buy you.

The vast majority of Black Americans should be able to see how this applies to them. Not in the past, TODAY! However, maybe our people cannot see it, or they do not want to see it. The Bible tells us our people will turn a deaf ear and a blind eye to ignore these things.

> Israel Blind and Deaf
> Isaiah 42:18-22 (NIV) "Hear, you deaf; look, you blind, and see!19Who is blind but my servant, and deaf like the messenger I send? Who is blind like the one in covenant with me, blind like the servant of the Lord? 20You have seen many things, but you pay no attention; your ears are open, but you do not listen." 21It pleased the Lord for the sake of his righteousness to make his law great and glorious. 22But this is a people plundered and looted, all of them trapped in pits or hidden away in prisons.
> Romans 11:7-8 (KJV) What then? Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded 8(According as it is written, God hath given them the spirit of slumber, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) unto this day.

We are not writing about these things to invoke anger or violence. We are writing to teach you about our history. If we are mad at anyone, it should be ourselves. We are no different from our ancestors living in incessant sin.

Do not be mad at what some Israelites refer to as the "Evil whitey" or Esau or anyone else on this earth. They could not have done anything God did not allow them to do. We need to get right with ourselves and our God. That is it! Period!

It is time to wake up people; God is calling you to wakeup, see who you are, hear who you are, and definitely know who you are. It is time to come back to God, come back children, come back to your God. Not the gods of this world, your God.

I was sitting here thinking about what happened to our people? I was born in 1970. I remember growing up in Iowa, and everyone I was around loved, God.

Whenever someone committed even the smallest sin, they felt terrible about it and would say something like, forgive me, God, I should not have done that.

I grew up in a time where there were maybe one or two homosexuals in the school. They minded their own business, and so did everyone else, but they were in the severe minority.

The slutty girl in school that dressed like a hooker, yep, she was in the severe minority, everyone knew about her too, but both sides minded their own business.

Almost everyone I knew went to church at least one Sunday every month. They would also catch a Wednesday night service or two. I am not saying people were perfect; they still sinned. However, they would try to make sure to get back to church and ask God for forgiveness.

I grew up in a time where the family came together in droves for all birthday parties, holidays, and special events. So, what happened?

Now, many people celebrate more with friends than family on special events and holidays. Many people do not go to church because they fear God and want to keep his laws, statutes, and commandments.

They go to church because it is a custom or a ritual, and they want the appearance of being holy.

What happened? How did we get further off track? I was thinking hard about those questions. There was a time during slavery that we begged God to free us and release us, and in return, we would come back to serve him.

We do the same thing today, "Please God, I need this job! If you let me get this job, I promise I will come to church every Sunday!"

What happens as soon as we get the job? God does not see us for years at church; that is what happens. The same thing happened after slavery.

Our people were actually grateful for some time. However, they started wanting what the "white man" had. They wanted total equality in wages and lifestyles. They were no longer happy living their mundane lives.

The scenario was something like this in the 60s and 70s. A husband and wife were sometimes living in a small house or an apartment and raising their children. Sometimes, the husband was the only one working outside the home, mostly in a low-income job, while the wife worked inside the home.

The wife may have taken a side job cleaning or ironing here and there. Then, things changed. The wives started taking full-time jobs outside of the home, jobs commonly men would take.

Black women started working more in the corporate world. At this time, the Black man was struggling to work and be accepted. Not only in the corporate world but anywhere.

Somewhere in all this, the roles started flipping. It was easier for a Black woman to get and keep a job. Part of that was because lower-class Europeans were now taking the poor formerly unwanted jobs only Black men used to work.

What did that cause? That caused the Black woman to say, "Hey, I am busting my butt every day to put food on the table, and this man can barely hold down a job!"

What that in return usually leads to is a life of drinking, drugs, and infidelity, and ultimately, the destruction of the Black family.

In comes the era of "I can bring home the bacon and fry it up in a pan," and I can be both the Momma and the Daddy!

Then, Black women started more and more becoming single parents. To the point where being a single mother is now praised and the husband being absent from the home is inadvertently applauded.

What did these single Black women teach their children to do? Work hard first and put everything else, including God, second. That sounds harsh, but ultimately that is what happened.

Now, when the children, the product of these afflicted families grew up, they would decide they did not want to be like their parents.

They would decide they did not want to trust God and struggle anymore. They decided they wanted to give their children everything their parents could not give them.

They would go out and make things happen for themselves and not depend on God or anyone else! They would no longer be God-made; they would be "SELF-made."

If you have ever read the Willie Lynch letter, you learned that this was all programming that was strategically put into the minds of the Black family.

All these things had to happen, however. The Bible tells us these things had to happen that way as a part of our punishment. What did all this cause?

It caused further destruction of the Black family. Now, God would no longer be anywhere near first in the mind of the Black family. We would also have Black fathers being kicked down as worthless filthy dogs, at the bottom of the barrel.

Without the Black father present in the family, we have single Black mothers raising young Black boys. The Black family system designed by God was balanced.

The Black father would hand down the rod of discipline. The things that stressed the mother out too much, the Black father would say, "I got this, I will handle it."

The Black mother could take a breath of relief, knowing her husband would take care of and deal with things she could not handle. The Black father would discipline and spank the child, and the mother would swoop in and comfort them.

The Black mother would hold her babies in her arms and say, "You know your father loves you, right? He only wants what is best for you, okay?

The young Black child would feel comforted and then want to do the right thing after being disciplined. It was a sound system that God put in place. Nobody in this world can tell us any differently because that is what the Bible says works.

The family makeup with the husband at the helm, would take much stress and pressure off of the Black wife and mother. It allowed her to spend her time worrying about other things around the house.

Black women are genetically predisposed by nature, and as a curse from Eve, to be more emotionally dependent than the Black man.

The Black man would have his own curse; he would have to worry about providing for his family. He would have to worry about keeping a job and keeping his head up.

> Genesis 3:16-20 (NIV) To the woman he said, "I will make your pains in childbearing very severe; with painful labor you will give birth to children. Your desire will be for your husband, and he will rule over you." 17To Adam he said*, "Because you listened to your wife and ate fruit from the tree about which I commanded you, 'You must not eat from it,' "Cursed is the ground because of you; through painful toil you will eat food from it all the days of your life. 18It will produce thorns and thistles for you, and you will eat the plants of the field.19By the sweat of your brow you will eat your food until you return to the ground,* since from it you were taken; for dust you are and to dust you will return." 20Adam named his wife Eve, because she would become the mother of all the living.

1 Peter 3:7-(NIV) Husbands, in the same way be considerate as you live with your wives*, and* treat them with respect as the weaker partner and as heirs with you of the gracious gift of life, so that nothing will hinder your prayers.

Since the Black woman, by nature, was born as the more emotional person of the two, there needs to be a proper system in place. When the correct system is in place, her husband will be the breadwinner and support her physically and emotionally.

In return, she will comfort her husband, and she would take care of the children and the house. The Black family was actually okay for a small period after slavery. However, when things got flipped upside down, it wreaked havoc on the Black family.

I know this will not make me popular with the "independent" women in today's world. However, I know it will work; I am living proof of it. No matter what people say with their words, many women dream of the relationship I have with my husband. No, it is not perfect, but it is biblical.

> Deuteronomy 28:54;58-(KJV) So that the man that is tender among you, and very delicate, his eye shall be evil toward his brother, and toward the wife of his bosom, and toward the remnant of his children which he shall leave: 58If thou wilt not observe to do all the words of this law that are written in this book, that thou mayest fear this glorious and fearful name, THE LORD THY GOD;

With these Curses listed in Deuteronomy, it tells us what our future will be like if we do not return to God. The Black man would leave the family. He would start fighting his brothers and would be at war with them. The Black man would hate his wife and not want to take care of his children.

> Deuteronomy 28:56-(KJV) The tender and delicate woman among you, which would not adventure to set the sole of her foot upon the ground for delicateness and tenderness, her eye shall be evil toward the husband of her bosom, and toward her son, and toward her daughter,

With that, single Black women would be raising young Black boys by themselves. It would ultimately cause further destruction of the Black family. The Bible tells us that Black women are the weaker vessel; they are more emotional.

We have monthly periods and suffer through pregnancy and childbirth. We also go through the change in life, as well as many other stressful things. In general, almost everything stresses us out or gets on "our last nerve."

Therefore, if you are a single Black mother raising a young Black male, all those emotional feelings are being transferred to him.

While the young Black male may go on to get a good job or be successful, he will be emotional like a woman. The young Black male will be flighty and have a difficult time learning how to function in a long term relationship or marriage.

Of course, that will produce a whole plethora of things, such as young or older Black males that cannot stay committed in any kind of relationship. It does not matter if it is with a woman, a family, a job, or anything else.

On the other hand, these same single Black mothers are raising daughters to be just like them. They will raise their daughters not to have to depend on "a worthless good for nothing, man."

What that causes is a lot of young Black girls to turn to other women, sexually, for comfort. The young Black female will not know how to or even care to respect her Black husband in any way. She will feel she needs to lead and handle everything herself.

The ironic thing is, genetically, she craves the old-fashion system that God set up; she desires a biblical man and marriage. However, she does not know how she can get it. Even if she does get it, she will not know how to keep it.

Of course, this is all a generalization; common sense will tell you I don't mean every single Black person on this planet believes that way.

Even taking all of that into consideration, it all boils down to one thing. Our people were punished for disobeying God and breaking his laws, statutes, and commandments, period!

Now, what do we do? Are you not tired of living in the condition that you are living in? Are you not tired of always feeling like you never have anything? The only way to change that is to come back to God.

Our Most High Father will give us everything we need when we serve him with all our heart, mind, body and soul. I am not talking about stepping into a church building. I am not talking about rioting or revolting or hurting anyone.

Nothing I just said really matters in the big picture; the only thing that matters is that we were breaking all of God's laws, statutes, and commandments, and now we have to start following them again.

Some people may get mad reading all that and say, "I do not want to worship or follow any God that would treat his people like that!"

Then don't'! Go to Hell; I do not care what you do! If you do not want to follow a God that would do all that to his people, DON'T!

Just wait and see what he is going to do to those of you who "ARE NOT" his people! Go ahead, cuss God out and get mad at him; I guarantee that is NOT going to work out for you! Actually, I promise it will not work out for you!

Chapter Four

We Are Not Africans?

How can Black Americans be from Africa, and yet we are not African? It does not appear to make any conventional sense. The answer is complex, not complex, but very detailed.

I am giving you this information from in-depth research I have done. I still need to do a lot more investigating to find further evidence. However, I am positive that Africa, as described on maps today, is the land of the Israelites.

I will list some of that evidence from the Bible, combined with genetic, historical, and scientific facts in a minute. Even though Africa is the land of the Israelites, the vast majority of Black Hebrew Israelites, if not all, teach that the area they call Israel today is our land.

Most Israelites teach that the Jewish people in the land called Israel today stole our land. They teach that when Christ returns, we are going to get it back.

I do not believe that it is our land at all.

Then, there are Israelites that teach the land called Israel today used to be a part of Africa, and therefore, it is actually in Africa. That is likely, but it still is not our land.

That land called Israel today used to be called Palestine, the land of the Philistines. It was not until the 1940s that Jewish people came in mass quantities by boat. Their claim is that used to be their land, and the Palestinians stole it, so they took it back and re-named it Israel.

That is between them and the Palestinians; we stay out of that political argument and war. It is not our fight, and we want nothing to do with it. We have enough to do, worrying about ourselves.

Look at this article from Haaretz.com

Why Are Palestinians Called Palestinians?
The Palestinians don't see themselves as descendants of the Biblical invaders, but they are named for the Philistines just the same.
www.Haaretz.com

Look at this article from the USA Government office.

> USA Office of the Historian website
> Creation of Israel, 1948
> On May 14, 1948, David Ben-Gurion, the head of the Jewish Agency, proclaimed the establishment of the State of Israel. U.S. President Harry S. Truman recognized the new nation on the same day.
> Eliahu Elath presenting ark to President Truman
> Although the United States supported the Balfour Declaration of 1917, which favored the establishment of a Jewish national home in Palestine, President Franklin D. Roosevelt had assured the Arabs in 1945 that the United States would not intervene without consulting both the Jews and the Arabs in that region.

Therefore, we know that the land they call Israel is not the original homeland of the Black Hebrew Israelites. It was originally called Palestine. Now, Black Hebrew Israelites might say, "Yeah, but that is because the Palestinians stole it from the Israelites and renamed it."

I am going to show you how that is unlikely as well. Just the topography of the rivers alone gives us a clue where the land of the Black Hebrew Israelites was located.

Let us start with Adam and Eve and the physical description of what they looked like. They like to tell us now that we are waking up to realize who we are that it does not matter anymore.

All of our lives we were led to believe God, Jesus, Adam, Eve, and almost everyone else in the Bible was European. We were led to believe that all the most famous, pleasant, and amazing people in history were Europeans.

European faces have been plastered all over Bibles, books, art stores, paintings, and everything else for hundreds of years. But what about us? Yes, we have a few famous Black faces and names in a few books.

However, the average Black person is most likely not familiar with those faces or names. What about before slavery?

In the Bible, God says, let us make man in our image. That means the first people on the earth looked the same as God. People were made in the exact image of the heavenly powers, beings, entities, or bodies.

> Genesis 1:26-(KJV) And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness:

We can see here that it says "our" image. That means there was more than one person or entity in heaven when man was being created on earth. So, man had the same PHYSICAL appearance as heavenly beings. Adam also looked just like God.

> Genesis 5:1-(KJV) This is the book of the generations of Adam. In the day that God created man, in the likeness of God made he him;
> Genesis 9:6-(KJV) Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man.

With that information, we know for sure without a doubt that Adam and Eve physically looked just like God and the other heavenly beings. Their physical appearances matched.

I must reiterate that because we have now been programmed to believe that it does not matter anymore when it absolutely matters!

Below is the land where European scientists say the first people originated on this earth. Not Black historians or scientists, not Black Hebrew Israelites, but European historians, scientists, and genealogists.

Who Am I Science Museum

Who were the first humans?
Scientists agree that our early ancestors, Homo erectus, first appeared in Africa 1–2 million years ago. They spread throughout the world and evolved into ancient humans. Most believe that modern humans evolved in Africa*, and gradually replaced all the other ancient humans (the 'Out-of-Africa' theory).-(Who Am I Science Museum)*

The extinct ancient human Homo erectus is a species of firsts. It was the first of our relatives to have human-like body proportions, with shorter arms and longer legs relative to its torso. It was also the first known hominin to migrate out of Africa, and possibly the first to cook food.*

In terms of species survival, Homo erectus is a huge success story. Fossil evidence for H. erectus stretches over more than 1.5 million years, making it by far the longest surviving of all our human relatives.-Natural History Museum

We can see that most scientists and historians agree that the first human beings on this earth came out of Africa. Now, common sense would tell you if they came out of Africa, they had brown skin. Not olive skin, dark brown skin.

If you look up any of these articles by typing (homo Erectus Africa) into a Google search, you will see pictures of a Black man pop up. However, I will provide further confirmation that the first humans were Black.

Here is what European scientists say Adam looked like. Not Black historians or scientists, not Black Hebrew Israelites, but European historians, scientists, and genealogists.

Now we do not believe in all this "the first humans were monkeys first and they were here millions of years ago," mess. Why? Because God said, he created man and woman.

The Bible timeline is easy to calculate, from the time Adam was created up until now has been less than 30,000 years.

They will also try to mix evolution in with all this and tell us that Adam and Eve did not exist in the same timeframe. The Bible tells us that Eve was created from Adam's rib, so we know that they lived in the same timeframe.

> Genesis 2:23-(KJV) And Adam said, This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called Woman, because she was taken out of Man.
>
> Genesis 2:22-(KJV) And the rib*, which the LORD God had* taken from man, made he a woman*, and brought her unto the man.*
> Genesis 3:20-(KJV) And Adam called his wife's name Eve*; because she was the mother of all living.*

I am addressing people here who are unfamiliar with how to research. Whenever you try to research anything, do not "cherry-pick" things to fit your own argument.

We try to always pull our information from a minimum of ten different legitimate sources, and those are both for and against our argument. When doing this, it helps you arrive at the truth.

You will see that we use Wikipedia as a source in this book. I do have a Master's degree, so I know how to cite information and choose legitimate sources.

However, I am not going to be that technical in this book. Either the information is valuable to you, or it is not. I use the articles on Wikipedia only after scrolling down to the bottom of the page and checking the source.

Since I am not getting technical on my writing and citing, Wikipedia is more accessible for people to search. I am rushing with this book due to the recent headlines on Black Hebrew Israelites. It would take me too long to go through all of those technicalities.

Of course, the Bible supersedes all other sources of information or data for us; it is the history book of the Israelites.

National Geographic

> -Scientific research has revealed that all humans alive today are descendants of one man. Then was Adam a forefather to us all? Incredibly, science and the Bible both say "yes". -The first studies by Wilson and others on mitochondrial DNA turned out to be less than bulletproof. They had not gathered enough data to eliminate the possibility that humans might have originated in Asia rather than Africa. Wilson's students continued to collect more DNA samples from a wider range of ethnic groups. Other researchers tried studying other segments of mitochondrial DNA. Today they have sequenced *the entire mitochondrial sequence, and the data still points to a recent ancestor in Africa. All mitochondrial DNA, it now appears, came from a single individual who lived 160,000 years ago.

I know people were like, "There is no way that anyone could know enough to connect their DNA to Abraham, Isaac or Jacob, do you know how long ago that is?"

That is not true, though, according to scientists and geneticists. We can trace our male forefather's DNA back through time through their Y-chromosome.

National Geographic

Most of our DNA is a jumble from all of our ancestors. It's what makes each of us unique. But there is a section of our genetic code that stays almost constant, the Y- chromosome. It is a special piece of DNA that only the males possess, it is passed unchanged from a father to a son like the family name. The Y-chromosome links the men up today with a single man who lived in the past.

If the first people on earth looked like Black men or had dark brown skin, how did their skin become lighter or "white"? Scientists believe that a small group of these people who had dark brown skin left Africa.

I say dark brown skin because those are the pictures posted on websites when you research Homo Erectus.

These brown-skinned people, some from the line of Japheth, then migrated through the "Middle East" and went into Europe and Asia.

When they did this, they had sex or mixed with Neanderthals and Denisovans. That is why the majority of Black men and women in America do not have Neanderthal or Denisovan DNA on their ancestry test results.

However, a significant percentage of Europeans and Asians have a higher percentage of Neanderthal and Denisovan DNA in their Ancestry. This mixing and intermingling may be what created a different skin color. Now, that story is a little too deep for beginners; we will have to cover that another time.

National Geographic

All non-Africans today, the genetics tells us, are descended from a few thousand humans who left Africa maybe 60,000 years ago. These migrants were most closely related to groups that today live in East Africa, including the Hadza of Tanzania. Because they were just a small subset of Africa's population, the migrants took with them only a fraction of its genetic diversity.
Somewhere along the way, perhaps in the Middle East, the travelers met and had sex with another human species, the Neanderthals; farther east they encountered yet another, the Denisovans. It's believed that both species evolved in Eurasia from a hominin that had migrated out of Africa much earlier.

Here are some critical Biblical clues that let you know that it is unlikely the land called Israel is our land. First, let us examine the rivers. These rivers came out of the Garden of Eden.

Genesis 2:8-15 (KJV) And the LORD God planted a garden eastward in Eden*; and there he put the man whom he had formed. 9And out of the ground made the LORD God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.¶10And a river went out of Eden to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads. 11The name of the first is Pison: that is it which compasseth the whole land of Havilah, where there is gold;12 And the gold of that land is good: there is bdellium and the onyx* stone.13And the name of the second river is Gihon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ethiopia.14And the name of the third river is Hiddekel: that is it which goeth toward the east of Assyria. And the fourth river is Euphrates.15And the LORD God took the man, and put him into the garden of Eden to dress it and to keep it.

The Bible states that one of the rivers that came out of the Garden of Eden encompassed (surrounded) the land of Ethiopia. There is no way to write about the following without seeming offensive to Europeans. I am not trying to offend Europeans; however, telling the truth may feel offensive.

I must write about certain things in these books to share the truth about our history. I do not mean any harm or offense to anyone intentionally.

Most nations of people are infamous for renaming people, places, and things with their names, whenever they conquered a place, which included maps.

Whenever European explorers came to Africa, North America, Australia, or the South Pacific, they changed historical documents, along with maps to reflect the new names in their language.

Europeans set up colonies in Africa, North America, Australia, and the South Pacific. When they set up these colonies, they captured, enslaved, and forced Christianity upon the people of the lands that they conquered.

Now, this also happened with Africans and Arabs too, and we will be getting to that in a minute. The reason I do not include Israelites at this point is that they spent much time re-capturing land that already belonged to them.

We already know the tale about Europeans capturing Native Americans, enslaving them and taking over their lands. After they did this, they renamed the lands with Greek, Spanish, and Roman names.

They often replaced the original names of these lands, with the names of their gods. Take Egypt, for example, that is the name of an Egyptian god. Before it was called Egypt, it was called Mizraim, and possibly another Hebrew name before that I am still studying that. Mizraim is the name of Noah's grandson from his son Ham.

> Wikipedia.com
> Mizraim (Hebrew: מִצְרַיִם / מִצְרָיִם*, Modern Mitzráy im Tiberian Miṣrāyim / Miṣráyim ; cf. Arabic, Miṣr) (/mɪt͡srai:m/) is* the Hebrew and Aramaic name for the land of Egypt*, with the dual suffix -āyim, perhaps referring to the "two Egypts": Upper Egypt and Lower Egypt.*

The name Egypt came from a Greek god King of mythology.

Britannica

> Danaus, in Greek legend, son of Belus, king of Egypt, and twin brother of Aegyptus. Driven out of Egypt by his brother, he fled with his 50 daughters (the Danaïds) to Argos, where he became king.- Britannica Aegyptus is a derivation of the name Egypt. On ancient maps, the name listed is not Egypt; it is Aegyptus. Another source states, he was king of Arabia. That also makes sense, as some ancient maps have Arabia within the land of Africa.

Greek Legends and Myths

> "Aegyptus was a legendary king of Greek mythology, though not a king of Ancient Greece, for Aegyptus was originally the King of Arabia, before expanding his territory into North Africa. AEGYPTUS SON OF BELUS Aegyptus was a descendant of Io, the naiad beloved by Zeus, who having been turned into a heifer, had wandered the earth before she arrived in North Africa." Several generations later Io's great-grandson Belus ruled North Africa, and having found a partner in the form of Achiroe, the naiad daughter of Nilus, Belus would become father to two twin sons, Danaus and Aegyptus.-Greek Legends and Myths

The renaming of Hebrew and Israelite lands is where a lot of the confusion comes in; with the teachings in the New Testament. Many Israelites were divorced from God and scattered and dispersed into lands where they were called strangers and foreigners.

Many times, Israelites were scattered across Israelite lands that had been renamed after their captors. There is a big debate swirling about whether Egyptians were Africans or Europeans.

Just having basic common sense tells us they were Black or brown-skinned people. However, almost every single Bible movie or Egyptian movie depicts these people as European with a heavily painted on tan and fake braided wigs. That alone lets us know they were originally Black people.

Any human being can go to a museum or online and type in ancient Egyptians and see that the oldest pictures depict Black Egyptians. Now, be careful, do not be fooled by modern drawings.

We can tell the oldest depictions because they are on monuments, not a hand drawing on paper done in 2019. Even to this date, brown-skinned people live predominately in that region.

Encyclopedia Britannica

> Egypt ethnic composition (2006) Egyptian 99.6% and other 0.4%- Languages. The official language of Egypt is Arabic, and most Egyptians speak one of several vernacular dialects of that language. As is the case in other Arab countries, the spoken vernacular differs greatly from the literary language.

Why does all this matter? I am trying to demonstrate how Black Americans could possibly be Israelites. I must show you the trail of clues that have been laid to cause you to think you are not.

If Europeans originated in Egypt, Africa, why are they called Europeans or Caucasians? The name European is obvious; it denotes people originating from Europe. The term Caucasian is similar; it indicates people that originate from the region of the Caucasus mountains near Russia and Turkey.

It is quite ironic to me that almost EVERY SINGLE TIME Africa is shown on TV, little-dirty-snotty-nosed African kids are running around barefooted and starving.

Then their parents are shown, if they have them, living in stick huts or shanty shacks. Do you know how beautiful Africa really is?

History is evolving, and we are discovering new information all the time. Egypt and the surrounding areas are near the cradle of civilization. People are waking up and realizing that Adam and Eve were Black. Those clues help us understand our real history.

Think about that, if God created Adam and Eve in the image of heavenly beings, that means they are all Black. That means God is Black because clearly, Adam and Eve were Black.

We did a Google search. Here is what came up, and it does not say one single word about European people originating on the continent they call Africa.

> White Africans of European ancestry are descendants of any of the white ethnic groups originating on the European continent. In 1989, there were an estimated 5.6 million white people with European ancestry on the African continent*. Most are of* Dutch, British, Portuguese, German, and French descent*; and to a lesser extent there are also those who* descended from Italians, Spaniards, Greeks, and Russians. The majority once lived along the Mediterranean coast, in South Africa, or in Rhodesia. The earliest permanent European communities in Africa were formed at the Cape of Good Hope; Luanda, in Angola; São Tomé Island; and Santiago, Cape Verde through the introduction of Portuguese and Dutch traders or military personnel. Other groups of settlers appeared when France and Great Britain colonized Africa.-Wikipedia.com

The entire continent of Africa has over 1.5 billion people, and only 6% of them are European. That is a tiny fragment of the population and… you can see they arrived there through Colonization.

Believe it or not, people were not always filled with so much hate and disdain for Black people. We found these old articles and books where European men are describing Black people in a whole other light.

These men even tell us that the Negro is much less of a HEATHEN than other people. I am going to list excerpts because there is a lot of them.

> -Negroes, even in their present unfulfilled state, possessed some very desirable traits sadly lacking in Caucasians—"light-heartedness," a "natural talent for music" and, above all, "willingness to serve, the most beautiful trait of humanity, which we, from our innate love of dominion, and in defiance of the Christian religion, brand with the name of servility, and abuse not less to our own dishonor than to their injury." The fact was that the Caucasian, with all his gifts, was almost constitutionally unable to be a true Christian: "All the sweeter graces of the Christian religion appear almost too tropical and tender plants to grow in the Caucasian mind;

-If the Caucasians were destined to reflect "the Divine science," was it not probable that the Negro would develop "a later but far nobler civilization," which would "return the splendor of the Divine attributes of mercy and benevolence in the practice and exhibition of the milder and gentler virtues?" In Kinmont's scheme, therefore, it was the Blacks and not the whites who would first achieve millennial perfection.

-"We are holding in bondage one of the best races of the human family. The negro is among the mildest and gentlest of men." Since the Negro's nature was "affectionate, easily touched," he was peculiarly susceptible to religious experience, more so than the white man, who excelled in "courage, enterprise, and invention" but was inferior to the Black when it came to "the dispositions which Christianity particularly honors." Indeed, Channing concluded, it was "remarkable" that Christianity had ever taken root at all among Europeans, given the fact that they had so many "qualities opposed to Christianity," as manifested, for example, in the "law of honor" that the Christian message had been unable to repeal. The African, on the other hand, was a better natural candidate for Christian perfection because he "carries within him, much more than we, the germs of a meek, long-suffering, loving virtue."

It is a race more calculated to call forth respect than love, better fitted to do than to enjoy.* The African race is in many respects the reverse of this. Genial, lively, docile, emotional, the affections rule; the social instincts maintain the ascendent except under cruel repression, its cheerfulness and love of mirth overflow with the exuberance of childhood. It is devotional by feeling. It is a knowing rather than a thinking race. . . . As regards the virtues of humility, loving-kindness, resignation under adversity, reliance on Divine Providence, this race exhibits these, as a general rule, in a more marked manner than does the Anglo-Saxon*. . . . With time, as Civilization advances, these Christian graces of meekness and long-suffering will be rated higher than the world rates them now.* With time, if we but treat these people in a Christian fashion, we shall have our reward. The softening influence of their genial spirit, diffused throughout the community, will make itself felt as an element of improvement in the national character.^ -The Black Image in the White Mind"*

World's languages traced back to single African mother tongue: scientists
GlobalPost
April 15, 2011 · 11:54 AM UTC
By News Desk
-Scientists say they have traced the world's 6,000 modern languages — from English to Mandarin — back to a single "mother tongue," an ancestral language spoken in Africa 50,000 to 70,000 years ago.
-The phoneme pattern mirrors the pattern of human genetic diversity as humans spread across the globe from sub-Saharan Africa around 70,000 years ago.

If the first man on this earth came from Africa and the first language on this earth came from Africa, does it not make sense that Adam and Eve were Black?

It is essential to understand that. Why? We live in a day and time where Christians like to say, "IT DOES NOT MATTER WE ARE ALL THE SAME."

We are going to prove why that lie is deadly. If you do not understand that you are an Israelite, then you do not know what you need to do to get in line with Biblical prophecy.

The rules and requirements for Israelites are not even close to the same thing as the rules for being a Christian. You must learn Biblical and secular lineages. You must learn geography and topography you must learn these things.

The Bible states that the Garden of Eden had four rivers coming out of it, Pishon, Gihon, Chidekel (the Tigris), and Phirat (the Euphrates).

If you type any of these rivers into a Google search, they will tell you those rivers, along with all of God's chosen people, came out of the area around Turkey. However, that is not true, according to our research.

> Genesis 2:10-14-(KJV) A river flowed out of Eden to water the garden, and there it divided and became four rivers. 11The name of the first is the Pishon. It is the one that flowed around the whole land of Havilah, where there is gold. 12And the gold of that land is good; bdellium and onyx stone are there.13The name of the second river is the Gihon*. It is the one that* flowed around the whole land of Cush. 14And the name of the third river is the Tigris, which flows east of Assyria. And the fourth river is the Euphrates.

A person does not have to have common sense to understand that the land of Cush (land of the Blacks) is in Africa. How does a river that circles the entire land of Cush, which is Ethiopia, jump the ocean and end up in Turkey?

Look it up on the internet where they are saying the land of Israel is today, where Palestine used to be. Then look up where they say Noah's Ark supposedly landed, Mt. Ararat, Turkey. Then look up where they say Abraham lived, they say that is over near Turkey.

One will find the location of all these places, we are told are Hebrew lands up, around, or near Turkey. The location is at the top of what they call Israel on the map. They even have the four rivers the Bible says are coming out of the Garden of Eden near Turkey and Iraq.

The Bible says satan has a physical location. Satan is not omnipresent like the Most High is, that is why he needs an "eye in the sky."

You know the "all-seeing-eye?" on the back of the dollar bill? Satan needs people to help him see stuff. Maybe his seat is somewhere in or near Turkey.

Satan sends his representatives on earth to do his work for him. That includes human beings and demons.

> Revelation 2:13-(NIV) I know where you live-- where Satan has his throne. Yet you remain true to my name. You did not renounce your faith in me, not even in the days of Antipas*, my faithful witness, who was put to death* in your city*--*where Satan lives.

That is interesting; it says Antipas was killed where satan's seat is, let us see where Antipas was killed. It looks like it was in Pergamos.

So, satan's seat was near Turkey; it may still be there. Now keep in mind, this is also near the area where Constantine built his famous Roman capital Constantinople. He moved the location of Rome at that time to Turkey.

It may be why and how all things 'Israelite' got changed to what they say are the current locations in or near Turkey. The following is conjecture, just my thoughts, and not facts. Constantine was a top-class satanist.

I would not even be surprised if he created a throne for satan, personally. Solomon built a temple for the Most High, and satan always wants to be like the Most High.

Constantine probably did build satan a temple. After all, Constantine propelled Roman Christianity. Both Christianity and Islam are not Bible-based religions.

A whopping 98% percent of people in Turkey are Muslims. Turkey has over 82 million citizens, so that is a lot of Muslims, concentrated in one place.

Look up "Hagia Sophia" in Turkey. It looks like something that could house satan; it is massive and ornate. I just looked it up Constantine did build the original church on that site. It was originally the location of a pagan temple — what a surprise.

Hmmm, well, it could be that satan is there in Turkey in that place, Hagia Sophia. My old Apostolic pastor always used to say that Turkey is where the antichrist lives. He showed it to me on a map in his office. Maybe he was right.

We also know for a fact that the Temple Mount in the city they call Jerusalem, in the land they call Israel, was a satanic temple to the god Jupiter, at one point. The claim is it used to be Solomon's Temple, then it was a pagan temple, and now it is an Islamic Temple.

Chapter Five

Plants, Trees, and Animals

There is some HARD EVIDENCE that shows us where THE TRUE LAND of the Israelites is. Here are some foods, trees, plants, and animals that are native, indigenous, and endemic to Africa.

That means they did NOT exist anywhere on the earth before they existed in Africa. How did these plants, trees, and animals end up in other countries and on different continents?

They were naturalized. A naturalized plant is one that was taken from its original location and transplanted in a new area. Here is some more info.

The Spruce

> Naturalized plants are those that have become established as a part of the plant life of a region other than their place of origin. So, to qualify for such status, two conditions must be met:
>
> The plant in question must be foreign ("exotic," "introduced," and "alien" are other names used to tell you that a plant is of foreign origin).

It must be able to grow on its own and produce a new generation without human aid (for example, without watering, fertilizing, dividing, pest control, or weed control done by human beings). That is, it becomes a wild plant in its adopted homeland. Not all plants introduced from foreign lands are tough enough to naturalize.-TheSpruce.com

Many of the plants and trees in the different countries around the world are not native to those places. They were brought back to varying lands by visitors and explorers.

Sometimes these items were gifted or traded and then transported back to a person's homeland. Once these items arrived at their new location, they were planted, cared for, and nurtured. Then, those lands were filled with these plants, trees, or animals.

However, the plants, trees, and animals that we are talking about here in this book, all originated in Africa. Some of the stones in the Bible are also only native to Africa.

Take Bdellium, it is mentioned as being in the Garden of Eden. Many conflicting historical and archeological records argue where Bdellium originated.

However, there are ways to prove it is native to Sub-Saharan Africa; that is the land where it originated. Genesis 2:12 tells us that Bdellium is located near one of the four rivers that parted out of the Garden of Eden.

> Genesis 2:10-14-(KJV) And a river went out of Eden to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads. 11The name of the first is Pison: that is it which compasseth the whole land of Havilah, where there is gold; 12And the gold of that land is good: there is bdellium and the onyx stone. 13And the name of the second river is Gihon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ethiopia. 14And the name of the third river is Hiddekel: that is it which goeth toward the east of Assyria. And the fourth river is Euphrates.

We know one of the rivers circled the land of Ethiopia, which is in Africa. That alone is a clue that Bdellium was near the Garden of Eden. That alone may not mean much.

However, we will show you all these things we are discussing are listed in the Bible, and they originated in Africa. As a whole, it will all make perfect sense.

Now, if you do independent research on land names, locations, and things like plants, trees, and animals, you will find many discrepancies.

For example, I have screen-prints that used to say Bdellium was native to Africa; now, when you search the internet, it totally leaves OUT Africa as a resource for Bdellium on many websites.

It sounds all conspiracy-theorish; however, it is true. Since Israelites have been waking up, information has disappeared off the internet.

It is true, ESPECIALLY when it comes to things associated with the Bible and Africa. I have screen-prints of information to prove this. I cannot put the info in this book; because the print quality of screenshots is not good.

It is ridiculous how much things have been edited and changed in the past three years. That is okay; we still have other ways to connect these things together.

God as a Gardener Article

Most scholars believe that the location of Eden "in the east" is in reference to Israel, where Genesis was probably written. In the ancient Hebrew language, Eden means "delight." The Garden of Eden was a place of pristine and abundant natural beauty. All manner of plants were present. A river ran through Eden to water the garden. The Bible did not give the river a name. After leaving Eden, the river formed the headwaters of four rivers: the Pishon, Gihon, Tigris and Euphrates. It's tempting to conclude that Eden was located near present day Iraq because rivers named Tigris and Euphrates are located in Iraq; however, these Iraqi rivers are probably not the original rivers named in Genesis. The devastating flood of Noah's time destroyed and changed the topography of the land. Later peoples probably named the present day rivers Tigris and Euphrates in the same manner that early American colonists named American locations after sites in Europe, e.g., Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

The Bible described the Pishon River as winding through the land of Havilah, noted for its gold and aromatic resin. The aromatic resin was bdellium, the first plant named in the Bible.

What is a bdellium?

Bdellium's genus and species names are Commiphora africana*. The generic name 'Commiphora' is based on the Greek words 'kommi' (gum) and 'phero' (to bear).* The bdellium is a deciduous tree indigenous to sub-Saharan African. In 2012, bdellium did not appear in Israeli plant data bases. Bdellium grows best in red or sandy clay and rocky ground to include from escarpments. It leafs before or at the beginning of the wet season and loses leaves as the dry season begins. If rainfall is sparse and interrupted, two crops of leaves may be produced. Underground roots spread many feet around the tree in search of water. The bark is pleasantly scented and exudes a clear gum or resin. Nomadic peoples use the bdellium tree for several purposes. Roots of young plants have a sweet taste and are chewed. Timber is used for stools, milk containers, spoons and on occasion for building houses. Bark is brewed for red tea. Soft gum is eaten while hard gum is used to make arrows. Fruit is chewed to prevent gum disease and stop toothaches. In ancient Egypt women carried small pouches filled with bdellium pieces as a source of perfume.

Next, let us look at the lion. The lion is mentioned several times in the Bible, 102 times to be exact, and the word lions is mentioned 46 times. That means the lion is a significant animal to Hebrew and Israelite culture, or else the Bible would not have mentioned the lion over 148 times.

Most Christians know that King David fought and killed a lion. Samson fought a lion, and Daniel was in the lions' den. If these people were not living in Africa, where were they fighting all these lions at? In India?

Lions only exist naturally in two places on this earth. A very very small number of lions exist in India, around 300, and the rest of them only exist naturally in Africa. Africa had over 200,000 lions or more that existed there.

These scriptures are essential; we are not listing all of them, just highlighting some important ones. Read them and visualize them.

It is crystal clear all these people were living in a land where lions lived. There is no PLACE ON EARTH; these people could have been, except for the land called Africa.

Timnah is also in Africa; now, the internet tells us Timnah is over in the Palestine region. However, that cannot be true; lions did not exist in that area.

The answer when something does not match up is always, that is because it went "extinct" that is not always true either. Now, that does not mean some things did not go extinct.

We can determine what has and what has not become extinct in an area by matching the other facts surrounding the area.

> Judges 14:5-7 (NIV) Samson went down to Timnah together with his father and mother. As they approached the vineyards of Timnah, suddenly a young lion came roaring toward him. 6The Spirit of the Lord came powerfully upon him so that he tore the lion apart with his bare hands as he might have torn a young goat. But he told neither his father nor his mother what he had done. 7Then he went down and talked with the woman, and he liked her.

Our parrot Immanuela was a Timneh African Grey. The Timneh or Timnah African Grey parrot comes from Africa. It does not mean anything for a letter to be off when it comes to a name in the Bible.

Noah was also called Noe, Shem was called Sem, Tyre was also called Tyrus, so Timneh can also be Timnah. Our parrot was super intelligent; she could say all kinds of words, phrases, and sing songs. Here are some of the lion scriptures.

1 Samuel 17:34-37-(NIV) But David said to Saul, "Your servant has been keeping his father's sheep. When a lion *or a bear came and carried off a sheep from the flock, 35I went after it, struck it and rescued the sheep from its mouth. The Atlas bear

We know that lions only exist naturally in two places in the world, primarily Africa and then a tiny portion of India. Lions were a significant part of the Israelites lives. Christ himself is called the "Lion" of the tribe of Judah.

Here is what National Geographic says about the lion.

National Geographic

> ABOUT THE ASIATIC LION
> Nearly all wild lions live in sub-Saharan Africa, but one small population of Asiatic lions exists in India's Gir Forest. Asiatic lions and African lions are subspecies of the same species.-National Geographic*

We can see here that lions hunt specific animals, and they are also found in extremely hot regions such as Africa.

> Lions are found in 15 African countries. Lion habitats can be found in savannas, plains, grasslands, dense bush, and woodlands. Antelope, zebra, and wildebeests are common prey for this big cat. However, scavenged food provides more than 50 percent of their diets—these big cats will often take over kills made by other carnivores—and cooperative hunting enables them to take down prey as large as buffaloes, rhinos, hippos, and giraffes. The female does 85 to 90 percent of the hunting, usually by setting up an ambush for its prey. The kill is not shared equally within a pride, and at times of prey scarcity, lion* cubs might experience higher mortality rates as hungry females may not even share with their offspring.-African Wildlife Foundation

Now let us talk about some other foods, plants, and animals that were endemic and native to Africa. When we look at these things as a whole and confirm them with the Bible, scientific, archeological, and historical evidence, we can see that the Israelites and Hebrews could not have come from ANY OTHER LAND but Africa.

Deuteronomy 8:6-10 (KJV) Therefore thou shalt keep the commandments of the LORD thy God, to walk in his ways, and to fear him. 7For the LORD thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills; 8A land of wheat, and barley, and vines, and fig trees, and pomegranates; a land of oil olive, and honey; 9A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack any thing in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass. 10When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the LORD thy God for the good land which he hath given thee.

Now we come to the all-important Biblical FIG TREE. The fig tree is a primary fruit in the Bible. Jesus cursed the fig tree. Adam and Eve used fig leaves to cover their privacies in the Garden of Eden.

> Genesis 3:7-(KJV) And the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves aprons.

The fig tree was never found initially in the land called Israel today; it did not grow naturally in that area. They imported fig trees to that land from Africa and to many other lands. Figs can survive in many climates; however, they were endemic to Africa.

The fig tree is not native to the land called Israel, so how could a tree so central to the Bible, Hebrews, and Israelites NOT EXIST in the land called Israel today? The answer is SIMPLE.

ISRAEL (what used to be the land of the Philistines or Palestine) is not the land of the Black Hebrew Israelites, or the Black Hebrews, Black Adam, or Black Eve. Africa is their homeland.

They tell us that Noah's Ark landed over in the Turkish mountains they named Ararat. Answer this question, Mt. Ararat is at least 3300 miles from the Congo in Africa. Now think about this for a minute.

Why would God have Noah's Ark and all the massive animals on it, land on top of the mountains in Ararat, Turkey, then have them travel 3,300 miles to Congo, Africa?

We are talking about massive animals, lions, hippos, rhinos, giraffes, gorillas, and more.

That claim alone is outrageous! Why wouldn't God have the Ark land in Africa where the vast majority of the animals were going to end up? Many of the animals on Noah's Ark only exist in Africa.

A few stragglers must have gone the wrong way and ended up in India and Asia. Not the middle east, Asia. I say that because even though India and Asia have very few of these animals, they still have a few.

Many of us have heard of the magical unicorn, the beautiful white horse with a horn in the middle of its head. It is said to be a mythological and fantastical creature. As I started my intense studies of the Bible, I was surprised to find that the unicorn is discussed in it.

I thought, Wow, the unicorn is not mythological at all. It is a real animal? It was still a little strange to me that God would create a white horse with a horn in the middle of its head. I pondered what purpose it served. Was it a warrior fighter type of horse? My mind wondered.

Then as I was researching the rhinoceros, it hit me; this is probably the unicorn the Bible mentions. Look at these scriptures. All this may be common knowledge to someone else, but I am just seeing it for the first time.

The Rhinoceros has strength, and it has one horn in the middle of its head. Here is what the Greek name is for the Indian Rhinoceros, RHINOCEROS UNICORNIS.

Where are we going with this? Most of the animals described in the Bible came from Africa and still only exist naturally, in the wild, in Africa today.

If the land they call Israel today is the holiest of lands and the land flowing with milk and honey, why does it not have everything the Bible describes is in that land?

Do not think that everything went extinct there that is outrageous! The fact is none of these plants, trees, or animals in the Bible could even come close to being able to survive in the land they call Israel today (naturally) that is a fact.

There are other animals in the Bible that are found across the world. We are highlighting these animals because they are heavily involved in central Bible stories.

These animals are primarily found in Africa, India, and the part of Asia that is nowhere near the land called Israel today.

Let us look more at the ships of Tarshish scriptures mentioned right in the middle of the story of the Queen of Sheba. The scripture does not make it crystal clear; how or if the ships of Tarshish accompanied the Queen of Sheba.

The Queen of Sheba could have come with her caravan of camels on land, and the ships of Tarshish could have come along with her in the water.

Maybe the Queen of Sheba was on one of the ships, and the caravan of camels was on the ground. The scripture there is not clear.

> 1 Kings 10:9-13-(KJV) Blessed be the LORD thy God, which delighted in thee, to set thee on the throne of Israel: because the LORD loved Israel for ever, therefore made he thee king, to do judgment and justice. 10And she gave the king an hundred and twenty talents of gold, and of spices very great store, and precious stones: there came no more such abundance of spices as these which the queen of Sheba gave to king Solomon.11And the navy also of Hiram, that brought gold from Ophir, brought in from Ophir great plenty of almug trees, and precious stones. 12And the king made of the almug trees pillars for the house of the LORD, and for the king's house, harps also and psalteries for singers: there came no such almug trees, nor were seen unto this day.13And king Solomon gave unto the queen of Sheba all her desire, whatsoever she asked, beside that which Solomon gave her of his royal bounty. So she turned and went to her own country, she and her servants.

Soooo, where is the legendary Tarshish located? It is vital because the ships of Tarshish were bringing animals, gold, and other goods to King Solomon every three years. The short answer is; Tarshish is multiple places.

We are going to use the ships of Tarshish and other examples in the Bible; as instruments to ultimately show the homeland of Adam and Eve and the Black Israelites was and always will be in the land, they call Africa.

> 1 Kings 10:11-(KJV) And the navy also of Hiram, that brought gold from Ophir, brought in from Ophir great plenty of almug trees, and precious stones.

There are thousands of references in the Bible that leave us clues about where the real Biblical Holy Land is located; and where the majority of Bible stories take place. I have an old map that shows the land of Ophir was located in South Africa.

If we leave it solely to the word on the internet, we would assume Tarshish is ONLY a place over near Spain in Europe somewhere, but that was not the case, according to the Bible.

Just because Japheth had a son named Tarshish and the internet says the ships came from Europe, does not mean it is true. When researching something, try to find at least (10) ten different sources of information, if not more; and compare all of them with the Bible.

One tidbit that is crucial to understanding the Bible is that everything was not written in stone. For example, just because they tell us the Israelites lived in a land called Israel, and there is a land called Israel today, it does not mean they are the same thing.

Countries, lands, or islands changed names and locations all the time in the Bible. Persia and Media controlled most of the world at one time. When this happened, Persia and Media renamed the countries and islands with their own names.

The same thing happened to the land called Israel today; it has changed names, as we previously discussed. The land they are calling Israel today was once named Philistine, or Palestine.

Chapter Six

The Land of Israel

There are additional clues that help us determine where the land is that God gave to the Israelites. One of those clues can be found in the Red Sea crossing.

The Red or "Reed" sea crossing happened when God had Moses save the Israelites after they had been held for hundreds of years in Egyptian slavery.

> Exodus 14:26-29 (KJV) And the LORD said unto Moses, Stretch out thine hand over the sea, that the waters may come again upon the Egyptians, upon their chariots, and upon their horsemen. 27And Moses stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the sea returned to his strength when the morning appeared; and the Egyptians fled against it; and the LORD overthrew the Egyptians in the midst of the sea. 28And the waters returned, and covered the chariots, and the horsemen, and all the host of Pharaoh that came into the sea after them; there remained not so much as one of them. 29But the children of Israel walked upon dry land in the midst of the sea; and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left.
> Exodus 15:4-(KJV) Pharaoh's chariots and his host hath he cast into the sea: his chosen captains also are drowned in the Red sea.

I had heard the same story over again from a young age about Moses parting the Red Sea. I was told that is where the Israelites crossed the ocean, after escaping the pharaoh.

Now, growing up, I knew that Moses parted the Red Sea, but I did not know anything at all about Biblical geography. I did not know where the Red Sea was located, and I had no idea where the Israelites or Moses even lived.

Truthfully, I did not really care. It did not mean anything to me personally. I thought it was a cool story and all. However, it was not something I considered necessary to keep a record of in my life.

These are the most stressed things I heard as a Christian growing up. Love everyone, treat everyone kindly, and be forgiving to everyone. Of course, try not to sin.

Well, as the story goes, the Israelites crossed that little piece of ocean in between Africa and Saudi Arabia and made it to the other side.

That happened through Moses holding up his staff to part the Red Sea. Why is this important? If Moses crossed the Red Sea, as in the ocean, after escaping from Egypt, it puts him over in the region of the land called Israel today.

However, if he crossed a different body of water, that would place him in a whole different location. We are going to prove our theory that the homeland of the Israelites is in Africa.

Okay, now we should look at the Bible and where it says the Reed Sea or the Red Sea is located. If you are not familiar with the Bible and the Greek and the Hebrew, I will try to explain.

As Black Hebrew Israelites, we know the Bible was originally written in Hebrew. That includes what they call the New Testament and the Old Testament.

We know that because the Bible is the book of the Hebrews and Israelites. It is their natural history book if a person can understand that everything else will start making sense.

I will repeat that; the Bible is not a book for the Christion religion. It is the actual history book of Israelites and Hebrews.

Jesus' spirit was from Heaven, but Jesus was also a Black Hebrew, a Black Israelite from the physical Black tribe of Judah. Jesus' physical bloodline was from Black Adam, Black Shem, Black Abraham, Black Isaac, Black Jacob, and Black King David.

Jesus is still our Hebrew Messiah and our Savior; he died on the cross and gave his life for us, HIS people. Moses was a Hebrew, Abraham was a Hebrew, Paul was a Hebrew and an Israelite.

Both Jesus and Paul spoke in the Hebrew tongue when communicating with people.

> Acts 26:14-(KJV) And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.
>
> Acts 21:40-(KJV) And when he had given him licence, Paul stood on the stairs, and beckoned with the hand unto the people. And when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

Peter, James, Samuel, Stephen, and Samson were Hebrews and Israelites. Jonah was also a Hebrew.

Jonah 1:9-(KJV) And he said unto them, I am an Hebrew; and I fear the LORD, the God of heaven, which hath made the sea and the dry land.

The entire Bible is about Hebrews and the Israelites, God's chosen people. That is true from Genesis to Revelation. Does God consider anyone else his people, other than Israelites?

We believe that God loves anyone that loves him and keeps his laws, statutes, and commandments. That includes acknowledging and accepting his chosen people.

Many Black Hebrew Israelites spend so much time worrying about who is and who is not going to make it. You better focus on yourself and your sins; if you do not, you will be the one cast into Hell.

Matthew 8:10-12-(KJV) When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel*. 11And I say unto you,* That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven. 12But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Even though the Bible was originally written in all Hebrew, things changed with war. After suffering through multiple wars and imprisonments, the Israelites started losing their written records.

The Israelites started forgetting their customs when the customs of the heathens were forced upon them. They were no different than us in America today.

The Israelites were captured repeatedly throughout the Bible for sin. Throughout all this, their history book, the Bible, was taken and translated into different languages. One of those languages was Greek.

We are going to go into more detail about the Red Sea Crossing now. I am going to show you that the Israelites actually crossed the Nile River and not the ocean.

For those of us in America, most of us read the Bible that was translated into English. However, there are ways we can see what the original Greek and Hebrew words are for those English words.

We can do that by referencing the Strong's Concordance, the Hebrew Lexicon, or the interlinear Bible. These are just a few ways, for example, we can go to this website http://www.Biblecc.com Type in the search box, Exodus 15:4, and hit enter. You will see about two spaces below the search box if you look to the right; the word -Interlin- click on it. It will bring up the original Hebrew words that the English words were translated from in that scripture.

Scroll down the page and look at the Hebrew words for "Red" and "in the Sea." Above each of these sets of words is a Hebrew name, and then above that is a number.

If you look above the word "Red" there is the Hebrew word s$\bar{u}$ $\bar{p}$. Click on the number above the word sūp̄. The number is 5488. When you click on the number 5488, it will bring up another page.

That page will give you (most of the time) the "correct" definition of the word "Red." It says, "reeds, rushes." I then go to other sources for further confirmation that the "Red" Sea is actually called the "Reed" Sea or Sea of Reeds, in the original Hebrew.

Hit the back arrow and then look at the words "in the Sea." You will see the Hebrew word b̲ə·yam. Click on the number 3220 above that word. It will bring up a new page. Look at the definition for the word "yam," it says, "Sea."

There is another website you can also reference, which is mostly accurate. Type, these words scripture4all hebrew lexicon pdf in a Google search. The first link that pops up should be- Online Hebrew Interlinear Bible - Scripture4All.

Click on that and then click on Exodus 15:4. Look at the Hebrew for the words for Red Sea. It says, “sea of weeds,” and the word_s$\bar{u}$ $\overline{p}$ is listed. It is the same word.

Of course, we can go on and on with other sources, but I am trying to show you something in the shortest, most accurate way possible. We can see from this that the original Hebrew says, “Sea of Reeds” or “Sea of Weed.”

Now, they want us to believe that the ocean between Africa and Saudi Arabia is where the Israelites crossed. Therefore, they will tell us that all that just means “Seaweed” so that confirms it is the ocean.

The Bible mentions flags, bulrushes, reeds, and papyrus. There are different Hebrew names for these words, but in English, they have equivalent meanings.

> Job 8:11-(KJV)- Can the rush grow up without mire? can the flag grow without water?

The Hebrew word for rush here is h1573-gome'- The definition is (rush, reed, papyrus). The Hebrew word for flag here is-h260-'achuw-The definition is (reeds, marsh plants, rushes)

Isaiah 19:7-(KJV) The paper reeds by the brooks, by the mouth of the brooks, and every thing sown by the brooks, shall wither, be driven away, and be no more.

*Gesenius' Hebrew-Chaldee Lexicon-Here used of the grassy places on the banks of the Nile.

The KJV does not have the word papyrus in it, but the other versions of the Bible do. The definition is the same. The Hebrew word for papyrus in other Bible versions is h1573-gome'-The definition is (rush, reed, papyrus).

Here are some more examples, remember, these plants need very specific conditions to grow, and they are all native to Africa. They grew in Africa before they grew anywhere else in the world.

Isaiah 19:6-(KJV) And they shall turn the rivers far away; and the brooks of defence shall be emptied and dried up: the reeds and flags shall wither.

The Hebrew word for reeds here is h7070-qaneh-The definition is (reed, stalk, water-plant). The Hebrew word for flags here is h5488-cuwph-The definition is (reed, rush, water plant).

Exodus 2:3-(KJV) And when she could not longer hide him, she took for him an ark of bulrushes, and daubed it with slime and with pitch, and put the child therein; and she laid it in the flags by the river's brink.

The Hebrew word for bulrushes here is h1573-gome'-The definition is (rush, reed, papyrus).

Moses' mother sent him down the Nile in a basket made of papyrus. She set him in the flags on the side of the river and floated him down. It cannot get much clearer; Moses parted the sea of reeds or the NILE RIVER.

We can see from all this that reeds, bulrushes, flags, mire, and papyrus all grow along the Nile river. That is where the Israelites crossed after they escaped slavery by the Egyptian Pharaoh.

It was not the ocean that was parted with Moses' staff; it was the "sea of reeds" or the Nile river. Google the Nile River and see how it looks.

There is really no doubt about it; the "Reed Sea" crossing was specifically in Africa at the Nile River. However, there will always still be doubters, so let us cover it a little bit more.

All of this may be challenging to believe, but looking at all the evidence, it was likely Jesus was also crucified in the land called Africa. Here is just a piece of the evidence, but look at these scriptures.

Matthew 27:29-(KJV) And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!

Matthew 27:30-(KJV) And they spit upon him, and took the reed*, and smote him on the head.*

Matthew 27:48-(KJV) And straightway one of them ran, and took a spunge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed*, and gave him to drink.*

Mark 15:19-(KJV) And they smote him on the head with a reed*, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees worshipped him.*

Mark 15:36-(KJV) And one ran and filled a spunge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed*, and gave him to drink, saying, Let alone; let us see whether Elias will come to take him down.*

The voice of the Tanach, the Hebrew OT, is simple and clear—the Israelites crossed the yam suph. Yam is "sea," suph is "reeds"; together, they mean "Sea of Reeds."

This article was first published in the Winter 2008 issue of Bible and Spade.

Israel Crossed the Reed Sea (Yam Suph)

In the OT, the yam suph was a definite location, and a large one. There God deposited the locusts that devoured Egypt (Ex 10:13–19). After crossing the miraculously parted yam suph, the Israelites traveled some distance over an unspecified period lasting several days, then encountered the yam suph again (Nm 33:10–11). The yam suph had a shoreline in the land of Edom, where were situated the cities of Ezion-Geber and Eloth. And the yam suph was to be a border of Israel (Ex 23:21).

The yam suph is mentioned throughout the Hebrew Scriptures—a dozen times in the Law,2 and as many in the Prophets and Holy Writings. The majority of instances are found in passages that chronicle God's miraculous deliverance of the Israelites in their exodus from Egypt*- Associates for Biblical Research*

We can clearly see from all these reliable and credible sources of information that the Israelites crossed the Nile River in Africa. Do not let anyone lie to you and tell you differently. That is important because the scripture also states that the Nile borders the Israelites land of Israel.

Exodus 23:31-(KJV) And I will set thy bounds from the Red sea even unto the sea of the Philistines, and from the desert unto the river: for I will deliver the inhabitants of the land into your hand; and thou shalt drive them out before thee.

That leaves us no doubt at all that Israel, the land of the Black Hebrew Israelites is along the Nile River in Africa.

The Jewish people of the world can claim whatever land they want, they have their beliefs, and we have our own. I am sure they would not want any land in Africa to be their homeland, regardless.

Some Black Hebrew Israelites may not agree with our claim. I have never even heard another Israelite claim what we are claiming in our book. As far as I know, they all believe the homeland of Black Hebrew Israelites is over near Palestine.

> Exodus 23:31-(KJV) And I will set thy bounds from the Red sea even unto the sea of the Philistines, and from the desert unto the river: for I will deliver the inhabitants of the land into your hand; and thou shalt drive them out before thee.

We have clearly proven that the "Red Sea" or the "Reed Sea" is the Nile River. The scripture here, Exodus 23:31, says God sets the bounds of the Israelites from the Nile.

I do not have this 100% down, to be honest. I know the land of the Israelites is within the Africa continent, but I am not sure how much. For example, it appears that God gave the Israelites land west of the Nile.

The scripture says their boundaries are from the "Sea of Reeds" to the "Sea of the Philistines," which is the Mediterranean. We know, as we learned earlier, Palestine is the land of the Philistines.

We can see the Israelites' land was in Africa from the west of the Nile up unto the Mediterranean sea. I'm still working on the rest of it. It is always a work in progress. None of us knows everything.

Now that we know Israelites lived in Africa, it makes it easier to see how they could have ended up on slave ships on the West Coast of Africa, heading to America.

As we have already gone over, the Israelites were constant slaves of other nations. The Israelites were captured and put in so much slavery that Jeremiah asked God this question-

> Jeremiah 2:14-(KJV) Is Israel a servant? is he a homeborn slave? why is he spoiled?
>
> Deuteronomy 28:48-(KJV) Therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies which the LORD shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things: and he shall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee.

Most Black people, especially those born before 1990, know about slave pictures. Remember the one where a yoke of iron has been placed around the slave's neck to prevent him from successfully escaping captivity.

We know that our ancestors did not freely MIGRATE to America. They were stolen and forced into slavery in a foreign land as multiple Bible scriptures state.

However, we cannot hate the people that enslaved us. It was OUR fault, and God allowed it. Our ancestors continued to break all of God's laws, statutes and commandments. Nevertheless, they are no different from what we are today.

> Jeremiah 5:19-(NIV) And when the people ask, 'Why has the LORD our God done all this to us?' you will tell them, 'As you have forsaken me and served foreign gods in your own land, so now you will serve foreigners in a land not your own.'

We put up Buddha statues in our houses and meditate in front of them. That is pure idolatry in its highest form. We worship other religions and celebrate all the holidays that are against God's word. We are horrible just like our ancestors were, so it is nobody's fault but our own.

I hate seeing Black Hebrew Israelites on street corners talking badly about other people. They need to work on themselves! Heck, if we spent as much time working on ourselves, as we do worrying about what other people are doing, we would be a whole lot better off.

> Jeremiah 17:4-(NLT)- The wonderful possession I have reserved for you will slip from your hands. I will tell your enemies to take you as captives to a foreign land*. For my anger blazes like a fire that will burn forever."*

We know that our ancestors were taken by slave ships to America. However, Black people were not selling their own people into slavery.

Muslims from the line of Ham were selling Black Israelites into slavery for the most part. Although, I am sure there were some Judas in there. They were selling us to European merchants.

Egypt and bondage are synonymous in the Bible. Sometimes, the Bible uses the word "Egypt" as a symbol of slavery. That is probably because it was the longest stretch of constant slavery, the Israelites would face.

However, the Bible does let us know that the Israelites would be sent into slavery or bondage one last time. That would occur after Egyptian slavery. That last time they would go into slavery, it would be by slave ships.

> Deuteronomy 28:68-(KJV) And the LORD shall bring thee into Egypt again with ships, by the way whereof I spake unto thee, Thou shalt see it no more again: and there ye shall be sold unto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen*, and no man shall buy you.*

Many Bible scholars have attempted to prove this scripture away by saying that it already happened. They say it happened around 70AD, and there is no way it can be referring to Black Americans being sold onto slave ships. I will prove to you that that is also a lie.

Deuteronomy 28:68-(KJV) And the LORD shall bring thee into Egypt again with ships, by the way whereof I spake unto thee, Thou shalt see it no more again: and there ye shall be sold unto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shall buy you.

We can see here that it says, "Bring thee into Egypt again." The word Egypt is frequently used with the phrase "House of Bondage."

Exodus 13:3-(KJV) And Moses said unto the people, Remember this day, in which ye came out from Egypt, out of the house of bondage; for by strength of hand the LORD brought you out from this place: there shall no leavened bread be eaten.

*Exodus 13:14-(KJV) And it shall be when thy son asketh thee in time to come, saying, What is this? that thou shalt say unto him, By strength of hand the LORD brought us out from Egypt, from the house of bondage:

*Exodus 20:2-(KJV) I am the LORD thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

*Deuteronomy 5:6-(KJV) I am the LORD thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

*Deuteronomy 6:12-(KJV) Then beware lest thou forget the LORD, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

Deuteronomy 8:14-(KJV) Then thine heart be lifted up, and thou forget the LORD thy God, which *brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage;

Joshua 24:17-(KJV) For the LORD our God, he it is that brought us up and our fathers out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and which did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way wherein we went, and among all the people through whom we passed:

*Judges 6:8-(KJV) That the LORD sent a prophet unto the children of Israel, which said unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, I brought you up from Egypt, and brought you forth out of the house of bondage;

When God allowed Moses to lead our forefathers out of Egypt, it was referred to as "THE HOUSE OF BONDAGE." God promised he would not send us there again. All we had to do was not worship other gods and live right.

However, God warned us that if we broke his rules and laws, we would go into "Egypt" or bondage again. Why? Because we repeatedly broke his laws, statutes, and commandments, again and again.

However, the final time, God would be sending us into slavery by slave ship. I say "final" because this is it. It is our last chance! Jesus is coming soon, and there is not going to be another chance for us.

I know people have been saying Jesus is "coming back soon" throughout the ages but look at this world. It is Sodom and Gomorrah all over again; anyone with any common sense can see that this is our last chance.

People have attempted to explain this scripture away in many different ways. One is that this literally means back to physical Egypt, but the term Egypt itself means the "house of bondage."

> Deuteronomy 28:68-(KJV) And the LORD shall bring thee into Egypt again with ships, by the way whereof I spake unto thee, Thou shalt see it no more again: and there ye shall be sold unto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shall buy you.

So, it does not have to "physically" mean the land of Egypt. We can prove that with further evidence. In just a minute, we will look at proof the slaves on the ships were listed as Hebrews. First, let us look at the other disputed part of the scripture.

“No man shall buy you.” Bible scholars like to argue that slaves were bought* and sold and auction, so there is no way the scripture can be talking about Black slaves.

> *Deuteronomy 28:68-(KJV) And the LORD shall bring thee into Egypt again with ships, by the way whereof I spake unto thee, Thou shalt see it no more again: and there ye shall be sold unto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shall buy you.

Just as God freed or redeemed us from slavery with the Pharaoh in Egypt, Hebrew slaves or servants also used to earn the right to be redeemed from servitude.

> Leviticus 25:39-43-(NIV)If any of your fellow Israelites become poor and sell themselves to you, do not make them work as slaves. 40They are to be treated as hired workers or temporary residents among you; they are to work for you until the Year of Jubilee. 41Then they and their children are to be released, and they will go back to their own clans and to the property of their ancestors. 42Because the Israelites are my servants, whom I brought out of Egypt, they must not be sold as slaves. 43Do not rule over them ruthlessly, but fear your God.
>
> Deuteronomy 7:8-(KJV) But because the LORD loved you, and because he would keep the oath which he had sworn unto your fathers, hath the LORD brought you out with a mighty hand, and redeemed you out of the house of bondmen, from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt.

However, in this case, God would not let anyone redeem (buy freedom back) or save these slaves. That means Martin Luther King will not be freeing you from your burdens, neither will Obama, Al Sharpton, Black Lives Matter, the NAACP, or any other agency like them.

Cambridge Dictionary

to buy back something, or to exchange something for money or for goods or services:- Cambridge Dictionary

God is saying that NO HUMAN BEING on this earth can save you from the punishment you will be facing. God was telling the Israelites that they would face severe punishment for a period.

However, he would be redeeming them in the last days through His Son Jesus. No man can buy us, save us, or redeem us, but Jesus can.

Here are some more clues these scriptures are talking about Black Hebrew Israelites.

Isaiah 42:22-(KJV) But this is a people robbed and spoiled; they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth; for a spoil, and none saith, Restore.

We do not have to even go into details about how many Black men, women, and children are locked up in prisons right now.

Deuteronomy 28:26-(KJV) And thy carcase shall be meat unto all fowls of the air, and unto the beasts of the earth, and no man shall fray them away.

Slaves were hung from trees for all the animals and birds to feast on their carcasses. It was a curse and punishment for worshipping other gods.

*Acts 5:30-(KJV) The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree.

*Acts 10:39-(KJV) And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they slew and hanged on a tree:

*Galatians 3:13-(KJV) Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree:

We all know that little Black babies and Black children were viciously and violently ripped from the hands of their mothers and fathers and given or sold to other people.

They were raped, sodomized, and fed to crocodiles and alligators as bait. No matter how much people like to tell us that it is a lie, it is not.

Our tiny Black babies were taken and sold or given to complete strangers. There was nothing the parents could do about it either; there was no strength in their hands, no control over the situation.

> *Deuteronomy 28:32-(NIV) Your sons and daughters will be given to another nation, and you will wear out your eyes watching for them day after day, powerless to lift a hand.

None of the words written in this book should produce anger or hate within your mind. These words are not being written to produce hate or anger in anyone's mind or soul. They are written to invoke CHANGE!

When I first learned about all of this, I got upset. Then, I thought, we did this to ourselves. There will always be people that look outside of themselves to blame someone else. If they do not hate the white man, they will hate their ancestors.

Then you will have the people that are like I hate God for all of this. It really does not matter what kind of fairytale you have going on in your mind. The only thing that is going to make a change, and it is not "Black Lives Matter," it is you!

If you do not return to God, no matter who you are, you are not going to make a change, and you are not going to make it eternally.

We must come back to God and follow his laws, statutes, and commandments. Nothing else is going to work. Ask yourself, how has it been working for you?

I do not care if we have Jay-Z and Beyonce's money or if we have a wealth of a sweet homeless person on the street. Nothing will ever make us internally happy; we will just keep grasping at the air.

I know this is America, and we smile even when we are not happy. However, how is that helping us with anything long-term? Just look at everyone we see on TV and in movies, in real life.

Honestly, have you ever saw any big-time celebrity that truly looks happy? Think about it. I am not saying this to say anything malicious about any of these people.

It is not an insult; it is just an observation. Does any top celebrity, actor, rapper, reality star, basketball, or football player look happy to you? I mean really happy or content and satisfied with their lives?

Look at Justin Bieber, Charlie Sheen, Lindsey Lohan, Amanda Bynes, Mel Gibson, Kanye West, Rhianna, Jennifer Lopez, Drake, and the list goes on forever.

I am listing these people, not because I do not like them, but because they are famous enough for people to know their names. I obviously do not mean they have never ever had a happy moment in their lives.

I am talking about being content and being satisfied with their lives. There is so much pressure on these celebrities to go big or go home, to be bigger and better, and to conquer all those above them.

Unfortunately, the majority of us "normal" people will never ever be financially successful on a level that extreme. Nevertheless, it does not stop us from incessantly dreaming of that kind of wealth and fame.

I am talking about as a people. I am not talking about me personally. Both Jeremiah and I are super introverts; the last thing we would ever want to be is famous. I do not even like talking to people.

I like to write books, and I sell a few of them here and there. With my net profit at around $1 per book, I am certainly not writing to be rich either.

Now, we will prove that Black slaves on those slave ships that sailed to America from the Southern and Western coast of Africa were Black Hebrew Israelites.

They were primarily from the tribe of Judah, Benjamin, and Levi; those three tribes made up the southern kingdom of Israel. They were also called Igbos, Eebo, Eebos, Heebos, Hebo, or Heebo.

Even though the slaves may have primarily been from the southern kingdom, there were also members of the northern kingdom forced into slavery.

These are derivatives of the word Hebrew. When the word Igbo is pronounced it sounds like Heebo or Eebo. The majority of slaves on many slave ship manifests list the description of the slaves as Heebo oe or Eebos.

I have a large Microsoft Excel file on these slave ship manifests. I cannot put them all in this book; it will take me 10 minutes just to create this one example. Nevertheless, I will put an example of one of them here.

The Igbo people (English: /ˈiːboʊ/ EE-boh, also US: /ˈɪgboʊ/; also spelled Ibo and formerly also Iboe, Ebo, Eboe, Eboans, Heebo; natively Ọ́ndị́ Ìgbò [ìg͡bò] are an ethnic group native to the present-day south-central and southeastern Nigeria. There has been much speculation about the origins of the Igbo people, as it is unknown how exactly the group came to form. Geographically, the Igbo homeland is divided into two unequal sections by the Niger River – an eastern (which is the larger of the two) and a western section. The Igbo people are one of the largest ethnic groups in Africa.

"It is unknown how exactly the group came to form." Do you see that quote? Information like that is exactly why we, as a people, must become diligent in our own research. The Igbo people and there are millions of them, are NOT a small group of people; they know they are Jews.

Both the Igbo and the Lemba people of Africa have been saying they are Jews for hundreds of years. The European world just does not acknowledge them as being Jews.

That has absolutely nothing to do with them actually being Jews. Here is what we must understand as a people; we do not need anyone from any other race to validate our ethnicity or our identity.

Quit listening to people, who are NOT your people, WHO ARE TELLING YOU WHO YOU ARE!

Find out who you are for yourselves. Never again let anyone tell you who you are or who your people are, period! Hebrew is the language of a people, and it is also a name that is used to refer to a people.

The Hebrews are called Hebrews, and their language is Hebrew. The word means to cross over to the other side. The Strong's Concordance says the root of the word is from Eber. Eber was Shem's grandson. The Bible calls him Heber or Eber.

Abraham was called a Hebrew, and Paul refers to himself as a Hebrew.

> 2 Corinthians 11:22-(KJV) Are they Hebrews? so am I. Are they Israelites? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? so am I.
>
> Philippians 3:5-(KJV) Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrews*; as touching the law, a Pharisee;*

Like I said before, from Genesis to Revelation, the Bible is about the Hebrews and the Israelites. That is a fact; you will be able to see that very clearly once you start your own studies.

> Genesis 40:15-(KJV) For indeed I was stolen away out of the land of the Hebrews*: and here also* have I done nothing that they should put me into the dungeon.

Genesis 14:13-(KJV) And there came one that had escaped, and told Abram the Hebrew; for he dwelt in the plain of Mamre the Amorite, brother of Eshcol, and brother of Aner: and these were confederate with Abram.

Revelation 16:16-(KJV) And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon.

We know the slave ships were filled with Hebrew slaves/Igbo slaves/Black Judah slaves. We will prove that more in just a minute. Remember, the southern kingdom was Judah, Benjamin, and Levi.

Just as Hebrew is a language and the name of a people, the same thing applies to Igbo. Igbo is the name of a people, and it is also the language of a people.

Igbo Landing is a historic site at Dunbar Creek on St. Simons Island, Glynn County, Georgia. In 1803 one of the largest mass suicides of enslaved people took place when Igbo captives from what is now Nigeria were taken to the Georgia coast. In May 1803, the Igbo and other West African captives arrived in Savannah, Georgia, on the slave ship the Wanderer. They were purchased for an average of $100 each by slave merchants John Couper and Thomas Spalding to be resold to plantations on nearby St. Simons Island. The chained slaves were packed under deck of a coastal vessel, the York, which would take them to St. Simons. During the voyage, approximately 75 Igbo slaves rose in rebellion, took control of the ship, drowned their captors, and in the process caused the grounding of the ship in Dunbar Creek.

Chambers. The Frontier Culture Museum of Virginia estimates around 38% of* captives taken to Virginia were from the Bight of Biafra. Igbo peoples constituted the majority of enslaved Africans in Maryland. Chambers has been quoted saying "My research suggests that perhaps 60 percent of Black Americans have at least one Igbo ancestor..." An estimated 14.6% of slaves were taken from the Bight of Biafra between 1650 and 1900, the third greatest percentage in the era of the transatlantic slave trade. Ethnic groups were fairly saturated in certain parts of the Americas because of planters preferences for certain African peoples. The Igbo were dispersed to colonies such as Jamaica, Cuba, Haiti, Barbados, United States, Belize, Trinidad and Tobago among others. *Elements of Igbo culture can still be found in these places. Chapter Seven

Will the Real Jesus Stand Up?

The letter J

I really do not even want to discuss this topic, because Christians go CRAY CRAY. Christians automatically label you anti-Christ and a Jesus hater, if you tell them Jesus cannot be our Savior and Messiah's name, they lose it.

Listen, nobody loves “Jesus” more than I do. I have been in love with him since I was seven years old. However, the facts are the facts. It is literally impossible for Jesus to be our Savior’s name.

Where did the name Jesus come from? It did not come from the original Hebrew Bible. The name was created. One of my parents told me that God would not have put the name Jesus in the Bible if he did not want us to call him that name, and that was that!

That is fine, but it still does not make it his name. Any basic research, I do mean -BASIC- will tell us that Jesus cannot be our Messiah and Savior's name. What you need to ask yourself now is why they are lying to us about his real name?

There are two reasons for these lies. One is that there is power in our Messiah and Savior's actual name. Number two, God allowed his name to be hidden and kept secret from us as a punishment for being disobedient. You will learn more about that in a bit.

> *Hosea 2:16-(KJV) And it shall be at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me Ishi; and shalt call me no more Baali.
> Revelation 3:12-13-(KJV) Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name. 13He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

If the names Jesus and Jehovah were so amazing and powerful why is God taking them from us and giving us new names? Why does God tell us we would be calling him by satan's name?

Baal (Baali, Baalim) were all names for satan or the chief demon Baalzebub. Therefore, the scriptures let us know that we would be calling the Most High and his Son by the incorrect names.

Let us look at how foreign words like Hebrew words are either translated or transliterated into the English language. When a word is translated it gives us the equivalent word, often unrelated in form in another language. When a word is transliterated, this is what happens.

> Transliterate- means 'to replace the letters or characters or a word with the corresponding letters in another alphabet'. Words may be transliterated into the Roman alphabet from their originals in Greek, Chinese, Japanese, and so on. The result is transliteration, which preserves the form of the original. For example, petron is a transliteration from Greek, and wing is its translation.

The name Jesus has only been transliterated, not translated. The name Jesus was transliterated at least three different times. From Hebrew to Greek, then Greek to Latin, and then Latin to English.

Therefore, the word, Jesus was literally created from some mysterious source, during transliteration. When we study Hebrew, we know that the Israelites were all given names with a meaning behind them.

JESUS was undoubtedly HEBREW so that he would have absolutely been given a Hebrew name. For example, the name Jacob means to supplant. The meaning behind a name was significant.

The English name JESUS; has absolutely no meaning, according to the Europeans who created it. That is what they tell us.

I doubt that is true since they gave us pagan names to call the Most High, it would be highly probable they also gave us a name for our Savior that has a pagan origin.

However, this has been deeply hidden from us, so we can only go with the facts. The facts are, when a word is transliterated, it loses its original meaning.

That is because a transliteration of a word only preserves the form of the original word. It means English letters were used to sound out the form of the word, whereas translation gives us the equivalent word in another language.

The Messiah's original birth name is not translated; we do not know what the original name was. However, the new name they gave us does not sound at all like any word in the original language.

Theoretically, the name Jesus has absolutely no meaning in the English, Greek, or Latin language. However, we know from history, that Europeans have replaced original Hebrew names and places with the name of their pagan gods.

They invented the letter J no more than 500 years ago. It is literally impossible, for Jesus, to be the Messiah's real name or for Jehovah to be the Most High's real name.

We certainly should not be trusting Greeks or Romans to tell us what either God or Jesus' real name are. They were both eternal enemies of the Jews and

CHRIST

The word Christ, Christos, the Greek equivalent of the Hebrew word Messias, means "anointed." According to the Old Law, priests (Exodus 29:29; Leviticus 4:3), kings (I Kings 10:1; 24:7), and prophets (Isaias 61:1) were supposed to be anointed for their respective offices; now, the Christ, or the Messias, combined this threefold dignity in His Person.---Only after the Resurrection did the title gradually pass into a proper name, and the expression Jesus Christ or Christ Jesus became only one designation. But at this stage the Greeks and Romans understood little or nothing about the import of the word anointed*; to them it did not convey any sacred conception. Hence they substituted Chrestus, or "excellent", for Christians or "anointed", and Chrestians instead of "Christians." There may be an allusion to this practice in I Peter 2:3; hoti chrestos ho kyrios, which is rendered "that the Lord is sweet." Justin Martyr (Apol., I, 4), Clement of Alexandria (Strom., II, iv, 18), Tertullian (Adv. Gentes, II), and* Again, why do we believe that Romans and Greeks, who were always our enemies, loved us enough to give us our true history?

I will tell you why. We would rather have someone GIVE US our history than to learn about our history for ourselves, and that is sad my friend.

We know that Christ walked the earth over 2000 years ago. So, what were people calling him for the first 2000 years??? It could not have been Jesus or Jehovah if the letter J was not invented then.

So, what was Jesus' name before the letter J was invented? That is the real question. The answer is…we do not know. We will never know until Christ returns and gives us his real name.

You will find after researching Black Hebrew Israelite groups that there are many different versions and arguments about both Jesus and God's true names.

The Bible tells us that we will be using the wrong names, and when Jesus returns, we will be given the true names to replace the inaccurate names we have been calling them all these years.

That is why we still use the words, Jesus, and God. If we do not, people assume we are worshipping satan or something.

Here lies the biggest problem of mainstream Black America; our people are very suspicious and untrustworthy about many things presented to them.

What I am writing here was not written to be racist or prejudiced; it was written to educate. I love God and Jesus and their people no matter what "color" they are.

We have been told our entire lives that God is European looking, Jesus is European looking, and all of God's people are European looking, and we just say, "Okay, that is cool; that is fine with us."

We do not question or research anything; it is simply the way it is. However, if we tell our people God and Jesus was "Black," our people will say, "That is not true!….It does not matter!…You are spewing hate!...Everyone is all the same!"

"We are all the same???" That is the dumbest statement I have ever heard! Do we all look the same to you? Do we all act the same to you? Do we all eat the same to you? Do we have the same culture?

We CANNOT DO THAT AS A PEOPLE! OUR PEOPLE CARE ABOUT ALL THE WRONG THINGS! "Gotta get that paper! Gotta get them coins! Listen, to me, you must care more about your history and more about your God than all those other things.

The problem is throughout history whenever someone like us has tried to bring this kind of information to our people they are discredited.

What do you think is going to happen if people start reading this book, and they start understanding what we are writing? It is going to be discredited. It will be discredited on a level of insane discreditation.

It does not really matter to us, though. We know the truth, and that is all that matters. Whether you believe it or not is up to you. We did not write this book for high accolades and acknowledgment by any man in this world.

We wrote this book to inform our people about their real history. We do not need anyone's stamp of approval or their seal, saying that it is okay. We do not want it, and we do not need it, remember that.

Our goal is to inform and educate our people. Why is it that we are so ready and willing to accept a European Jesus, but not a Black Jesus, someone that looks like us?

Do we really hate ourselves that much as a people. I cannot tell you how many times I have heard an older Black woman say, I love my Jesus, I don't care that he is white, white Jesus has been good to me!"

Why can it not be that "Black Jesus" has been good to you? Why do we have such a problem with each other? So much to the point that we deny our own people. The Black Lemba Jews in Africa are Jesus' people. They are our people.

Scientists and geneticists all over the world are willing to admit that these Black tribes are Jews. However, they are not willing to acknowledge that their lineage did not come from Europeans.

They will say they are Black Jews, but they descended from Europeans or copied Europeans. We know that that is not true. These Black people are DIRECT descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, period!

I know "Wakanda Forever" may have made this more difficult to believe. Still, it is essential to accept that Black Hebrew Israelites and Africa Africans are not the same lineages of people.

They are from the lineage of Ham, and we are from the lineage of Shem. Africa *African*s were not taken in mass quantities to lands in the north that their fathers never knew.

Zondervan's Bible Dictionary

They do not fit the curses of Deuteronomy. The average Christian may not know these things. However, trust me, the "Bible Scholars" of the world know these things.

Very few of them will admit it, in any case. We can find all of this information and evidence in older printed books. I have read at least one hundred books, including the entire Bible a few times, researching these things.

When you read old books and writings, Europeans wrote about Black Jews all the time. Black Jews did not become a problem until after slavery ended in America.

That is when the history mysteriously and magically disappeared, and all traces of Black Israelites got temporarily erased from history. Here are some excerpts from older books.

If you still have a hard time believing Black Americans are the physical descendants of the Biblical Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, here is some additional evidence.

The evidence here is a little more challenging to explain without pictures. However, you can go to our website and look under the evidence tab to see the images of the maps that show the Kingdom name.

Here are the links to our website www.forisraelitesbyisraelites.com and www.fibibooks.com.

I choose the name www.fibibooks.com F.I.B.I. because that is the acronym for For. Israelites. By. Israelites. And then of course books, because we write books, so it is www.fibibooks.com.

What happened to the ancestors of Black Americans BEFORE they were forced into slavery? Who were they?

The slaves were taken from the region of Africa called the Kingdom of Judah. Our ancestors were living in the Kingdom of Judah in Africa, and they were the Kings and Queens of Judah. That area is in the area we know as Nigeria today.

They were God's chosen people that were about to face one of the worst times of slavery in Israelite history. On ancient maps, the place is called the Kingdom of Judah, Ouida, or Whydah.

Type in Ouida in a Google search and click on the Wikipedia link. You will see the listing for this word, and here is what it says. Ouidah, Whydah, Juida and Juda they are all the same name. It is the kingdom of the Israelites.

Wikipedia

> Ouidah (/ˈwiːdə/) or Whydah (/ˈhwɪdə, -ɔː/; Yoruba: Xwéda; Ouidah, Juida, and Juda by the French; Ajudá by the Portuguese; and Fida by the Dutch), formerly the Kingdom of Whydah, is a city on the coast of the Republic of Benin. The commune covers an area of 364 km2 (141 sq mi) and as of 2002 had a population of 76,555 people.

They actually named a slave ship by the name of Whydah, because it picked up slaves from the Kingdom of Judah or Whydah.

Piracy, when it was captured by the pirate Captain Samuel "Black Sam" Bellamy.

It was located right in the region where the Black slaves were stolen and taken to America. Many of us are starting to hear about "The door of No Return." That is because a lot of Black celebrities are visiting that spot in Africa and sharing their experience.

The entire west coast of Africa was full of Israelite slaves, and those are the people that were taken by slave ships to America.

They were called many different names, some of them are, the Mandingoes, the Songhai, Nigerians, the people of Benin, Igbos, Heeboes and more.

We are fully aware that slaves were taken to Brazil, the Caribbean islands, Spain, Europe, and other places. However, our interest is the Black slaves that were brought to America on slave ships because those are our direct ancestors.

The bottom line is there is a ton of evidence that gives us direct proof that we are the children of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. We are the physical children, not the spiritual children of these men.

If all of this does not convince you, I do not know what to tell you. You may be a child of Ham or Japheth; I do not know.

My old Apostolic pastor had a favorite saying, "believe what you believe and doubt what you doubt but never doubt what you believe." We believe what we believe, and that is it, and that is that! That is where we are at with it.

There is a grand misconception of "THE BLACK HEBREW ISRAELITES" in the news right now. They are lumping all Black Hebrew Israelites into one big group, and that does not even make sense.

That is like saying, "The killer was a white man, and he killed ten Black men; therefore, all white men are members of a hate group."

Here are some of the current Google alerts I received.

First of all, Black Hebrew Israelites could NEVER unite enough to become one group. Here is what is funny, Israelites do not even like other Israelites, so they are barely going to like anyone else.

It is just the personality of a people. The same thing happened in the Bible days; Benjamin was against Judah, and Judah was against Ephraim. There are tons of groups that fall under the description of Black Hebrew Israelites.

Here is how I know the media is lying; if they were telling the truth, they would give the exact name of the group these so-called "Black Hebrew Israelite Anti-SemiticTerrorists" belong to.

If you study the different Black Hebrew Israelite groups, you will see they all have different names for God and Jesus. They all have their translations of Hebrew. Here are some of the different names they call him.

Ahayah, that is taken from the Exodus 3:14-(KJV) scripture. They say YHWH is often called the Tetragrammaton YHWH /YAH /YAHAWAH /YAHWEH. There are a lot of different names. Many groups swear that if you do not call God by one of those names, you are not right.

Here is why we do not call God by any of those names. We are aware that the word God and Jesus are not their names either. However, we are going to use the names people are familiar with in our books; we do not want them to think we are calling on a strange God.

In our house, we use the words "The Most High" and His Son, our Messiah, and Savior. That is how we refer to them. God is referred to as the Most High or the Highest in the Bible, dozens of times. So, we feel comfortable using those terms.

Hebrews 7:1-(KJV) For this Melchisedec, king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him;

Daniel 7:25-(KJV) And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time.

*Lamentations 3:35-(KJV) To turn aside the right of a man before the face of the most High,

Mark 5:7-(KJV) And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

Daniel 4:24-(KJV) This is the interpretation, O king, and this isthe decree of the most High, which is come upon my lord the king:

Daniel 5:18-(KJV) O thou king, the most high God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdom, and majesty, and glory, and honour

Lamentations 3:38-(KJV) Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not evil and good?

Acts 16:17-(KJV) The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation.

Acts 7:48-(KJV) Howbeit the most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet,

Psalm 91:1-(KJV) He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

Daniel 4:2-(KJV) I thought it good to shew the signs and wonders that the high God hath wrought toward me.

Deuteronomy 32:8-(KJV) When the most High divided to the nations their inheritance, when he separated the sons of Adam, he set the bounds of the people according to the number of the children of Israel.

*Isaiah 14:14-(KJV) I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the most High.

Genesis 14:22-(KJV) And Abram said to the king of Sodom, I have lift up mine hand unto the LORD, the most high God, the possessor of heaven and earth

Genesis 14:20-(KJV) And blessed be the most high God, which hath delivered thine enemies into thy hand. And he gave him tithes of all.

We believe as the Bible says, that when Christ returns, we will be given new names for both He and His Father.

Revelation 3:12-(KJV) Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

Now, if we were going to call God any name, it would be Israel. Why? Because that is listed in the Bible more clearly than the others.

Here is why I would choose to call God Israel if I were going to pick a specific name. In the Bible, God says, "my people, who are called by my name." We know God's people are called Israelites, because of Jacob, whose name was changed by God to Israel.

If God's people are called Israel, and He says by His name, He calls them, that would make his name Israel. That is my argument. We are not called I Am-ites, or Ahayah-ites or Jehovah-ites, or Yaweh-ites, we are called Israelites.

2 Chronicles 7:14-(KJV) If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.

Isaiah 43:7-(KJV)-Even every one that is called by my name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him; yea, I have made him.

Jeremiah 7:10-(KJV) And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations?

Isaiah 45:4-(KJV) For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name: I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me.

The Bible even tells us why the Israelites would forget God's name and no longer know what it is.

Jeremiah 44:26-(KJV) Therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt; Behold, I have sworn by my great name, saith the LORD, that my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, The Lord GOD liveth.

The city of God and the people of God were both called Israel. The Israelites are people called by God's name. Therefore, it makes sense to me, anyway, that his name would be Israel, not any of those other names.

*Daniel 9:19-(KJV) O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; defer not, for thine own sake, O my God: for thy city and thy people are called by thy name.

Since our people cannot even agree on God's name, it is impossible for the ideology that the police and media are putting out to the public to be valid in any way, shape, or fashion!

It was all an invention of someone's imagination that Black Hebrew Israelites are all one group. There is no such group that even exists in this world.

Black Hebrew Israelite groups do not get along at all! Do you understand what I am saying? No person can be from a single group called "The Black Hebrew Israelites" because no group like that exists in this world.

Did you know that Black Hebrew Israelites have been around for decades? The reason you have never heard of them in many states is because they are generally peaceful people.

There are definitely radical groups that give the term a bad name. Some groups talk about raping white women and children and taking white people into slavery. Yes, these groups are mad crazy. We do not condone any behavior like that, and we never will.

We believe in respecting people and teaching love in the name of Christ.

Like I said before, do not ever EVER let them cause you to believe we are a part of some hate group, terrorist group, or crazy religion because we are not.

We would never commit a crime or kill anyone; we would never hurt anyone. DON'T BELIEVE IT IF THEY TELL YOU THAT!

Jeremiah and I are completely against doing any drugs, recreational or illegal. We do not believe in that if they try to tell you that. Do not let them cause you to believe we are stockpiling weapons for an attack because we are not.

Do not let them cause you to believe we are tied to any terrorist group WE ARE NOT! Do not let them make you believe we are against our Government, because we are not. We are peaceful and private people that mind our own business.

Although, we watch the peaceful Israelite groups' teaching on the web, we are not tied to them or affiliated with them. We watch all kinds of different lessons on the internet.

We watch and study a multitude of religions around the world. That includes Catholic, Christian, Mormon, and Israelite groups. However, we are not connected, nor do we have ties to any Israelite group or any other group. We believe in studying independently.

We watch all kinds of different teachings, not because we agree with them or associate with them. It is because we are interested in knowing what different people are teaching.

We are just ordinary people, I know that it is difficult to believe in today's world, but we are normal people. You know…what people used to be in the 60s and 70s?

We live absolutely boring lives for other people, but we are tremendously happy. I shop at the grocery store, we go out to eat, and we spend time with our grandchildren.

I write books, and Jeremiah watches court shows. We do not watch pornography; we are not into any crazy stuff. We have a healthy regular sex life.

People will be like; I find it hard to believe that you guys are so perfect. We are not perfect by any means. Both Jeremiah and I were what I would call, "messed up" people before we got together.

Neither one of us did drugs or anything; however, Jeremiah had a rough childhood and did not have the best role models. His mother had husbands that were physically abusive and stayed drunk.

They were not only physically abusive to him, but he watched them beat his mother as a little boy. He began to think that was the way marriage worked.

These are the only examples he had growing up to teach him how to be a man. As a child, all Jeremiah wanted was to serve God, get married, and have a family. His brother used to make fun of him all the time for it.

When the first love of Jeremiah's life cheated on him, he decided he was done trying to be faithful and he became a lady's man. He had a temper he had to get under control. Jeremiah had multiple failed marriages.

Even though I had loved God from a young age, I had fallen astray. I used to like to smoke cigarettes and drink all the time; I would say I was on the verge of becoming an alcoholic.

I would party all the time. I also had a horrible temper I needed to get under control because I would fistfight the men I was dating, for pretty much anything.

I was definitely not a very good mother when I was younger. I cared more about me, me, me, and partying. Jeremiah and I both had to grow up and learn a lot about relationships and loving ourselves first.

Neither one of us has a major criminal history or anything like that. I did get into a small amount of trouble as a teen but nothing major. We are good and decent people; there are no hidden secrets.

We are willing to talk about anything from our past or present. That is why I included so much of our personal lives in these books.

I want people to be able to relate to us and understand that we are coming from a place of truth. Anyone that knows us knows we are willing to discuss the good, bad, and ugly about our lives and relationships.

I keep reiterating that because I want to make sure it is clear about who and what we are.

The bottom line is we are the Israelites; we are the physical descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. The land Israel -located within Africa- along the Nile River- is the homeland of our ancestors.

Jesus is our savior, and if we wake up and return to our Most High Father, he will send his son to reclaim His People, PERIOD! End of story!
